Communications from the Mayor, Comptroller, Commissioner of Public Works, and All Other City Officers, Departments and Branches of the City Government.

The Clerk presented the following communication submitted by His Honor, the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CHICAGO, April 8, 1909.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN — Upon reviewing the printed record of the regular meeting of the City Council held on Monday, March 29, 1909, I note that two certain vacation ordinances, one vacating a portion of Front street, published on pages 3637 et seq., and the other vacating a portion of Gardner street, published on pages 3660 et seq., are reported as passed, the vote on each of the ordinances being, yeas 52 and nays 2.

Inasmuch as these ordinances were declared to be passed under misapprehension of the law, the statutes of this State providing that vacation ordinances must receive the affirmative vote of three-fourths majority of all the Aldermen authorized by law to be elected, I herewith return each of them without my approval and respectfully suggest that the printed record of the aforesaid meeting be corrected by striking out the word "passed" appearing in the left-hand column of page 3637 and by striking out the word "passed" appearing in the right-hand column of page 3659, and substituting in lieu of the foregoing word in each of the aforesaid places the word "lost."

I further suggest that inasmuch as these ordinances have been thoroughly considered by the proper committees, that each of them be re-introduced and that they be either passed in the omnibus or subjected to a roll call without re-reference to a committee, if such procedure meets with your pleasure.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) FRED A. BUSSE,
Mayor.

Second. That, within said thirty (30) days, said Illinois Central Railroad Company shall file for record in the office of

The following veto message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CHICAGO, April 12, 1909.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on March 29, 1909, and appearing on page 3564 of the printed Proceedings of the City Council meeting held on that date, the purpose of said ordinance being to grant permission to Charles Svinning to construct a canopy over the sidewalk of 1635 West 35th street.

I return this ordinance without my approval on recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Works, because the name of the grantee as it appears in said ordinance is incorrect and the ordinance contains no clause for the amendment, modification or repeal by the City Council.

When amended to cure the defects named above, there will be no objection to the ordinance.

Respectfully,

(Signed) FRED A. BUSSE,
Mayor.

Ald. McKenna moved to reconsider the vote by which the ordinance referred to in the veto message of His Honor, the Mayor, was passed.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CHICAGO, April 12, 1909.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body, March 29, 1909, appearing on page 3640 of the printed Proceedings of the City Council, of that date, the purpose of said ordinance being to define the duties and powers of the assistant superintendents of streets. I return this ordinance without my approval because it does not state distinctly that the second assistant superintendent of streets shall be under the supervision and direction of the Commissioner of Public Works and leaves him free to act as he may see fit.

I also present herewith an ordinance prepared by the Corporation Counsel to cure this defect and respectfully recommend its passage.

The Commissioner has suggested that the amendment of the ordinance covering the Department of Public Works as indicated above makes it advisable to amend Section 1878 of the Revised Municipal Code of 1905 so that there will be no question as to the Superintendent of Streets being under the superintendence and direction of the Commissioner of Public Works. I transmit herewith an ordinance prepared by the Law Department for the purpose named and respectfully recommend its passage.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) FRED A. BUSSE,
Mayor.

Ald. Foreman presented the following ordinance:

WHEREAS, The viaduct on Ogden avenue over the railroad tracks just west of Western avenue is about to be demolished and a viaduct to be constructed under the said railroad tracks; and,

WHEREAS, Such demolition and construction will prevent the operation by the Chicago Railways Company of its Ogden avenue line on Ogden avenue at this point, and will make it necessary for the said Company to use its 12th street line to connect the portion of its said track lying in said Ogden avenue east of the said point with the portion lying west thereof; and,

WHEREAS, To do so it is necessary that the Company construct a double track street railroad on South Washtenaw avenue from its intersection with 12th street to its intersection with Ogden avenue, with such curves as may be necessary to connect the said line so laid in said South Washtenaw avenue with the said line in 12th street and the said line in Ogden avenue; now, therefore,

The tracks hereby authorized in said Washtenaw avenue shall be laid so that the top of the rails shall be flush with the upper surface of the pavement in said street, and be constructed with what are commonly called "T" rails, on wooden ties, the curves so connecting with the lines in Ogden avenue and 12th street as aforesaid, and the portion of the tracks so laid in said Ogden avenue and 12th street to be set in the street so as not to impede traffic at these points.

The said Chicago Railways Company shall fill, grade, sweep, sprinkle and keep clean the streets or parts of streets occupied by the railway herein authorized to be constructed and maintained in a manner satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 2. The permission and authority hereby granted shall continue until the completion of the viaduct under the said railroad tracks and of the construction of the tracks of the said company in said viaduct, and immediately after such construction of the said tracks in the said viaduct, the said company shall remove the tracks herein authorized to be laid in the said South Washtenaw avenue, together with the said curves hereby authorized, and shall place the pavement of the portion of said South Washtenaw avenue, Ogden avenue and 12th street occupied by said temporary tracks and curves, in as good condition as before the laying of said tracks and curves, and in a manner satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works.

If said railway company shall not remove the said tracks and restore said streets as hereinbefore provided, then the Commissioner of Public Works shall cause written notice to be served upon said company directing it to perform said work, and upon the failure of the company to comply with the terms of said notice within sixty (60) days from the date thereof, the City of Chicago may remove said tracks and restore said streets and charge the expense thereof to said railway company, which expense said railway company hereby expressly agrees to pay.

SECTION 4. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and its acceptance by the said company, provided, however, that if such acceptance shall not be filed with the City Clerk of the City of Chicago within thirty days after the passage hereof, then all the rights, privileges and franchises herein granted shall forever cease and determine, and this ordinance shall be void and of no effect.

Resolved, That the rules of the last Council be and the same are hereby adopted as the rules of this Council.

The following are the said rules as adopted:

Meetings of the City Council.

RULE 1. Regular meetings of the City Council shall be held every Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, unless otherwise ordered at a regular meeting. Special meetings may be held at any time, on call of the Mayor, or any three or more Aldermen; such call shall be in writing, duly signed, and shall be presented to the Clerk, who shall proceed immediately to prepare notices of the same, and shall cause them to be served on the members of the Council, in the usual manner; such notices shall describe, in brief, the nature or objects of the call.

At every special meeting the call for the same shall be read and afterward filed by the Clerk; and no business, other than that proposed by the call, shall be in order at such meeting.

Order of Business.

RULE 2. At the hour appointed for the meeting, the Clerk (or some one appointed to fill his place) shall proceed to call the roll of members, mark the absentees, and announce whether a quorum (i. e., a majority of all the members elected) be present. Upon the appearance of a quorum, the Council shall be called to order, the presiding officer taking the chair, if present, and the Council appointing a temporary Chairman, if he should be absent. If a quorum do not appear, the Council shall not thereby stand adjourned unless by a vote of the members present. When a quorum is present the Council shall proceed to the business before it, which shall be conducted in the following order:

1. The reading of the minutes of the proceedings of the last meeting or meetings, amendment and approval of the same, unless dispensed with by the Council.

2. Reports of city officers.

3. Presentation of petitions, communications, resolutions and ordinances.

4. Unfinished business of preceding meetings.

5. Reports of standing committees.

6. Reports of select committees.

7. Miscellaneous business.

RULE 3. All questions relating to the priority of business shall be decided by the Chair, without debate, subject to appeal.

Duties and Privileges of President.

RULE 4. The presiding officer shall preserve order and decorum, and may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the City Council, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without the unanimous consent of the Council.

RULE 5. While the presiding officer is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the Council room.

RULE 6. Every member, previous to his speaking, making a motion or seconding the same, shall rise from his seat and address himself to the presiding officer, and say, "Mr. President," but shall not proceed with his remarks until recognized and named by the Chair.

RULE 7. When two or more members rise at once, the presiding officer shall name the member who is first to speak.

RULE 8. During the session of the Council, only city officers, ex-aldermen and persons connected with the press shall be admitted within the bar of the City Council Chamber, unless upon invitation of the Chairman. Lobbying shall not be permitted.

RULE 9. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct, the presiding officer shall have the power to require the Chamber to be cleared if necessary.

RULE 12. No member, without leave of the Council, shall speak more than once upon the same subject, until every member desirous of speaking shall have spoken; and no member shall speak longer than five minutes at any one time, except by consent of the Council.

RULE 13. A member called to order by the Chair shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain. If there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall be conclusive; but if the member appeal from the decision of the Chair, the Council shall decide on the case.

RULE 14. While a member is speaking, no member shall hold any private discourse, nor pass between the speaker and the Chair.

RULE 15. Every member who shall be present when a question is stated from the Chair shall vote thereon, unless excused by the Council, or unless he is directly interested in the question, in which case he shall not vote.

RULE 16. No member shall be allowed to leave the Council while in session, unless excused by the presiding officer; and for attempting to do so, or for persistent violation of any other rule or order, may be restrained, or otherwise dealt with as the President of the Council may direct.

Motions and Resolutions.

RULE 17. Any matter before the Council may be set down as a special order of business at a time certain, if two-thirds of the Aldermen present vote in the affirmative, but not otherwise.

RULE 18. No motion shall be put or debated unless it be seconded. When a motion is seconded, it shall be stated by the presiding officer before debate, and every such motion shall be reduced to writing, if required by a member, and the proposer of the motion shall be entitled to the floor.

RULE 19. After a motion or resolution is stated by the presiding officer, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Council, but may be withdrawn at any time before decision or amendment, by consent of the Council.

RULE 20. If the question under consideration contains several distinct propositions, any member may have the same divided when the sense admits of it.

RULE 21. In all cases where a resolution or motion is entered on the minutes of the Council, the name of the member moving the same shall be entered also.

Taking and Entering Vote.

RULE 22. If any member require it, the yeas and nays upon any question shall be taken and entered on the minutes; but the yeas and nays shall not be taken unless called for previous to any vote on the question.

RULE 23. The result of all votes by yeas and nays shall not be announced by the Clerk, but shall be handed by him to the Chairman for announcement, and no vote shall be changed after the tally list has passed from the hands of the Clerk.

Precedence of Questions.

RULE 24. When a blank is to be filled, and different sums or times proposed, the question shall be taken first on the lesser sum or the longest time.

RULE 25. When the question is under debate, the only motion in order shall be: 1, to adjourn to a day certain; 2, to adjourn; 3, to lay on the table; 4, the previous question; 5, to refer; 6, to amend; 7, to substitute; 8. to postpone indefinitely or to a day certain. RULE 28. The Council, between the second Monday in July and the second Monday in September, may adjourn over one or more regular meetings, on a vote of a majority of all the Aldermen authorized by law to be elected.

RULE 29. When the previous question is moved and seconded it shall be put in this form: "Shall the main question now be put;" If this is carried, all further amendments and all further motions and debates shall be excluded, and the question put without delay, upon the pending amendments in proper order, and then upon the main question.

To Lay on the Table.

RULE 30. A motion to simply lay a question on the table is not debatable; but a motion to lay on the table and publish, or any other condition, is subject to amendment and debate.

A motion to take a subject matter from the table may be proposed at the same meeting, provided two-thirds of the Aldermen present vote therefor.

Indefinite Postponement.

RULE 32. When a motion is postponed indefinitely, it shall not be again taken up at the same meeting.

To Refer.

RULE 34. A motion to amend an amendment shall be in order, but one to amend an amendment to an amendment shall not be entertained.

RULE 35. An amendment modifying the intention of a motion shall be in order; but an amendment relating to a different subject shall not be in order.

RULE 36. On an amendment to "strike out and insert," the paragraph to be amended shall first be read as it stands, then the words proposed to be stricken out, and those to be inserted, and, finally, the paragraph as it will stand if so amended shall be read.

To Substitute.

RULE 37. A substitute for any original proposition in debate may be entertained when further amendment is not admissible; and if accepted by the mover of such original proposition, or by the Council by vote, it shall entirely supersede such original proposition, and cut off all amendments appertaining thereto.

Reconsideration.

RULE 38. A vote or question may be reconsidered at any time during the same meeting, or at the first regular meeting held thereafter. A motion for reconsideration being once made, and decided in the negative, shall not be renewed, nor shall a vote to reconsider be reconsidered.

RULE 39. A motion to reconsider must be made and seconded by members who voted in the majority, unless otherwise provided in the charter; provided, however, that where a motion is lost by reason of not receiving a two-thirds vote required for its passage, a motion to reconsider may be made and seconded by those voting in the minority.

Precedence of Business.

RULE 40. Koraleski presented a resolution directing the Corporation Counsel to proceed at once to use the necessary means to collect any and all back taxes which might be due the City from the estate of N. K. Fairbank, deceased, and from all other persons, corporations and estates that have avoided the just payment of taxes, which was, on motion of Ald. Snow,

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

By unanimous consent Ald. Nolan and Ryan presented an order for paving with brick West Madison street, from 40th avenue to 46th avenue, which was Referred to the Board of Local Improvements.

By unanimous consent Ald. Capp presented an ordinance permitting the Northwest Land Association to install gravel concrete combined curb and gutter and limestone macadam pavements upon certain streets lying between Lawrence avenue and Montrose avenue, and between Western avenue and Rockwell street, which was Referred to the Board of Local Improvements.

The Clerk presented the following communication submitted by His Honor, the Mayor:

The said message reads as follows:

CHICAGO, April 12, 1909.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—In presenting herewith my second annual message to the City Council I desire to reiterate and emphasize what I said in my first annual message as to the harmony existing between the legislative and executive branches of the municipal government. The results have been, I believe, highly profitable to the citizens and taxpayers of Chicago. More can be accomplished for the public good by one year of team work than by ten years of maneuvering and cross-firing to secure personal advantage for an individual or a faction.

In my first annual message to your honorable body I said: "It has been a fashion in Mayor's messages to discuss at length the city's unsatisfactory financial condition; that seems to me like threshing over old straw. We all know how the city is hampered by limited borrowing power and inequitable division of the tax levy. Apparently all we can do is to make the best of what we have and push on for legislative relief." I desire to repeat and emphasize that statement of the situation. The city's unfortunate financial situation, due entirely to causes over which the municipal government has absolutely no control, ought to be so clear to the most superficial observer of local conditions as to render further discussion of the subject unnecessary. But inasmuch as there seems to be a disposition in some quarters—whether born of well-intentioned ignorance or of wilful intent to misrepresent, does not matter,—to blame the city's lack of financial resources upon lax administration or undue increase of expenditure, it is in order to point out a few salient facts bearing upon this subject.

In the first place, there is absolutely no excuse for the careless, if not malicious speaking and writing which has a tendency to spread broadcast the impression that the City of Chicago is bankrupt or nearly so. Nothing could be further from the truth. The City of Chicago has come up to its present standing as the second largest city and one of the best governed cities in America, with the expenditure of less money and with the creation of less debt in proportion to its population, area and property value than any other large city in this country. Chicago's bonded debt is only a little more than one-third that of Philadelphia and only about one-quarter that of Boston. The City of New York pays annually in interest on bonded debt a sum practically the same as the total bonded debt of Chicago. This city is rich instead of bankrupt, but like many a rich individual it lacks available cash for its running expenses because it does not receive its fair share of the revenue raised by taxation on the property within its limits.

Most citizens probably have an impression that increased taxation is always chargeable to the municipal government and that the greater portion of the taxes they pay goes to the city. Of course the contrary is the case. Out of every $100 of taxes assessed in 1907 and collected in 1908, the City of Chicago received only $28.83. And this small portion included the taxes for support of the public library. The remaining $71.17 out of each $100 was distributed as follows:

To the state	$ 6.80
To the county	10.61
To the parks	11.35
To the sanitary district	6.40
To the schools	35.50
Miscellaneous	.51

Less than one-half the income of the municipality is from taxes. The remainder comes from licenses, etc. If the citizens could give the time to acquaint themselves with the many and varied functions which the city is called upon to perform in comparison with those of other taxing bodies which share in the revenues collected within the city limits, they would realize the disproportion of the duties with the income. I would not be understood as advocating nor do I believe that taxes should be levied without limit, but I do feel that Chicago should be made an up-to-date city in every respect and that sufficient revenue should be provided to bring about that result along economical and conservative lines. The permanent improvements should be provided for by bond issues and maintained and operated either by a proper assessment of property or the modification of the revenue laws so that the city shall have a dependable income for that purpose.

Chicago's financial requirements and its expenditures have increased greatly in the past few years. If expenditures had not increased, this city, instead of being a reasonably well-kept city in its physical aspect would not be fit to live in. Requirements and expenditures have increased because the city has been growing and because it has been necessary, if we were not to let our city fall into a shameful physical condition, to keep pace with the times by adopting modern methods, furnishing the public additional service in matters of public health, safety, comfort and convenience, in renewing bridges and other public works necessitated by decay, changes in conditions and demands of a metropolitan city. And the increased expenditure has been a good investment in every instance, producing increased efficiency and better conditions in every department of municipal activity where there has been increased expenditure. I shall not undertake here to go into minute details of municipal service and expenditure. Both the skeptical and the seekers of exact information on this subject can find these details down to the smallest fraction in the reports of the various departments. By way of illustration, however, I shall take this opportunity to call attention to certain conspicuous cases of increased expenditure and the perfectly obvious reasons therefor.

During the past four years in response to a public demand for a larger police force, this demand arising from extended growth of the city and apprehension of the people in the matter of public safety, additional patrolmen have been provided, new police stations have been constructed and old ones repaired and the mounted police have been made a reality, all of which demand in conjunction with the automatic increase in the salaries of new patrolmen as they pass from grade to grade in point of service, has increased the cost of maintaining the police department approximately $2,000,000. In the fire department, protection to the growing sections of the city, the renewal of worn out and antiquated apparatus, the building of new engine houses and rehabilitation of old ones, has increased the annual expenditure of this department in four years approximately $1,100,000 or about 40 per cent. And although more work and improvement has been accomplished in these respects than for twenty years prior, the necessities have only been partially supplied.

The street and sewer bureaus of the department of public works have spent about $2,000,000 more than four years ago and, as a reason for it, have improved their services in marked degree and have taken on and performed additional duties. Sewers have been cleaned where filth was formerly permitted to accumulate. Great extensions of the sewer system have been made necessitating the maintenance of new pumping stations and the burden of this maintenance has fallen on the city through the bureau of sewers. The condition of the streets as compared with former years in the matter of cleaning and repairs is apparent. During 1908 a total of 75,525 miles of streets and alleys were cleaned, greater mileage cleaned than ever before known in the history of Chicago; and the cost of this cleaning in 1908 was approximately $2.60 per mile less than in 1907. The improved condition has been such that the thought of reducing the appropriation for this purpose would be and ought to be strenuously opposed by the council and the citizens. The installation and the maintenance of an up-to-date garbage and refuse collection and disposal system has necessitated a considerable part of this increase and the idea of going back to the former disease-breeding conditions is not to be thought of. A part of the increased cost of these bureaus in the department of public works is attributable also to the fact that since April, 1907, pursuant to Council action before that date, the wages of laborers have been $2.00 and $2.25 a day instead of $1.50 and $1.75 a day as formerly and the pay of teams has been $5.00 a day instead of $4.50. In the Department of Public Works also the placing of bridgetenders under Civil Service in 1907 increased the number from 48 to 157, and increased the salary charge against the operation of bridges $3,424 a month or a total of $41,088 a year. The absolute necessity for the building of bascule bridges to replace center pier bridges, many of them falling into the river, has placed a heavy burden on the city and has required every available dollar to make even a beginning, and there is no hope of completing this important work until the borrowing power of the city is increased.

In Mayors' messages for ten years back one finds the statement made repeatedly that police stations and the firemen's quarters were a disgrace to the community; that the streets must be kept clean; that garbage must be collected and disposed of and so on. This administration is proud of the fact that during the past two years those police stations have been converted from a disgrace into a credit to the community, that fire engine houses have been made decently comfortable, that an efficient system of garbage collection and disposal has been put into effect, and that streets have been cleaned as never before. The increased expenditure thus necessitated has been a good investment for the people.

With the increased demands for street improvements the expense of maintaining the Board of Local Improvements, which is borne by the city, has increased as the volume of the business has increased, and the additional cost of paying public benefits has been another tax upon the city's resources.

The expenditures of the Electrical Department have grown materially, due partially to the cost of additional construction and partially to added maintenance, by reason of the enlarged system of municipal lighting; but while the number of lamps in service has increased 78.20 per cent in five years the number of employes in the street lighting service has increased only 36.04 per cent. The average number of lamps operated per employe were 49.01 in 1908 as against 37.42 in 1903, and the average cost in salaries per lamp in the electrical lighting service was $22.54 in 1908 as against $24.06 in 1903. In the electrical inspection division of the Department of Electricity we find that while the number of men employed has increased and therefore the amount paid in salaries has increased actually, it has not increased relatively in proportion to the work done because proportionately more work and better work is now done than in the years when the expenditure was less. In 1903 the number of inspections per man was only 1,143, and in 1908 the number of inspections per man was 2,364, and the amount earned for the department per man in this inspection service was doubled in five years.

The expenditure for salaries in the Law Department has increased on the face of things but the increase is more apparent than real when the facts are analyzed. Since 1905 the lawyers employed on special assessment work have been carried on the pay roll of the corporation counsel's office; before that they were on the roll of the Board of Local Improvements. Until this administration came into office large sums of money were paid out for the employment of special counsel. The corporation counsel's office is now doing more work than was ever done in the history of that office, and the cost of it appears substantially the same as the cost in 1905 and the years following, when the sums expended for special counsel in those years are figured in with the regular pay roll. In the City Attorney's office, branch of the Law Department, the number of men employed doubled from 1903 to 1908, and the amount paid in salaries increased from $48,861.00 to $122,497.00 or an increase of $73,636.00; but the judgments against the city in 1903 amounted to $816,700 and in 1908 they amounted to only $145,531.00. I think it was good business to have spent $73,000 more on good lawyers to save $671,000 in judgments.

The Health Department, which has accomplished such remarkable results in the matter of preventing and controlling disease, in the establishment of the contagious disease hospital, the inspection of milk and food, inspection of plumbing and so on, expends about $270,000 more now than it did four years ago. To offset this increased expenditure, we have these facts: The decrease in the death rate to 11.40 the lowest in the city's history, and the lowest in the large cities of this country; a reduction of the diseases due to bad air by the improvement of factory and work shop conditions so that in 1908, deaths from pneumonia were 1,298 less than 1907, and from pulmonary tuberculosis 132 less; a reduction of 12 per cent in the number of deaths from typhoid fever; a more thorough control of contagious diseases and generally speaking, improved efficiency which has placed the Health Department of the City of Chicago where it never was before in the city's history—absolutely at the head of all municipal health departments.

In short the growth of Chicago and the adoption of advanced ideas in respect to governmental and business affairs of the city have required additional expenditure to pay for such improved conditions. Chicago has barely been able to meet the expenses of old methods and it will be apparent to any one who will give thought to the subject, that the ideal condition cannot be brought about without the money with which to pay the bills.

The increased expenditures in the departments referred to, approximate $7,000,000.00, but who would wish to curtail the expenditure or cripple any of the departments named whose work has been so beneficial and vital to the best interests of the citizens?

Unfortunately for carrying forward the work so well started of making Chicago an up-to-date city, we shall have less money during the current year than we had last year. This phase of the question concerns all of us—members of the City Council, as well as Executive and Administrative Officers of the city government.

We face this shortage not because we over-spent our resources last year or drew on future income or committed any other offense against good business policy; but we face it because we have been deprived of resources which we had a right to expect would be ours. Last year was the year for the quadrennial revaluation of all real property by the Assessing Boards. We had a right to expect that the total assessed valuation of property in this growing and prosperous city would show a natural handsome increase which would add something both to the city's share of the tax levy and to its bonding power. On the contrary, the Board of Review reduced valuations, working a slight reduction in the city's share of the tax levy and leaving us with power to issue $3,000,000 less of bonds than we issued last year, to help pay for permanent improvements. At another time, I may have something to say as to the ways and means of protecting the city against a repetition of such unexpected reduction in its revenues, but nothing we might do would help us this year. We must meet the present situation as it is.

In the face of this decreased revenue, we have all shared in the responsibility of passing an annual budget which carries appropriations for more than a million dollars in excess of our prospective revenue. To spend up to the limit of this overappropriation and so end the fiscal year with a floating debt hanging over us is not to be thought of. The only course for all of us is to hold expenditures in the various departments and for the various purposes named in the appropriation bill, so far below the amounts appropriated as will enable us to end the year with a clean set of books, free of red ink entries on the wrong side of the ledger. It is a hard task, but it can be achieved if we approach it open-eyed and determine to achieve it. I have already impressed upon all department heads the imperative necessity of this course and I am assured of their co-operation. I here and now ask the co-operation of your honorable body through the work of your various committees and through your legislative functions in helping to secure this result—the checking of expenditure at every possible point, so that our financial outgo may be held sufficiently below the face of the appropriation bill to keep the total of expenditure well within our resources.

This task of paring down expenditures is made especially difficult by the fact that so large a proportion of our total expenditure has to go for salaries. Approximately $14,500,000 out of $21,000,000 is so spent. The salary account undoubtedly covers some waste; some of it is due to duplication of work on books and records in various departments; some of it to the employment of a multitude of "inspectors" of various kinds, each of whom specializes in one particular kind of "inspection" when he could probably take on the "inspection" tasks of two or three other "specialists" without being overworked. The uncovering and eliminating of all of this waste is no easy task, to be accomplished in an hour. The system responsible for it is the product of years and years of slow growth, becoming stronger all the time as well made concrete hardens with age, and it will take much moral and mental dynamite to break it up.

Some of this waste will be uncovered and eliminated it is hoped by the regrading of the employes in the classified service, which has already been undertaken and which I regard as the most important step toward eliminating favoritism and putting the Civil Service on a sound basis, thta has ever been taken in Chicago. Certain other measures for the elimination of duplication and waste are under consideration and it is hoped will be worked out in the near future. Some saving can be made, too, by refraining from filling vacancies which occur in the classified service from time to time as employees drop out to enter other employment. Few city employes are overworked and the duties of those who drop out can in most cases be assumed by those who remain without overburdening them. For the elimination of waste and reduction of expenditures by all of these and other means I respectfully bespeak the co-operation of your Honorable Body.

Improved methods of doing business in the city hall make it easier than ever before, I believe, to practice the economy due to our shortened income, without impairing the efficiency of municipal service. By reason of better system and more businesslike administration practically every department of the municipal government can now do and henceworth will do better work at the same cost than it could have done two or three years ago. Some of these improvements in municipal administration are worthy of special mention.

The immense Department of Public Works, embracing the important bureaus of water, streets, sewers, bridges, engineering, water pipe extension, etc., formerly was probably as loosely managed as any department in the municipal government ever was. It is greatly to the credit of the present head of that department that nearly every bureau under him has been reorganized and business-like methods have been installed. He is, for example, requiring accurate records to be kept of all work done by corporations, firms and individuals which necessitate a permit from the Department of Public Works, which records shows exactly the character and extent of work authorized by the city. Such a system rigidly followed in the past, would have made impossible such disputes, for example, as the recent one concerning Front street.

In the Water Bureau inefficient employes have been weeded out and a system installed which not only keeps employes up to the mark in their daily duties, but also prevents the loss of city property by carelessness and theft. During the year, reassessment of water rates by this bureau brought in additional revenue amount to $289,517. The bureau also examined during the year 3,281 meters on private premises, and tests showed a loss of revenue to the city of 20 per cent on account of defective meters. Before the present system was inaugurated, defective meters used to be removed and water bills were estimated while meters were being repaired —a careless and vicious method. As an example of how much more work can be done by the same number of men where offices are conducted in a business-like manner this bureau made 38,812 more inspections in the water assessor's division in 1908 than were made in 1907; approximately the same amount of work was done in the shut-off division in 1908 as in 1907 with ten less men. The Bureau of Streets is preparing to inaugurate this year the removal of street dirt and miscellaneous waste and ashes by means of street railway, cars, loading stations being constructed at convenient locations, which will be a great improvement over old methods and will cost less. Flushing machines for cleaning asphalt streets and some other pavements, with water under pressure will also be inaugurated this year. The bureau of water pipe extension has effected a substantial saving by installing switch tracks in city yards, making it possible for the city to buy coal f. o. b. cars and unload it with yard men. The Bureau of Engineering, by water surveys and prompt measures to repair leaky fixtures and stop leaky mains, has effected a daily saving of about ten millions of gallons of water.

It is perhaps unnecessary to say more than I have already said about the work of the Health Department. I cannot refrain, however, from suggesting that this department, in the work done to promote public and private cleanliness and to prevent the sale of unclean meat, milk and dairy products of all kinds, and in its efforts to safeguard the food supply of the city by insisting that the products of producers who will not comply with health regulations be barred from this market, have set absolutely a new standard for the municipalities of this country.

The Fire and Police Departments have in 1908 improved upon the start made toward higher efficiency in 1907. The Fire Department equipment has been standardized and fire engine houses have been made habitable. The policy of picking men for promotion according to their desire and ability to perform service for the city has worked an absolute revolution in the department, so that now the ambitious men in the department ask for assignment in the zones of most work, whereas in other days the rule was to look for an easy berth in companies with few calls to action. Similar improvement is to be noted in the Police Department. It would seem reasonable to infer that increased police efficiency is in some degree responsible for the fact that three hundred fewer persons were imprisoned in the House of Correction during the month of February, 1908, than in the same month of 1907, and that the insurance companies, according to the daily papers, contemplate reducing burglary insurance rates.

The Building Department is co-operating with a committee of your Honorable Body in a systematic revision of the building ordinances, so that the conflicts and obscurities of the present code which caused constant friction between the citizen and the city authorities may be eliminated. In conjunction with the Fire Department the Building Department has also during the year compiled a complete set of requirements for the five-cent theaters which have been springing up in such numbers. The co-operation of the Sanitary Bureau of the Health Department in the issuance of permits for new buildings has immeasurably facilitated the transaction of this class of business.

The Department of Track Elevation is to be complimented on having procured an agreement which means the speedy elevation of all tracks at Grand Crossing, which will be the most difficult piece of track elevation work yet undertaken and which has been hanging fire for years. The department has also, for the first time in its history compiled all the ordinances for track elevation, together with amendments and a complete set of maps which makes the records of the city in this respect complete.

The Board of Local Improvements is able to point with pride to the fact that the average price per square foot for cement sidewalks laid under city contracts was lower in 1908 than in any year since the present sidewalk ordinance specifications went into effect. The Board has also changed the method of receiving bids on contracts, with a view to securing greater secrecy which has led to more open and strenuous competition so that now we find contracts being let at prices from 15 to 25 per cent under what they were two years ago.

The Law Department has systematized this work and established a trial bureau so that the various assistants in that department do not have cases in various courts on the same day, all of which facilitates the settlement of cases and the handling of business. It has also undertaken the compilation of the special and general ordinances. The special ordinances have not been republished since 1898, and the general ordinances since 1905, and these ordinances have been modified so materially in the years gone by that not only the City Law Department, but the judges of the Municipal Court experience great difficulty in determining what the law is, all of which will be cured by the work now going on.

The Department for the Inspection of Steam Boilers, steam and cooling plants has progressed from the mere inspection of boilers and vessels under pressure to a department equipped to advise with and instruct owners, users and operators of steam and cooling plants in the installation as well as the regulation of all types of power plants. The application of intelligence and expert knowledge in this department has been so beneficial that under the present administration this department has cleaned up all disputed claims and adjusted all misunderstandings and all fees have been paid without one lawsuit, it having been unnecessary during the past year to take anybody into court.

The Department of Weights and Measures has practically stopped short-weighting in the groceries and butcher shops, has checked and eventually will eliminate short weights in coal and kindred commodities and has required milk sellers to sell full measure.

The City Collector, in co-operation with the City Comptroller, has been instrumental in securing legislation changing the license period for many kinds of licensed business, so that hereafter there will be some income for the city around the first of January when the practice has been to meet the pay roll only partly and to pay no bills because there was no available cash. The City Collector has also been instrumental in securing legislation which it is believed will materially improve the method of collecting licenses will serve the convenience better than ever before of those who must come to the City Hall to take out licenses and which will by systematic checking up and notification of persons required to take out licenses in the long run materially increase the city's revenue from this source.

The Department of Finance under the City Comptroller is entitled to a large measure of credit for the improvement in methods of doing business in the City Hall. It has also put the city's credit higher than it ever was. During the year city judgments sold at par for the first time in the history of the City of Chicago. The market for special assessment bonds has advanced nearly ten points. By calling for special assessment bonds and vouchers monthly before maturity instead of once a year as formerly, the defaulting of interest is obviated and an annual saving of $100,000 has been effected. Notification of delinquent licensees brought about $25,000 in 1908 that otherwise might have been lost. The cost of transportation for city employees was cut $18,000 in the year. Bills have been discounted for the first time in the history of the city, and anticipation tax revenue warrants have been sold to draw 4 per cent instead of 5 per cent interest as always heretofore. The reduced rate of interest on tax warrants, the higher market value of special assessment bonds, city judgments, etc., also emphasizes the point made earlier in this communication, that the City of Chicago is far from being bankrupt, that while it lacks the cash resources it ought to have its financial condition is sound and that the effort to do business on a business basis is recognized by the financial interests of the community.

It is gratifying to be able to state that the Board of Education has eliminated its deficit. It has placed the finances of the schools upon a sound basis. It has greatly lessened the influence of professional meddlers in the affairs of the schools, and has established business methods in handling them. It has eliminated the practice of buying school sites on one set of recommendations and then a little later discarding them as unfit for school purposes. The board is unhampered by any demands of a political character and is at last free to handle its affairs in a business-like manner.

It is gratifying to note also that the public library under this administration has been brought closer to the people than it ever has been since it was established. For example, the number of branch reading rooms has been increased from nine to eighteen and the number of delivery stations from sixty to ninety-one. Branch libraries have been established in public schools and reading rooms have been established in all the parks and play grounds. The library itself, the branch reading rooms and the delivery stations have been opened to the public evenings. A lecture hall has been opened for public lectures, free to all on hygiene, medicine and kindred subjects. More money has been devoted to educational work and literature than ever before and the circulation of books for the last fiscal year was increased 200,000 volumes over the preceding year.

In spite of the xcellent work done last year by the surface street car companies in rehabilitation of their lines and the plans made for this year which will practically complete all rehabilitation called for under the traction ordinances passed in February, 1907, the traction problem is still with us and unsolved in some of its most important phases. I cannot refrain from saying here, as I have said before, that the ultimate solution of the traction problem must come through consolidation of the existing traction companies and the operation of their lines as one complete system. In no other way can we get rid of the friction that hampers the service and prevents proper co-ordination of transportation routes and that raises from time to time such vexatious questions as the proposition to put a third track in State street south of Madison street. I believe, too, that none of us can better serve the interests of the people of Chicago than by doing everything that lies within our power to bring about the unification of our transportation service at the earliest possible moment. The need of unification appeals to me with particular force in its relation to the project of building transportation subways. I firmly believe we should have, if possible, such unification before we undertake to build subways.

It seems clear to me that the construction of subways with ownership and operation of our traction service split up as it is, would simply add another complicating element to a situation already complicated. When we have unified operation of our local transportation, then subways can be planned which will accurately fit into and supplement that local transportation service. By this means underground ways can be made a public utility adapted to present needs and easily capable of expansion to meet future needs.

The preliminary work looking toward construction of subways which was carried on during the year by co-operation between your committee on local transportation and the Department of Public Works, the results of which preliminary survey is incorporated in the report made a few weeks ago, has been, I believe, one of the most important pieces of work undertaken during this administration. It would have been the worst sort of business judgment to have undertaken as we were urged to undertake, the definite planning of transportation subways without having that preliminary survey made. The result of that survey, as embodied in its report, forms the best answer that could be made to those who have been advocating the immediate construction of subways, as though it were a simple matter of digging a trench in the streets and putting a roof over it. Now when we get to the point of taking up subway construction we shall have before us full information as to the difficulties with which we must contend and the purposes which must be served.

In consequence of the admirable and complete report made by the Harbor Commission covering all phases of Chicago's water front problems and possibilities, many important questions affecting our harbor situation will undoubtedly come before your Honorable Body during the current year. The city obviously is in no position to undertake this year harbor development on its own resources. Because of this condition many ambitious schemes are likely to be put forth by private interests looking toward the utilization of our harbor facilities for private profit. It will be necessary to go slow is handling these questions, should they be presented to us, to the end that we may not give away the city's rights for the future in our eagerness to secure immediate harbor improvement.

I desire to suggest further that in dealing with harbor questions the importance of creating commercial utilities be not permitted to obscure completely the importance of amusement utilities. In connection with outer harbor development particularly, if such should be undertaken, the needs of residents of congested districts, who have all too little access to the lake front should be met with provision for recreation piers or in such other way as may be determined.

The electrification of railroad terminals remains an important and unsolved problem. We have not been standing still, but we have not made as much progress as many of us would like. We are in about the same position in relation to this problem as we are to that of harbor development and subway construction. The report made last fall by the commission which was studying this subject was one which had to be made before we could approach the problem intelligently and it covered the ground most admirably. Without the information condensed in that report, we would have been in no position to take up the question of electrification with the railroads on a practical basis. In consequence of securing that information, we have one railroad committed to the policy of electrification and a way will be found it is hoped to advance beyond the stage of discussion in the near future. Legislation pending in Springfield intended to give cities specific authority to require electrification of railroad terminals as it has required elevation of tracks, will if passed, assist the city in its solution of this problem.

Construction of the new City Hall has progressed in a manner that should be satisfactory to the citizens as well as to the officials of the city. The rapid and effective manner in which the old City Hall was wrecked and the foundations for the new building were put in (this work having been completed nearly a month ahead of the date scheduled for it) has justified the city officials responsible for overseeing this work in their insistence upon letting the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and there is every reason to believe that the construction of the building itself will go forward with equal celerity.

The erection of the proposed Central Police Station building at Madison street and the river with accommodations therein for the larger police courts is a work that should be pushed at the earliest possible date. Erection of this building and completion of the new City Hall, in which the municipal court is to to be housed, will materially increase the efficiency of the Municipal Court which already fills so large a place in this community.

In conclusion I desire to say that while perfection has by no means been reached in the exaction of the fullest and best degree of service from city employes for the money expended, the year has been on the whole, reasonably satisfactory. No instances of pay roll stuffing have been developed and no serious complaint has been made that employes are not doing their work. The absence of specific complaint gives reasonable assurance that serious reason for complaint is also absent. The improvement already effected in getting results commensurate with the money expended encourages one to believe that still further improvement can be made if we keep on trying to do the best we can for the people whose interests we are here to serve.

(Signed) FRED A. BUSSE,
Mayor.

Placed on file.

CITY TREASURER.

The Clerk presented a communication from John E. Traeger, retiring City Treasurer, which was, on motion of Ald. Snow, ordered published and placed on file:

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Aldermen in City Council Assembled:

GENTLEMEN—I have this day filed my final report as City Treasurer. As this period ends my connection with the office which I have held for two years, I may be pardoned in making this statement of some of the leading incidents of my administration.

The office of City Treasurer has during my administration handled more money than ever before in the history of the city. The ever increasing wealth and influence of our city will make the office of Treasurer from time to time of even greater importance. The volume of money passing through this office is second in amount in the United States. During my term of office we have in moneys collected and in moneys disbursed handled more than three hundred million dollars. This fund has been collected and disbursed by my assistants without the loss of a single dollar. No money has ever been "charged off" from the books of my office by reason of any incompetency, carelessness, or shortage of any one connected therewith, a record which challenges comparison with that of any other financial institution.

INTEREST.

The vast amount of money subject to the order of the Treasurer has always excited inquiry into the question of interest. Statutes have been enacted upon this subject which, however, owing to their newness have not covered every feature of the system. Upon my advent into the office the new statute was given its first test. I took the position at the outset, that although the law did not cover certain features of my office, still that the spirit of the law commanded that all interest, no matter how realized, should be the property of the City of Chicago, or of the proper fund. I have always taken the position that a promise to turn over all interest went with my election at the hands of the people. A large amount of interest is outside of the operation of the law, and lawfully the property of the City Treasurer in the opinion of my counsel. I assert unqualifiedly however, that every item of interest, no matter how earned during my administration, has been credited to the city or to the proper fund, and that I have received no profit other than the regular salary of my office.

Among other special funds over which the Treasurer is custodian and which the law seems to entitle him to the interest upon I note in particular the Firemen's Pension Fund. On this account I have credited to this fund an item of $11,442.23 interest. I am honored to have been the recipient at the hands of the trustees of this fund of a resolution of January 14th, 1909, in the following language:

"Resolved, That the thanks of the Board be extended to the City Treasurer, Mr. Traeger, for his comprehensive report and for the $3,640.03, interest on the deposit of pension funds from April 16th to December 31st, 1907, turned into the fund by him, it being the first instance in which a City Treasurer showed a deposit of such interest to the credit of the pension fund."

When I came into the office the awards for the keeping of the public funds for the ensuing term had already been made to the highest bidders, as was by the Legislature prescribed. The city moneys were thus deposited in the banks at the rate of about 2½%, which was the bid of the majority of the banks for the first period following the enactment of the law. For the last period of my office the banks reduced their bids and the City Council was compelled to award the funds at about 2%. I am not prepared to say that this system of awarding the keeping of the funds to the highest bidders is the best that could be devised, as it is very readily seen that the banks of the City by a mutual arrangement could bid even lower than 2%, thereby compelling the City to place the funds with them and by this arrangement deprive the City of the fair rate which the funds are actually worth.

The difference in the operation of this law, which governs only the city and school funds and the law which simply holds the Treasurer liable for the interest upon the special funds without prescribing how he shall award the deposit of the money, is shown by the fact that upon special funds I was able to secure 2½%, while the city and school funds awarded to the highest bidder only secured 2%. Both of these funds fluctuate with about the same rapidity.

TREASURER'S BOND.

The Treasurer's bond is now fixed by law at $2,000,000.00. No surety company in the city was able to write so large a bond. Arrangements to sign the bond were entered into, but owing to the amount of the same and the special arrangements necessary to permit so large an undertaking on behalf of the bond companies, premiums and other charges to be made were in the amount of $25,000.00 for the two years. In view of this fact I undertook to furnish a private bond. I was enabled to secure this bond through the kindness of some of my friends, who volunteered and did sign the bond, without charge of any kind, thereby saving to the City the expense of surety bonds. I acknowledge a lasting debt of gratitude to these gentlemen, who expressed such confidence in my integrity out of purely personal interest.

BOOKKEEPING.

In the matter of the keeping of records and accounts I have established a system which should be continued, by which the complete records of every transaction of the City Treasurer are preserved, and may be referred to any time for any purpose.

TRACTION SINKING FUNDS.

An item of $2,982,746.81 is now in my hands as the share of the City of Chicago in the profits of the traction companies. This fund is to be preserved as a separate fund for the purchase and construction of street railways by the city, should the Council so decide. In February of the present year the Comptroller drew warrants upon me in the amount of $50,000.00 to be drawn from said fund for expense of preliminary work in the preparation of designs, etc., for a subway.

No ordinance for a subway having yet been passed, I took the position that this fund was sacred to the actual purpose for which it was established and could not be drawn against in the absence of an ordinance specifically for the building of a subway. Mandamus proceedings on the part of the city to test the matter were then instituted, and the issue presented to Judge Windes of the Circuit Court. The decision of the Circuit Court sustained the position which I have taken. This cause is now in the Supreme Court, where it was appealed by the city. I should recommend that until a final disposition by the Supreme Court, that this fund be kept intact and sacred to the purposes of its original creation.

Arrangements should be made for the securing of a larger rate of interest upon this fund. Two per cent now paid upon this fund is entirely too small in view of its permanency. The council could provide for the deposit of this fund under the conditions which regular savings deposits are made, and, thereby secure the three per cent interest paid upon savings deposits.

CONCLUSION.

My administration has been marked by harmony with all departments of the city government and the City Council. The various financial institutions of the City of Chicago have treated my office with consideration and have received at my hands every courtesy which the duties of the office would permit. I owe a debt of gratitude to every employee and attendant of my office for their competency which has made the conduct of the office easy, and for their loyalty which has made my position a pleasant one.

I conclude the trust given me by the people with the hope that my conduct has met with their approval and with a feeling that I have done my utmost to merit the confidence which they reposed in me.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) JOHN E. TRAEGER,
City Treasurer.

Back-Filling.

As soon as the frames are removed the retaining wall shall be back-filled, the material removed in excavating may be used in so far as necessary in the back-filling. The back-filling shall be distributed in layers not to exceed one foot in thickness and thoroughly tamped and consolidated by some approved means so that the pavement shall be properly supported when placed thereon. The back-filling shall be placed as specified without extra cost above the price bid per cubic yard of concrete retaining wall.

Material to Be Used in New Retaining Wall.

Stone—Stone shall be of the best quality of limestone broken so as not to measure more than 2 inches nor less than ½ inch in any dimension. Said stone shall be clean, dry, free from dust or dirt and shall be deposited upon platforms and kept clean until used.

Cement—The cement shall be an approved Portland cement. All cement shall be fully protected from the weather until used.

Sand—Sand shall be of the best grade of torpedo sand; clean, coarse and sharp and shall not contain over thirty per cent of voids.

Concrete shall be mixed on a suitable water-tight mixing board or by approved mixing machines, in the following proportions: One (1) part cement; three (3) parts of sand and six (6) parts of broken stone by volume. Not over six inches of concrete shall be laid without thoroughly tamping until a film of water appears on the surface. The concrete shall not be dropped over 8 feet. No concrete shall be laid during freezing weather. No concrete or mortar shall be retempered. The walls shall be built in sections not less than 10 feet nor more than 30 feet in length and a ¼ inch joint shall be left between the sections. The section of the wall to conform to certain plans on file in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works and marked "Repair of Approaches to 12th St. viaducts, from Canal St. E. to W. end of C. T. T. R. R. bridge." The framing shall be strong, straight and tight, and shall not bend or leak when the concrete is tamped. The concrete shall be left in the frames seven days before the removal of the framing to allow a perfect set. The rubble stone of the present retaining wall shall be allowed to be used in building the new concrete retaining wall. Provided, the stone is used in accordance with the following rules.

Rules.

1. Stone shall be placed approximately in horizontal layers.

2. Layers of stone shall be separated from each other by at least six inches of concrete.

3. Stones in each layer shall be separated from each other by at least six inches in every direction. The space between the stone being filled with concrete thoroughly rammed into place.

4. No stone in any layer shall be placed nearer than four inches to the finished face of the wall nor to the back of the wall.

5. No large stones shall be placed in the first layer (eighteen inches in thickness) of the retaining wall unless placed at a distance of at least four feet from the front of the toe.

6. No weathered stone shall be incorporated in the new wall.

7. All stone before being placed must be thoroughly cleaned by the use of wire brushes and thoroughly wetted.

8. No stone shall be placed above the line marked C. C. on the plans.

Curb.

The curb shall be a part of the retaining wall and flush with the roadway side of the retaining wall. The set curb shall be nine inches thick throughout, except at the upper face corner which is to be rounded to a radius of one and one-half inch, as shown on plans.

The top of said curb and the face of the said curb for a distance of eight inches from the top thereof shall be finished with a one-half inch coating of mortar and troweled to a smooth, even and glossy surface. Said coat of mortar shall be composed of one part of cement as described in these specifications and one part of clean torpedo sand as described in these specifications. The said curb shall be a part of said retaining wall and shall be constructed at the same price per cubic yard as bid for the construction of the retaining wall.

Sidewalks.

A new wooden sidewalk shall be built on the north side of West 12th street, from the east end of bridge over Stewart avenue to the west end of the bridge over the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad. Also on the south side of West 12th street, from the east line of Holden street to the west end of the bridge over the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad.

Sidewalk shall be built as shown on plans and herein more fully described.

Posts supporting cross timbers or floor beams shall be 8x8 inch posts resting on 4x12 inch hemlock plank 3 feet long; one post being required to support the outer end of each cross timber. Cross timbers or floor beams shall be 3x14 inches and shall be spaced about 7½ inch centers, one end to rest in a notch in the retaining wall and the other end to be let into the post and well spiked to the same. There shall be eight lines of joists 3x6 inches on approximately twenty-two inch centers. Sidewalk planking shall be two inches thick, surfaced on top; laid close together with an incline of one inch in three feet and spiked with 20d nails in each plank to each joist.

Railing along the new sidewalks shall be built with 4x4 inch stanchions spiked to every post and floor beam; capped with a 3x6 inch hand rail dressed with top beveled and upper corners rounded. Two rail strips 2x6 inches shall be halved into the stanchions between the sidewalk and the hand rail. Lumber for railing shall be surfaced on four sides. All lumber for the sidewalks shall be of the best quality common yellow pine lumber (except where hemlock is specified) live and sound; free from wind shakes, loose or decayed knots, worm holes or other defects.

Curb Wall Repairs.

The back of the wall shall be cleaned by wire brushing and plastered at least one-half inch thick with mortar composed of one (1) part of Portland cement and two (2) parts of clean, coarse, sharp sand. The sand and cement to be first thoroughly mixed dry and then sufficiently moistened with water to form a thick mortar. The mortar must be used immediately after mixing and no mortar which has once set shall be used.

Pavement.

A No. 2 granite pavement on a six-inch concrete foundation shall be placed on West 12th street from the east curb line of Canal street to the west end of the bridge over the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad tracks, except the central sixteen feet now occupied by the street car tracks.

Preparation of Sub-Grade.

The roadway shall be brought to sub-grade by cutting or filling as may be necessary. Said sub-grade shall be 13 inches below and parallel with the top of the finished pavement after having been thoroughly compacted and secured from further settlement by flooding, ramming, rolling or other means.

Concrete Foundation for Pavement.

On the sub-grade as prepared shall be laid a foundation of Portland cement concrete to a uniform thickness of six inches.

Cement and Sand—The cement and sand used for foundation purposes shall be of the same quality and subject to the same tests as the cement and sand specified for use in the retaining wall.

Stone—The crushed stone used in making the concrete shall be of the best quality of limestone free from dust and dirt; broken so as to not measure more than 2 inches nor less than 1 inch in any dimension.

The stone when delivered on the street shall be kept clean until used.

Mixing and Laying of Concrete.

The concrete shall be mixed on movable tight iron platforms of such size as shall accommodate the manipulations hereinafter specified.

The cement, sand and stone shall be mixed in the following proportions: One (1) part of cement, three (3) parts of sand and seven (7) parts of crushed stone. The sand and cement shall be thoroughly mixed dry, to which sufficient water shall be added and then made into a stiff mortar. The crushed stone shall then be immediately incorporated in the mortar and the mass thoroughly mixed, adding water from time to time as the mixing progresses, until each particle of stone is covered with mortar.

The concrete shall be removed from the platform with shovels and deposited in a layer on the roadway in such quantities that after being rammed in place it shall be of the required thickness and the upper surface shall be true and smooth and seven (7″) inches below and parallel with the top of the finished pavement.

During the progress of the work the sub-grade must be kept moist.

The concrete shall be sprinkled so as to prevent checking in hot weather, and shall be protected from injury at all times, and shall lay at least seven days before being covered with the wearing surface, or a longer time if deemed necessary.

Sand Cushion.

Upon the concrete foundation shall be spread a layer of sand in such quantity as to insure when compacted a uniform thickness of two (2") inches.

On surfacing said layer of sand guides and templets shall be used.

Granite Block.

Upon the sand cushion shall be set syenite or granite paving blocks having a uniform grain and texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or feldspar.

The blocks shall measure from three and one-half (3½") inches to four (4") inches in width, eight (8") inches to ten (10") inches in length and five (5") inches in depth, and be so dressed as to have substantially rectangular, plane surfaces, so that when the blocks are in place the joints at the ends and sides shall average one-fourth (¼") inch in width. Soft or weather worn stones obtained from the surface of the quarry, and stones which wear to a polish under traffic shall not be used.

The blocks shall be laid in uniform courses across the roadway between the gutters (except at the intersections of the streets where they shall be laid at an angle of forty-five degrees with the center line thereof) and the space between the blocks, when in place, shall in no case be less than one-eighth (⅛") inch nor more than five-eighths (⅝") inch. Each course shall consist of blocks of the same width, and be so laid that all longitudinal joints shall be broken by a lap of at least three (3") inches.

The spaces shall be immediately filled to within two (2") inches of the top of the blocks with dry gravel free from loam and dirt, and the blocks rammed to a true surface and firm bed with a seventy-five (75) pound rammer of approved shape. No cracked or chipped blocks shall remain in the pavement.

After ramming, the spaces between the blocks are to be completely filled with a paving pitch which is the direct result of the distillation of "straight run" coal tar, and of such quality and consistency as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The pitch must be used at a temperature of not less than 280 degrees Fahrenheit and be spread in such quantity so as to apply two (2) gallons to each square yard of pavement.

Immediately after the spreading of the paving pitch, and while it is still hot, the blocks shall be covered to a depth of not less than three-quarters (¾") inch with dry roofing gravel. This gravel must be entirely free from sand or loam, and not to exceed one-half (½") inch in size. All gravel must be clean, washed, dried and heated enough to prevent the chilling of the pitch.

The tarring and top dressing must be completed each day to within five (5′) feet of the face of the blocking.

Headers.

At the end of each intersecting street and alley wing there shall be placed a "header" extending from curb to curb, and so dressed as to conform to the crown of the pavement. The "header" shall be constructed of three by twelve (3x12") inch oak plank, properly supported by six (6") inch split cedar posts, three (3′) feet in length, firmly set in the ground and spaced not more than five (5′) feet apart.

Cross Walks.

There shall be formed in the pavement four (4) cross walks at each street intersection, three (3) at each half intersection and one (1) across each and every alley wing and one (1) at the middle of each long block. The cross walks shall consist of three (3) rows of granite flag stones spaced eighteen (18") inches apart. The flagstones shall be of the best quality of granite, free from sand pockets, drill holes, seams, or other defects, eighteen (18") inches wide, five (5") inches in thickness and not less than three (3') feet in length except where shorter stones may be necessary to make closures, and shall be "bush-hammered" on top, and the sides and ends pitched and dressed to a line so as to make close joints. They shall be firmly bedded in sand and well rammed to a uniform surface.

A gutter nine (9") inches in the clear width shall be constructed at the ends of the cross walks by setting granite curbing in the roadway nine (9") inches from and parallel with the curb line. The granite curbing must be four (4") inches thick and twenty (20") inches deep, and the length of the curbing shall be within two (2') feet of the width of the abutting sidewalk space; provided, however, that the minimum length of said curbing shall be six (6') feet.

New Catch Basins.

All catch basins are to be circular in section and four feet in internal diameter. They are to be built of two rings of brick upon a floor of two-inch pine plank, closely jointed. The bricks in the inner ring (excepting the top and bottom header courses) are to be set vertically. The outer ring may be of bats as far as broken bricks on hand will go, otherwise whole bricks are to be used. The brick work shall be seven feet two inches deep; the top of the brick work shall be two feet in internal diameter, being drawn in by nine header courses, and an iron cover set thereon. The catch basins are to be connected to the sewer with nine-inch tile pipe and trapped with nine-inch half-traps, the bottom of the traps to be set three feet six inches above the floor of the basins.

The price bid per new catch basin shall include the cost of the catch basin complete, including the iron cover and not to exceed sixteen feet of tile pipe.

Old Catch Basins.

The covers of the catch basins shall be taken off and the upper courses of the brickwork removed and the brickwork built up and cover set as follows: The covers of the catch basins shall be taken off and the upper courses of the brickwork removed if they be defective or if it be necessary to set the covers at a lower grade; if it be necessary to raise the covers more than six inches the upper header courses shall be removed until the internal diameter of the brickwork shall be two feet and six inches and the catch basins shall be built up with new brickwork to the proper grade and an iron cover set thereon, using the old cover if it be in a suitable condition. The catch basins shall be cleaned out, and all open joints filled with fresh mortar. When necessary the new brickwork shall be drawn over to one side so that the cover shall occupy its proper position with reference to the curb. When the catch basin is not located in the line of the gutter a nine-inch inlet pipe shall connect the catch basin with a suitable inlet constructed next to the curb.

Covers.

The contractor shall set all covers to the correct grade in a bed of mortar on top of the brick work above specified.

All new covers shall be of a good grade of cast-iron. The curb shall weigh not less than 350 pounds, and the lid, if of iron, shall weigh not less than 120 pounds, provided that if the catchbasins are to be built in the parkways lighter covers may be used, weighing not less than 140 pounds. The covers and iron lids shall be of the size and form of the iron covers and lids as shown on plans on file in the office of the Board of Local Improvements.

Masonry.

The bricks must be clean and thoroughly wet before being laid; the most perfectly formed bricks and those with the smoothest surfaces are to be used in the inside courses, the smoothest edge of the brick being laid to the face.

No joint shall exceed one-half of an inch in thickness, and all joints on face shall be trowel-struck.

Pipe Laying.

Each pipe is to be laid on a firm bed, and in perfect conformity with the line and levels given. The ends of the pipes are to abut close against each other in such a manner that there shall be no shoulder or want of uniformity of surface on the interior of the drain. The rings are to be placed centrally around the joints of the pipes. The joints between the rings and the pipes are to be as uniform as possible in thickness and thoroughly filled with mortar. Each joint is to be wiped clean of mortar on the inside before another length of pipe is laid.

Mortar.

The mortar shall be made by carefully measuring and thoroughly incorporating one part of natural cement with two parts of clean, sharp sand in dry state, and mixed with clean water to the proper consistency, and shall be used while fresh, and the use of mortar which has been set and then retempered will not be allowed. The mortar used in laying pipe sewers shall be of pure cement, mixed and used as above specified.

Bricks.

The bricks shall be of the best quality for the purpose for which they are intended, uniform in quality, sound and hard-burned, free from lime and cracks, and to have a clear, ringing sound when struck, whole and with edges full and square, and of standard dimensions, viz.: 8x4x2¼ inches. They shall be of compact texture, and after being thoroughly dried and immersed in water for twenty-four hours shall not absorb more than fifteen (15) per cent in weight of water.

Pipe.

The pipe shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned and vitrified, well glazed, free from lumps or other imperfections, and with the least possible variation from the specified dimension or true cylindrical shape. All straight pipe must be straight in the direction of the axis of the cylinder, and the inner and outer surfaces of each pipe must be concentric. The thickness of the pipe shall be seven-eighths (⅞) of an inch, with a limit of variation either way not exceeding one-eighth (⅛) of an inch.

Back-Filling.

The earth must be carefully replaced around all man-holes and catch basins and over all tile pipe laid under this contract in such a manner that no further settlement will take place, and it must be thoroughly rammed with suitable rammers or puddled with water.

Draining Intersecting Streets.

Wherever the grade of the new pavement is such as to interfere with the drainage of intersecting streets into existing catch-basins, additional brick inlets shall be built at the outer edges of the new pavement and connected to the catch-basins with nine-inch tile.

SECTION 4. In the event that said

Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company and said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company shall fail to begin the work of making said repairs in the manner provided by Section 3 of this ordinance after they are notified so to do by the Commissioner of Public Works said Commissioner of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to immediately proceed to make the repairs provided for by Section 3 of this ordinance and the expense thereof shall be charged to and paid by the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, share and share alike, and the amount so expended, unless paid by said companies to said City of Chicago on demand, shall be recovered from said Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company and said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company by the City of Chicago in any proper action instituted therefor.

SECTION 5. In the event that said Pittsburgh, Ft. MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CHICAGO, May 3, 1909.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith return, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at its last meeting, requiring the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad companies to repair Twelfth Street viaduct, which said ordinance appears on pages 105 to 112, inclusive, of the Council Proceedings of April 26, 1909.

My reason for vetoing this ordinance is that it has been made to appear to me that railroad companies other than those mentioned are maintaining tracks beneath the viaducts to be repaired, and, again, that the companies named in the ordinance do not own any of the tracks beneath one of the viaducts to be repaired as provided by this ordinance.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) FRED A. BUSSE,
Mayor.

Pursuant to said order, in August, 1908, I notified the Presidents of the Lincoln Park, South Park and West Park Boards of this order, with request that they communicate with this department.

A reply was received from the Secretary of the Board of West Park Commissioners, stating that the records of the West Park Commissioners show that on September 24, 1894, your Honorable Body passed an ordinance granting to the West Park Commissioners the free use of water on the express condition that said West Chicago Park Commissioners improve and maintain several parks, property of the City of Chicago, known as Union Park, Vernon Park Jefferson Park, Wicker Park and Campbell Park, and expend the sum of not less than $20,000 per annum for the maintenance and improvement of the said several parks; that this ordinance was accepted by said West Chicago Park Commissioners, and that during these years said Board has expended the sum of $303,381.44, from 1895 to 1907 inclusive, or $23,337.03 per year.

In view of the above I referred the whole matter to the Corporation Counsel, with request that this department be advised as to what action should be taken.

In an opinion furnished by the Corporation Counsel he states that in the absence of authorities directly in point on the question and in view of the existence of other ordinances relating to this subject he would recommend the passage of an ordinance at this time making it the duty of the Commissioner of Public Works to assess and collect the rates for all water furnished by the city to parks, and repealing all ordinances in conflict therewith, as it is at least certain that none of the ordinances mentioned in his opinion, purporting to give free water to the parks, if possessed of any force or effect, can be qualified or repealed by the Council order of July 17, 1908, above referred to.

Under the circumstances I respectfully ask that the whole matter be referred to the proper Council Committee for disposition. Copy of opinion attached hereto.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) JOHN J. HANBERG,
Commissioner of Public Works.

The following opinion of the Corporation Counsel was submitted with the foregoing report:

OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL,
May 4, 1909.

In re Farley & Green contract for the building of the Lawrence avenue intercepting sewer.

Hon. B. W. Snow, Chairman Finance Committee:

DEAR SIR—On May 2, 1898, the City of Chicago entered into a contract with Messrs. Farley and Green, co-partners, for the construction of Section D of the intercepting sewer on Lawrence avenue. Section D consisted of about 12870 feet of sewer, of which 3905 feet was "open cut" and the balance "tunnel" construction. The price fixed was $36.20 per foot. Under the contract the work was to be commenced immediately and fully completed on or before September 1, 1899.

To secure the performance of the contract, Farley & Green as principals and the American Surety Company of New York as surety executed a bond to the City of Chicago in the penal sum of $239,000.00. This bond was duly approved and filed in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works.

The work progressed very slowly. Farley & Green were allowed by the Commissioner of Public Works to use a patented tunnelling machine and to depart in several respects from the specifications. The work was not completed by September 1, 1899, but without any extension of time, the contractors were allowed to continue the work until they finally abandoned it entirely October 17, 1901. At the time of the abandonment the 3905 feet of "open cut" and about 694 feet of "tunnel" were completed.

The circumstances attending the abandonment of the contract were as follows: The City had served several notices upon Farley & Green to proceed with the work, the last one of which was served on October 5, 1901. In response to these notices, the contractors were doing some work but were making but very little progress. On the 15th of October, 1901, notice was served upon the City that unless the contractors received the amount which they claimed to be due them at that time, about $9,292.00, they would be compelled, on account of lack of funds, to abandon the work, and that unless that amount, or a fair portion thereof, was paid on the 17th of October, they would discontinue the work.

The Commissioner of Public Works took the position that the work was not progressing satisfactorily and declined to pay the amount asked or any portion thereof, and declined to pay the last estimate which had been prepared by the engineer in charge of the work and which amounted to $5,296.11. The Comptroller took the position that the last estimate ought not to be paid because the contractors had failed to restore Lawrence avenue, as they agreed to under the terms and conditions of the contract.

The contract contained the usual provision that the City might withhold 15 per cent of the estimates made from time to time, and at the time of the abandonment of the contract there was in the hands of the City $30,448.21, which the City still has in its possession. There was also due Farley & Green on the last estimate and for extra work about $9,000.00 and the City has a claim against them for restoring Lawrence avenue and for protecting certain bulk-heading at the west end of Section D, amounting to $9,540.05.

While the City never made any formal extension of time for the completion of the contract, the amounts of nine different estimates were paid to the contractors from time to time after September 1. 1899, the last payment being made August 5, 1901. The amounts of these estimates range from $21,391.27, paid November 11, 1899, to $1,384.65, paid May 15, 1900.

A little over three months after the abandonment of the work, Farley & Green filed their petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. Among the assets scheduled by them was a liquidated claim against the City of Chicago for the balance due for work done on Section D of the Lawrence avenue intercepting sewer amounting to $37,000.00 and an unliquidated claim against the City for damages on account of the breach by the City of their contract amounting to $150,000.00.

On July 23, 1907, the trustee in bankruptcy, by Calhoun, Lyford & Sheean, his attorneys, filed suit against the City to recover the amount of these claims. His suit is now pending against the City and has been reached on the Trial Call and has been passed to be taken up on ten days' notice.

Immediately after the abandonment of the work by Farley & Green, the Commissioner of Public Works, having been duly authorized by ordinance, advertised for bids for the completion of Section D. The lowest bidder was Joseph Hanreddy, whose bid was $68.00 per foot. On December 16, 1901, and before Hanreddy's bid was accepted, the City Council passed an ordinance providing that the work should be completed by day labor. Hanreddy then filed a bill to enjoin the City from proceeding with the work under the day labor ordinance. An injunction against the City was granted by the Superior Court, afterwards affirmed by the Appellate Court, and finally affirmed by the Supreme Court.

City of Chicago v. Hanreddy, 211 Ill. 24.

This case was not decided by the Supreme Court until June 23, 1904. A petition for re-hearing was filed and denied October 11, 1904.

After the decision of the Supreme Court, an attempt was made to secure the necessary legislation to allow work of this character to be done by day labor and on failure to secure such legislation, the City Council passed an order directing the Commissioner of Public Works to advertise for bids, and on July 15, 1905, the contract for the completion of Section D was let to M. H. McGovern, the lowest bidder, whose bid was $79.50 per foot. McGovern completed the work, after several extensions of time had been given, about February 1, 1908, and received his final payment September 4, 1908.

From the time of the abandonment of the work by Farley & Green on October 17, 1901, to July 15, 1905, a period of almost four years, the City took no steps to prosecute the work.

The specifications for the McGovern contract differed in several respects from the specifications in the Farley & Green contract, although the general structure built by McGovern was in all material respects the same as that required under the Farley & Green contract. While Farley & Green were engaged on the work, an extra allowance of $10.00 per foot was made to them for certain wood sheathing which was also required under the McGovern contract and which was included in his bid of $79.50. The real excess, therefore, which the City had to pay McGovern was $266,809.59, to which there should be added the sum of $9,540.05, the cost to the City of restoring Lawrence avenue.

It is claimed by the Surety Company, however, (and with much reason), that if any damages at all are to be recovered by the City, the measure of such damages should not be measured by the amount of the McGovern contract, which was made four years after the work was abandoned, but by the amount of the Hanreddy bid, which was $11.50 per foot lower. Taking the Hanreddy bid as the basis for computing the City's damages, the City's damages would be about $180,000.00, from which, of course, there would have to be deducted the reserve of $30,448.31.

This office has prepared the pleadings necessary to file suit against the Surety Company to recover on their bond. The defenses, which the Surety Company is likely to interpose when this suit is tried, are:

1. That the City, in withholding payment of the last estimate to Farley & Green, violated the contract, and that Farley & Green were justified in abandoning the work.

2. That the City extended the time of completing the work without consent of the Surety Company.

3. That the ordinance passed by the City Council requiring the work to be done by day labor was in effect cancellation by the City of the Farley & Green contract and released the Surety Company.

4. That the City was guilty of unnecessary delay in finally completing the work, and that the failure of the City for about four years to go on and complete the work will prevent it from using the McGovern contract as a basis for the computation of damages, and that inasmuch as no work was done under the Hanreddy bid, that bid cannot be used as a basis for computation, and that, therefore, the City cannot prove any damages at all.

Any one of these defenses, if established, would defeat the City. The first defense of the Surety Company is relied upon as a basis of the claim of the trustee in bankruptcy against the City.

Realizing the hazardous character of the City's claim against the Surety Company, and the chance that there might be an adverse judgment rendered in the suit brought by the trustee in bankruptcy against the City which would not only establish the right of the trustee to recover but would also operate to defeat the City's claim against the Surety Company, this office took up with the representatives of the Surety Company the question of a settlement. The vice-president of the company was in Chicago, and after several conferences with the local representatives of the company and two conferences with the vice-president, the company made an offer of $40,000.00 in settlement of all claims of the City against the company growing out of the failure of Farley & Green to complete their contract.

We then took up with the attorneys for the trustee in bankruptcy, the question of a settlement of his claim against the City and he agreed, subject to the approval of the Court and the creditors, to accept $4,000.00 in full settlement of all his claims against the City.

Another conference was arranged with the representatives of the Surety Company, whereupon the Company agreed to pay to the City $42,000.00 in settlement of the City's claim against it.

The present litigation and all claims growing out of this contract may be settled for $38,000.00 net to the City.

It is the opinion of this office that, in view of the strength of the defenses which might be interposed by the Surety Company in the suit which we are now ready to file against it, and in view of the possibility that the City might be unsuccessful in the litigation with the trustee in bankruptcy, the offer of the Surety Company of $42,000.00 should be accepted, and that from this sum there should be paid to the trustees in bankruptcy $4,000.00, leaving to the City a net balance of $38,000.00.

If this settlement is not accepted, it will be necessary for the City to defend one suit and to prosecute another, both of which will be attended with considerable expense, and both of which ultimately will, no doubt, be carried to the Supreme Court. If the City loses the suit brought by the trustee in bankruptcy, it will have no chance to recover from the Surety Company, and it will be in the position of having to pay a judgment of at least $30,000.00, the amount of the reserve.

If the City wins the suit brought by the Trustees in Bankruptcy, it would still have to carry through to the end the litigation against the Surety Company, and, as we have stated, the Surety Company has several defenses, any one of which, if established, will defeat the City's claim, and the Company, in our opinion, has a very good chance of establishing some one or more of its defenses.

The permission and authority hereby granted shall cease and determine ten (10) years from and after the date of the passage of this ordinance, or at any time prior thereto in the discretion of the Mayor. This ordinance shall be subject to amendment, modification or repeal at any time, and in case of repeal all privileges hereby granted shall thereupon cease and determine.

SECTION 3. At the expiration of the privileges herein granted, by lapse of time or otherwise, the vault herein authorized shall be filled up, unless the privileges herein granted shall be renewed. If said vault is so filled up, the alley where the same shall have been located shall be restored to a condition similar to the balance of the alley in the same block, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Public Works, at the sole expense of the grantee herein, without cost or expense of any kind whatsoever to the City of Chicago; provided, that in the event said grantee shall refuse or neglect to fill up said vault when so ordered to do, said work shall be done by the City of Chicago, and the cost thereof charged to the grantee herein.

Said grantee shall do no permanent injury to said alley, or in any manner interfere with any public cable, wire, pipe or conduit therein, and shall not open or incumber more of said alley than shall be necessary to enable it to proceed with advantage in excavating said vault. No permit shall be issued allowing any work to be done in and about the construction of said vault until plans and specifications of the completed structure shall have first been submitted to and approved by said Commissioner of Public Works. A copy of said plans shall at all times remain on file in the office of said Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 4. In consideration of the privileges herein granted, said grantee, his heirs, executors or assigns, shall pay to the City of Chicago the sum of one hundred forty-one and thirty-four one-hundredths dollars ($141.34) per annum each and every year during the life of this ordinance, the first payment to be made as of the date of the passage of this ordinance and each succeeding payment annually thereafter. It is hereby made a special provision of this ordinance that the privileges herein granted shall terminate and this ordinance shall become null and void if said grantee, his heirs, executors or assigns, shall fail to promptly pay any installment of said compensation.

SECTION 5. Before doing any work under and by virtue of the authority herein granted, said grantee shall execute a bond to the City of Chicago in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), with sureties to be approved by the Mayor, conditioned upon the faithful observance and performance of all and singular the conditions and provisions of this ordinance, and conditioned further to indemnify, keep and save harmless the City of Chicago against all liabilities, judgments, costs, damages and expenses which may in any wise come against said City in consequence of the granting of this ordinance, or which may accrue against, be charged to or recovered from said City from or by reason or on account of the passage of this ordinance, or from or by reason or on account of any act or thing done by the grantee herein by virtue of the authority herein granted. Said bond and the liability of the sureties thereon shall be kept in force throughout the life of this ordinance, and if at any time during the life of this ordinance such bond shall not be in full force, then the privileges herein granted shall thereupon cease.

SECTION 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval, provided that a written acceptance of this ordinance and the bond hereinabove mentioned shall be filed with the City Clerk within sixty (60) days of the passage hereof.

Respectfully submitted,

CHICAGO, May 10, 1909.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your Committee on Harbors, Wharves and Bridges hereby submit a copy of an opinion rendered by the Corporation Counsel on the power of the City of Chicago to carry out the recommendations of the Chicago Harbor Commission and the legislation necessary for the purpose, and recommend that said opinion be published and filed.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) CHARLES M. FOELL,
Chairman.

Ald. Foell moved to concur in the foregoing report.

The motion prevailed.

The following is the said opinion of the Corporation Counsel:

OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL,
May 5, 1909.

LEGISLATION NECESSARY TO ENABLE THE CITY OF CHICAGO TO CARRY INTO EFFECT THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE CHICAGO HARBOR COMMISSION.

Hon. Charles M. Foell, Chairman Committee on Harbors, Wharves and Bridges:

DEAR SIR—In response to your request that the Corporation Counsel render to your Committee an opinion on the question of whether or not there is needed any additional legislation by the General Assembly of Illinois to enable the City of Chicago to carry into effect the recommendations of the Chicago Harbor Commission, as summarized on pages 55, 56, 57 and 58 of its Report, published in March, 1909, I have the honor to submit the following:

Under the provisions of the Cities and Villages Act the City of Chicago has very full and complete power and authority to construct and regulate docks, wharves, canals and other facilities of commerce. This power is conferred by Clauses 30 to 39, inclusive, and Clause 97 of Section 1, Article V, of the Cities and Villages Act. These clauses are as follows:

"Thirtieth. To deepen, widen, dock, cover, wall, alter or change channel of water courses.

Thirty-first. To construct and keep in repair canals and slips for the accommodation of commerce.

Thirty-second. To erect and keep in repair public landing places, wharves, docks and levees.

Thirty-third. To regulate and control the use of public and private landing places, wharves, docks and levees.

Thirty-fourth. To control and regulate the anchorage, moorage and landing of all water craft and their cargoes within the jurisdiction of the corporation.

Thirty-fifth. To license, regulate and prohibit wharf-boats, tugs and other boats used about the harbor, or within such jurisdiction.

Thirty-sixth. To fix the rate of wharfage and dockage.

Thirty-seventh. To collect wharfage and dockage from all boats, rafts or other craft landing at or using any public landing place, wharf, dock or levee within the limits of the corporation.

Thirty-eighth. To make regulations in regard to use of harbors, towing of vessels, opening and passing of bridges.

Thirty-ninth. To appoint harbor masters and define their duties."

"Ninety-seventh. To pass all ordinances, rules, and make all regulations, proper or necessary, to carry into effect the powers granted to cities or villages, with such fines or penalties as the City Council or board of trustees shall deem proper."

Hurd's Statutes, Illinois, 1908, pp. 317 and 321.

The city is given further power to lease landing places and levees on navigable rivers by the Act of March 31, 1874, Section 1, of which is as follows:

"Section 1. That whenever, in the opinion of the legislative authority of any incorporated city, or of the president and board of trustees of any incorporated town or village of this state, situate upon the banks of any navigable river, the lands acquired and owned by any such city, town or village, for the purpose of a public landing or public levee, are not immediately required for such purpose, then any such city, town or village, may lease such parts of such landing or levee as may be thought best by the legislative authority of such city, or president and board of trustees of such town or village, for the purpose of erecting manufactories, warehouses or grain elevators thereon: Provided no such lease shall extend beyond the period of twenty-five years from its execution."

Hurd's Statutes, Illinois, 1908, p. 353.

The city has also the power to exercise the right of eminent domain where it desires to acquire wharf or dock property or to do other work in aid of navigation which is, in fact, a local improvement. Section 7, Part III, of the act of May 18, 1905, relating to the City of Chicago, conferring this power, is as follows:

"Section 7. The City may exercise the right of eminent domain by condemnation proceedings in conformity with the provisions of the constitution and statutes of the State of Illinois for the acquirement of property useful, advantageous or desirable for municipal purposes, and the procedure in such cases shall be, as nearly as may be, like that provided for in an act entitled 'An act concerning local improvements,' approved June 14, 1897, in force July 1, 1897, as now or hereafter from time to time amended."

Hurd's Statutes, Illinois, 1908, p. 339.

Section 2 of the Eminent Domain Act of April 10, 1872, gives to the city the right to condemn land for canals. It provides that where "the right to construct or maintain any public road, railroad, plankroad, turnpike road, canal or other public work or improvement, * * * has been heretofore or shall hereafter be conferred by general law or special charter" upon any municipal or other corporation, land for such improvement may be acquired by condemnation. It may be suggested that the words "other public work or improvement" would include docks and wharves and other similar structures. In my opinion the rule of ejusdem generis applies in construing these words, and they should be held to include only improvements of the class similar to the specific matters designated, and therefore this section gives power only to condemn for improvements which are in the nature of highways or canals.

Under the powers conferred by the cities and villages act the City Council has passed a comprehensive ordinance relating to the control and regulation of the harbor. These regulations are found in Chapter 31 of the Revised Municipal Code of Chicago of 1905. Three of the more important sections of the Code, Sections 969, 975 and 998 are, for convenience, set out in Appendix A.

Passing now to the specific recommendations of the Harbor Commission, for convenience, we shall take up these recommendations seriatim and note the extent of the present power of the city to carry out these recommendations.

The first division of the recommendations concerns the Chicago river, including both the Main river and South branch. Under this heading Recommendations a, b, d, e and f are as follows:

"(a) Widening the Main river to 250 feet.

(b) Completing the work of widening the South Branch to a minimum of 200 feet.

(d) Cutting off the elbow at Rush street on the south side of the river.

(e) Cutting off the projecting elbow south of the Chicago and Northwestern railway bridge at the northeast angle of the main forks, and making a turning basin at the present forks of the river.

(f) Straightening the river from Twelfth to Sixteenth streets."

I am of the opinion that the city has the power under the authority granted by Clause 30, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act, to carry out these recommendations. If, as a matter of fact, such widening would be a "local improvement" within the meaning of those words as used in Section 9, Article IX. of the Constitution of Illinois, a part of the cost of such improvement might be assessed upon property specially benefited. If such improvement is, in fact, a local improvement, then the city may condemn land under Section 7 of the Act in relation to the City of Chicago, but if, in fact, such improvement is not a local improvement, then the city has no power to condemn.

Recommendation c is as follows:

"(c) Replacing center-pier and narrow span bridges on the Main river and the South branch with bridges having a clear span of 200 feet with straight bottom chords instead of arched chords."

I am of the opinion that the city has power to carry out this recommendation under the authority granted in and by Clause 28, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act, which gives to the city power to construct and keep in repair bridges, viaducts and tunnels, and to regulate the use thereof.

Recommendations g and h are as follows:

"(g) Illuminating the river by electricity for navigation at night.

(h) Diminishing the current, especially in that portion of the river between Lake street and Twenty-first street."

Under its police power the city has the power to illuminate the river in so far as necessary to protect lives and property. Furthermore than this the city cannot go without a further grant of power. The question of whether or not the city has the power to diminish the current in the river will depend largely on the means taken to accomplish that end. If it can be accomplished by deepening or widening the river the city has the power to do so under Clause 30, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act. If it is to be done in some other way it is most likely that a further grant of power to the city would be necessary.

Recommendation i is as follows:

"(i) The establishment of a number of public docks on the river situated at localities convenient for the distribution of freight."

I am of the opinion that under the authority granted in Clause 32, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act, the city has the power to establish public docks on the river.

The second division of the recommendations applies to the North Branch of the Chicago river. Recommendations b, c, e and g are as follows:

"(b) Straightening the channel at some points, especially between Clybourn and Bloomingdale avenues, at North avenue, and between Webster avenue and the crossing of the Milwaukee division of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

(c) Widening to 200 feet of the North Branch as far as it can be done in a practical and economical manner.

(e) Dredging necessary to enable boats to reach the docks.

(g) Dredging the turning basin just south of Diversey boulevard, particularly the east part thereof, to a sufficient depth to make it navigable."

I am of the opinion that the city has the power to carry out these recommendations under the authority granted in Clause 30, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act. What was said under the discussion of the recommendations relating to the Chicago river as to defraying a part of the expense by special assessment applies here as well.

Recommendation a is as follows:

"A technical engineering study for the purpose of outlining a detailed plan for the progressive improvement of the North Branch."

I am of the opinion that the city has the power to carry out this recommendation under the authority granted in Clauses 30 to 39, inclusive, and Clause 97 of Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act. Such a study is necessarily incidental to the carrying out of the powers specially granted.

Recommendation f is as follows:

"Remedying the unsatisfactory conditions at Fullerton avenue caused by a sewer opening an insufficient depth of water."

I am of the opinion that the city has the power to carry out this recommendation under the authority granted in Clauses 30, 40 and 13 of Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act, and the other statutes of the state relating to sewers. Clause 40 gives to the City Council the power to provide for the cleansing and purification of waters, water courses and canals, and Clause 13 gives power to regulate openings in streets for the laying of gas or water mains and pipes and the building and repairing of sewers, tunnels and drains.

Recommendation h is as follows:

"An investigation of the feasibility of deepening and widening the channel now being built by the Sanitary District and known as the North Shore Canal (Wilmette cut-off), so as to make it navigable."

I am of the opinion that the city has the power to carry out this recommendation as to that part of the canal within the city limits, under the authority granted in Clause 31, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act. The city has no power to construct canals outside of its corporate limits and hence no authority to spend money for investigating the feasibility of improving such canals.

The third division of the recommendations refers to the lake front. Recommendations a and c are as follows:

"(a) Reserving that portion of the lake front between the mouth of the Chicago river and Chicago avenue for future harbor development.

(c) Reserving that part of the lake front from the mouth of the Chicago river to Randolph street for harbor development."

The city has the power in part to carry out these recommendations. It can designate those parts of the lake front as the only places where permits for the erection of docks and wharves shall be issued and regulate the building and maintenance of any docks and wharves which may be built there. Further than this it can not go without a grant to itself by the State of the fee of the submerged lands or a license to build docks and wharves.

Recommendation b is as follows:

"Constructing piers between the mouth of the Chicago river and Chicago avenue for the accommodation of passenger, package freight and fruit lines."

The city has the power to carry out this recommendation under the authority granted in Clause 32, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act whenever it shall receive from the State a grant of the fee of the submerged lands or a license to build piers in and upon such lands.

Recommendation d is as follows:

"The preparation at once of a plan designed to permit the creation of a lake front park south of Grant park on lines which shall still make possible a future harbor development if such becomes necessary, as more fully explained in the text of this report, this plan to be prepared by experts on park and harbor improvements working in collaboration, but subject to the final approval of the City Council and the South Park Commissioners."

The city has the power to prepare the plan recommended under the authority granted in Clauses 32, 38, 39 and 97 of Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act. To carry out the plan suggested would require additional legislation the precise nature of which will depend on the details of the plan.

The fourth division of the recommendations refers to the Illinois and Michigan Canal, and the recommendation is as follows:

"Securing the title to the right of way of the Illinois and Michigan canal from the General Government and the State of Illinois for the benefit of the City of Chicago."

Additional legislation both by Congress and by the General Assembly will be necessary in order to carry out this recommendation. The nature of this legislation is discussed later on in this opinion.

The fifth division of the recommendations refers to the Calumet River and Harbor. Recommendation a is as follows:

"Widening the Calumet river to a minimum of 300 feet as far as the Forks."

The city has power to carry out this recommendation under the authority conferred in Clause 30, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act.

Recommendation b is as follows:

"Replacing present bridges where the openings are insufficient, with bridges having ample waterway; and requiring that hereafter all bridges shall have two openings of 100 feet or more, or a single opening of 200 feet or more."

The city has power to carry out this recommendation under the authority conferred in Clause 28, Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act.

Recommendation c is as follows:

"Reserving frontage on the Calumet river for construction of public docks."

What has been said as to recommendations a and c of the third division applies to this recommendation.

Recommendation d is as follows:

"Creating an inland harbor on Lake Calumet, either by the City of Chicago or by contract with riparian owners, as seems most feasible after detailed study of the legal engineering and financial problems involved."

The city has not power, in my opinion, to carry out this recommendation. Legislation giving the city the fee to the submerged lands of Lake Calumet or a license to use such lands for harbor and allied purposes, with the power to reclaim and sell or trade a part of the submerged lands and to enter into contracts and agreements with riparian owners, and, if necessary, to condemn land and riparian rights of private owners, is necessary.

The sixth division of the recommendations refers to Harbor Administration and Finance. Recommendations a, b and c are as follows:

"(a) Creating a Harbor Department in charge of a commissioner appointed by the mayor, to be responsible for the supervision of dock and harbor matters and the protection of shipping interests in the port of Chicago, including both the Chicago and Calumet harbors.

(b) Appointing a thoroughly competent engineer to make the surveys recommended in the Commission's report and prepare detailed plans, specifications and estimates of cost of the suggested harbor improvements.

(c) Appointing an advisory board of seven persons to co-operate with the engineer."

I am of the opinion that the city has the power to carry out these recommendations under the authority granted in Clauses 33, 38, 39 and 97 of Section 1, Article V of the Cities and Villages Act. The only specific power granted is the power to appoint harbor masters and define their duties, but if a competent engineer and an advisory board is necessary in order to exercise the regulatory powers granted by the statute, then I am of the opinion that the city would have power to appoint such engineers and such advisory board; nevertheless I am of the opinion that it would be better if the city, by additional legislation, were given plenary power to define, regulate, control and improve harbors and tributary navigable streams in the city, and to do all things necessary and proper to carry out such plenary power. Such legislation would set at rest all questions as to the power of the city to carry out a comprehensive scheme of harbor improvement.

Recommendation d is as follows:

"Securing a grant, where necessary, from the legislature of Illinois for the City of Chicago of power to acquire, construct, maintain and operate or lease for operation, wharves, docks and levees and in connection therewith, elevators, warehouses and vaults; also power to acquire, operate or lease tracks and terminal facilities in connection with docks, together with the power to condemn such land as may be necessary in the creation of harbors or docks."

The city already has the power, as has been shown, to construct, maintain and operate wharves, docks and levees, but it has no right to lease them for operation, except that public landing places or public levees on the banks of navigable rivers not required for purposes of navigation may be leased for the purpose of erecting manufactories, warehouses or grain elevators, providing no such lease shall extend beyond a period of twenty-five years from the date of its execution. This power is given under the Act of March 30, 1874, to which we have heretofore called attention. The city has no power to acquire, construct, maintain and operate or lease for operation in connection with wharves docks, and levees, elevators, warehouses and vaults or tracks and terminal facilities, and in my opinion has no power to condemn land necessary for the creation of harbors or docks except where the creation of such a harbor or dock is in the nature of a local improvement within the meaning of that term as used in the Constitution.

Recommendation e is as follows:

"A recommendation that careful consideration be given to the suggestions made on pages 52, 53 and 54 of the report in regard to constitutional amendments, securing to the city greater powers for the condemnation of land, the exemption of bonds from the debt limit where such bonds are issued for revenue-producing improvements, and the exemption of bonds from local taxation."

I am of the opinion that under the present Constitution the Legislature could give the city sufficient power to condemn land for harbor purposes. Under the Constitution the Legislature has the power to authorize the condemnation of private property which is to be used for a public purpose. (Constitution of Illinois, Article II, Section 13). In order that bonds issued for the construction of harbor improvements may not be counted as a part of the aggregate bonded indebtedness of the city for the purpose of determining whether or not the debt limit has been reached, and in order that such bonds may be exempted from local taxation, a constitutional amendment would be necessary.

Section 12, Article IX, of the Constitution fixes the debt limit at five per cent of the assessed value of the taxable property. Under the decisions of our Supreme Court in the cases of Lobdell v. The City of Chicago, 227 Ill. 218, Village of East Moline v. Pope, 224 Ill. 386, and City of Joliet v. Alexander, 194 Ill. 457, it would seem practically impossible to issue such bonds so that they would not be counted as part of the aggregate indebtedness of the city.

A discussion of the various recommendations of the Harbor Commission has indicated several respects in which the city now lacks the necessary power to carry out a comprehensive scheme of harbor improvements. Legislation is needed in the following matters:

First. A grant of the fee or a license to occupy submerged lands of Lake Michigan, of Lake Calumet and of all other navigable lakes within the limits of the city. If a license is granted it should be a license not only to build docks, wharves and piers and to carry out all other harbor improvements, but it should also give the right to reclaim submerged lands and to sell or lease the same to private parties, or to let them for use by the city itself for the purpose of erecting warehouses, vaults and necessary track and terminal facilities, and in the case of a sale or lease to private parties, possibly for the additional purpose of erecting and maintaining manufacturing establishments. The city should also be given the power, in cases where it reclaims any land, to exchange such land by contract for the building of a harbor with the necessary docks and other improvements. Such docks when completed should become the property of the city, and the city should also have the power to sell or exchange a part of such reclaimed land for riparian rights, if any, of the shore proprietors. The State owns the fee to the submerged lands of Lake Michigan and of other meandered and navigable lakes in this State, and this fee may be granted by the General Assembly which has the sovereign power of Parliament over such submerged lands, subject only to the power of the Federal Government to regulate commerce between the states. This fee, however, is not an absolute fee and can not be conveyed for use by the grant for any purpose other than for a public purpose; that is to say, the fee is held in trust by the State for the use of the people of the State.

Illinois Central R. R. v. Illinois, 146 U. S. 387.

Revell v. The People, 177 Ill. 468.

Cobb v. Commissioners of Lincoln Park, 202 Ill. 427.

People v. Kirk, 162 Ill. 138.

Subject to the limitations which I have stated above, I am of the opinion that the Legislature has adequate power to grant to Chicago the necessary power and the necessary rights in the submerged lands for the purpose of carrying out the recommendations of the Harbor Commissioners.

Second. A grant of the power to construct and operate or lease for operation in connection with docks, etc., public warehouses, elevators, vaults and all necessary and proper terminal tracks and other terminal facilities, and to condemn the land necessary therefor.

Third. A grant of plenary power to define, regulate, control maintain and improve harbors and tributary navigable streams and navigable canals. The power as to tributary navigable streams and canals outside of the city limits but a part of or connected with such streams or canals within the city should be limited to the power of investigation and the authority to enter into agreements and make contracts for the control, maintenance and improvement of such streams and canals with other municipalities, and, if necessary, to expend money for such control, regulation and improvement. This grant of power would cover fully the matter of illuminating the river and harbor, of spending money for investigation of the feasibility of tributary navigable streams and canals, and generally would set at rest all questions which are likely to be raised as to the city's power in relation to the construction, maintenance and improvement of harbors and harbor facilities.

Fourth. A grant to the city of wider and more comprehensive power in the exercise of the right of eminent domain. Under the Constitution the State may authorize the exercise of the power of eminent domain whenever private property is to be taken for public use. The right of eminent domain—the right to condemn land—is in derogation of the common law and of common right, and statutes authorizing the taking of private property are strictly construed.

Chicago & Northwestern Ry. Co. v. Chicago Mechanics Institute, 87 N. E. 933.

Harvey v. Aurora, etc., R. Co., 174 Ill. 295.

Ligare v. City of Chicago, 139 Ill. 46.

Illinois Central Ry. Co. v. City of Chicago, 138 Ill. 453.

Chicago & Northwestern R. Co. v. Gault, 133 Ill. 657.

City of St. Louis, v. St. John, 47 Ill. 463.

The right of condemnation must be expressly given. It is not implied. In Chicago & Northwestern Ry. Co. v. Town of Cicero, 154 Ill. 656, the court did say that the power to open and lay out any new street, alley or highway, necessarily implied the power to institute condemnation proceedings, but express power to institute such proceedings was to be found in Section 2 of the Eminent Domain Act, and hence the language of the court may have been used with the Eminent Domain Act in mind.

In a later case, Helm v. City of Grayville, 224 Ill. 274, the court bases the right to condemn land for a ferry not upon the power of the city to establish ferries, but upon Section 23 of the Ferry Act. (Hurd's Statutes, 1908, page 55). Under the statutes the city's present power to condemn land for harbor improvement is confined to those cases where such improvements are in fact a local improvement and may be paid for by special assessment.

Section 7 of the Act of May 18, 1905, relating to the City of Chicago, in my opinion gives the right of eminent domain only in cases where property is acquired which is "useful, advantageous or desirable for municipal purposes" where the purpose itself when carried out would be a local improvement. Section 7 is in a very unsatisfcatory form at present. It should provide not only that the procedure may be similar to that under the Local Improvement Act, but also that in all necessary cases it may be similar to that under the Eminent Domain Act.

There is no question in this State as to the public character of docks and harbor improvements, and the power of eminent domain may be exercised for the acquiring of lands and of interests in lands which are to be used for such purpose.

Chicago Canal & Dock Co. v. Garrity, 115 Ill. 155.

In my opinion the city should have legislation giving it plenary power to condemn lands, interests in lands and all riparian or other rights for the purpose of constructing harbors, landings, docks, wharves and all other harbor improvements, and for public warehouses, elevators and vaults connected therewith, and for all tracks and other terminal facilities necessary or proper to be used in connection with such warehouses, elevators and vaults. In connection with this the city should also have the right to condemn park lands and should have the further right to condemn all docks, piers, wharves and other harbor improvements, and warehouses, elevators and vaults used in connection with the same, together with all tracks and other terminal facilities now owned by private parties, and to condemn all rights, title and interest (if any) of private owners in and to the submerged lands. The power to condemn docks and other property connected therewith now under private ownership becomes especially important because of the fact that there are two private dock companies both organized under special acts of the General Assembly of this State, which may claim rights which will conflict with the carrying out of the plans of the Harbor Commission.

The Chicago Dock and Canal Company was organized under a special act of the General Assembly passed February 12, 1857, and amended February 22, 1861. The charter purports to give to the company broad powers. It gives the company the right to erect docks on the shore and in the navigable waters of Lake Michigan between the Chicago river and Chicago avenue, and the power to own real estate in Kinzie's Addition to Chicago not exceeding in all fifty acres. The company has the power of eminent domain and the right to vacate streets and alleys. Among the provisions of the charter are the following:

"Said company shall have the power to inclose, make and protect, and also to erect and construct on their own lands and on the shore and in the navigable waters of Lake Michigan (so that they do not in any manner obstruct or prevent the free navigation of the same, in front of their own lands and premises, and in front of the premises of such person or persons as may assent to the same), wharves, docks, moles, piers, breakwaters and such other erections, protections, improvements and conveniences for the safety and accommodation of boats and vessels, and the security and advantageous use of their own property, wharves and docks, or for the purposes of convenience in the use and enjoyment of said property by the said company, as the board of directors of said company may deem necessary and proper.

Said company shall also have power to excavate, maintain, preserve and keep open canals, basins, slips, and such other ways, with their embankments, supporters and appurtenances, for the entrance of boats and vessels of all kinds from the lake, and also from the Chicago harbor and river; to levee part of their property, lands and premises as may, by the board of directors of said company, be considered necessary and convenient for the profitable use and enjoyment of said property, and for the interests of said company."

I am advised that under its charter the company has made some harbor improvements near the mouth of the Chicago river, but it has not exercised its rights anywhere else between the Chicago river and Chicago avenue. Its right to build wharves, etc., in the submerged lands of Lake Michigan is a mere license, in my opinion, which does not ripen into a right until the structure is actually built, but after the structure is built then the company, under and by virtue of its charter and grant, has the right to maintain it in the submerged lands. Of course the company before it builds any new structure must not only get a permit from the city, but must also secure the consent of the Secretary of War. Insofar as the right to occupy the submerged lands of Lake Michigan has not been exercised it may have been lost by non-user, for it has been fifty-two years since the charter was granted.

> "A private corporation created by the Legislature may lose its rights by misuser or non-user of them and they may be resumed by the government under a judicial judgment upon a quo warranto to ascertain and enforce the forfeiture."
> Terrett v. Taylor, 9 Cranch. 43.

If the rights of this company to occupy the submerged lands, in so far as they have not been exercised, have not been lost by non-user they may be revoked by the Legislature.

> Illinois Central R. R. Co. v. Illinois, 146 Ill. 387.

In any case any right which this company has to occupy submerged lands between the Chicago river and Chicago avenue is not exclusive and will not prevent the city from building docks or making other harbor improvements, in case it shall obtain the necessary power from the General Assembly.

Another private dock company claiming rights in the Calumet District is the Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock Company, incorporated by special act of the General Assembly passed March 10, 1869. Sections 5, 6 and 9 are as follows:

> "SECTION 5. The said company shall have power to enter upon and make surveys of any lands and premises between the South Branch of the Chicago river, or the Illinois and Michigan canal, and the Calumet river, which empties into Lake Michigan at or near Section five (5), Township thirty-seven (37) North, Range fifteen (15) East of the Third (3d) Principal Meridian, in Cook County, Illinois, for the purpose of ascertaining and locating the most advantageous route for constructing a canal, and are hereby authorized and empowered to construct and make a canal, of such width as they shall determine, from such point on the said Calumet river as said company shall determine, to such point on the South Branch of the Chicago river, or the Illinois and Michigan canal, as the said company shall determine: Provided, the said company shall have the right to construct and make any part or portion thereof, from time to time, until the whole is completed; and may construct, use, operate and employ and maintain such docks, slips, basins, ship-yards, dock-yards, dry docks, warehouses and piers as said company may deem necessary and proper; and may make such rules and regulations as the company may prescribe for the passage in said canal of all boats, vessels or other water-craft; Provided, no tolls or dues shall ever be charged or collected for the passage of any vessel, boat or water-craft in said canal.
> SECTION 6. Said company shall have the right to acquire, by condemnation, title to any lands or real estate to the extent of three hundred feet on each side of the center line of said canal, as the same shall be located and established, under and by virtue of any law or laws of the State of Illinois authorizing the condemnation of said real estate for public improvements; and when such lands or real estate shall have been so acquired, the fee thereof shall be vested in said company.
> SECTION 9. Nothing in this act contained shall authorize said company to exercise the right of condemnation within the present limits of the City of Chicago, or within Section sixteen (16), town thirty-eight (38) north, range fourteen east of the third principal meridian."

This company is essentially a canal and land company with the power to maintain docks, warehouses, etc., in connection with the canal. I am not advised as to how far the company has exercised the rights given it under its charter. Generally the same rules of law would apply to it as would apply to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company. Apparently, however, whatever rights this company has exercised or whatever rights it may still have will not conflict with the plans and recommendations of the Harbor Commission.

Another private dock company, the Chicago South Branch Dock Company, was incorporated by special act of the General Assembly February 19, 1859. It had power to build and maintain docks on the South Branch of the Chicago river. I am advised, however, that this company is no longer in existence, and that it has never done anything under the powers granted by its charter.

Fifth. A specific grant to the city of the rights of the State in the Illinois and Michigan canal, but such a grant must be made in pursuance of authority duly granted by an act of Congress. The act of Congress should not only give to the State of Illinois the power to convey its rights, but should also transfer all rights of the Federal Government to the City of Chicago under such conditions and limitations as Congress may see fit to impose.

In connection with all that has been said heretofore in this opinion it must be remembered that all legislation of the State is subject to the power of the Federal Government to regulate commerce among the several states, as granted by Clauses 3 and 17, Section 8 of Article I of the Constitution of the United States. Until Congress acts, such regulations of commerce as have been considered in this opinion are under the control of the states. After the Federal Government has acted, however, its control is supreme.

Harmon v. City of Chicago, 147 U. S. 396.

Black on Constitutional Law, pages 193-4.

Congress has passed several acts in relation to interstate commerce, one of which, the Act of March 3, 1899, provides that no dock or similar structure shall be erected in any navigable water of the United States or in any harbor without the consent of the Secretary of War. Appendix B hereto attached contains the more important provisions of the acts of Congress which directly or indirectly affect the carrying out of the recommendations of the Harbor Commission.

In case it should finally be determined by the city that docks and other harbor improvements should be built (on the lake front between the Chicago river and Chicago avenue) by private capital, the work in part could be done by the Chicago Dock and Canal Company if that company still has the right under its charter to occupy the submerged lands. As a condition of granting a permit for the construction the city may impose such regulations by ordinance as seem best, saving and reserving all its rights. Work in the Calumet region might be done by the Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock Company under similar conditions.

Public dock and warehouse companies may be organized now under the general incorporation act of Illinois, but in order to give to such companies the power to carry out harbor improvements in accordance with the plan of the Commission, such companies should have additional power granted them by the General Assembly (a) to build docks in portions of Lake Michigan or Lake Calumet designated by the City Council, and to occupy the submerged lands so far as may be necessary for such purpose; (b) to condemn necessary lands and riparian rights, and, if necessary, rights of park commissioners. In general, such companies might be given powers similar to those given to canal companies under the Act of February 27, 1874, Hurd's Statutes of Illinois, 1908, Chapter 20, pages 225 and 226.

At the suggestion of the Corporation Counsel I have examined the bills proposed by the Chicago Charter Convention, now pending before the General Assembly, with a view to determining whether or not those bills if passed will give to the city sufficient power to carry out the recommendations of the Harbor Commission. Section 1 of Article I, of Senate Bill No. 294 provides for the consolidation of the city government, abrogates the Board of Park Commissioners and places the parks under the control of the city.

Section 22 of Article III, of Senate Bill No. 295 gives the City Council the power to sell park property under certain conditions, with the consent of the Board of Park Commissioners. Section 7, Article II, of the same bill gives to the city power to regulate the service and charges of public utilities. Section 12, Article III, gives to the city the right to condemn or purchase property inside of the city limits for any municipal purpose, and the method by which the property may be condemned is not limited. Section 16, Article III, gives the city power to acquire property by purchase outside of the city limits "useful or advantageous for any municipal purpose." Section 18, Article III, gives the city power to condemn easements or riparian or other incorporeal rights. Section 1, Article IV, continues to enforce the general laws of the State concerning local improvements so far as not inconsistent with the new charter bills. Section 4, Article IV provides for the exercise of the right of eminent domain in making local improvements.

Section 1 of Senate Bill No. 296 on public utilities provides in part as follows:

"The City of Chicago shall have full power and authority to acquire, own, construct, maintain and operate within the limits of the city (and) public utility works for the use of the city and the property therein and the inhabitants thereof (including wharves, docks and levees and, in connection with such wharves, docks or levees, elevators, warehouses, vaults and necessary or appropriate tracks and terminal facilities), and to fix the rates and charges for the services rendered by means of such utilities and for this purpose to acquire by purchase, condemnation, construction or otherwise, whatever property real or personal may be necessary or appropriate, and to lease the same to any person or corporation authorized under the laws of the State to operate the same, for the purpose of operating the same for any period not longer than twenty years, upon such terms and conditions as the City Council shall deem for the best interests of the public."

Section 6 of the same bill provides that the city upon making a public utility grant to a private owner may reserve the right to purchase the same. Section 14 is as follows:

"For the purpose of acquiring or constructing wharves, docks, levees, or in connection with such wharves, docks or levees, elevators, warehouses, vaults or necessary and appropriate tracks or terminal facilities, the city may reclaim the submerged lands under any public waters within the jurisdiction of or bordering upon the city of Chicago, and shall thereupon be vested with the absolute title, in fee simple, to the lands so reclaimed; and for any of the purposes aforesaid the city may acquire, by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, the title of the private or public owners, if any there be, to lands lying beneath such public waters and to any lands penetrating into or abutting on such public waters, and also the riparian or other rights, if any there be, of the owners of the shore lands abutting on such public waters in or over such public waters or the submerged lands under such waters. The city and the owner or owners of any such abutting lands or riparian or other rights are hereby authorized to agree upon a division of the said submerged lands between the said city and the said owners, and upon a boundary line dividing the submerged lands acquired or to be acquired by said city, and the submerged lands to be taken, owned and used by said owners in lieu of and as compensation for the release or transfer of such riparian or other rights to said city; subject, however, to the requirement that in all cases in which said city shall have agreed upon any such division, the said city shall file a petition or petitions in chancery and obtain a decree of court thereon in like manner as is provided with respect to boards of park commisisoners in and by a statute of the State of Illinois entitled, 'An Act authorizing park commissioners to acquire and improve submerged and shore lands for park purposes, providing for the payment therefor, and granting unto such commissioners certain rights and powers and to riparian owners certain rights and titles,' approved May 2, 1907.

No ordinance authorizing the city to reclaim or fill in any of the submerged lands under the waters of Lake Michigan shall go into effect until sixty days after the passage thereof, and if within such sixty days a petition shall be filed signed by ten per centum of the registered voters of the city praying for the submission of such ordinance to the voters of the city, not until such ordinance shall have been approved by a majority of the voters of the city voting upon the question at any election."

It will thus be seen that if Senate Bills 294, 295 and 296 are enacted into law, the city will have much of the power necessary to carry out the recommendations of the Harbor Commission, except that the city will not obtain any rights in the Illinois & Michigan Canal, nor will it have plenary power to maintain and improve harbors and tributary navigable streams and canals, and there might be some difficulty in securing park lands. There also should be a clear and unequivocal grant of the right to "occupy" as well as to "reclaim" submerged lands. Aside from these matters the new charter bills will, in my opinion, if enacted into law, give to the city substantially the power necessary to carry out the recommendations of the Harbor Commission.

Any such person so arrested shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense. In the event of any such dock having been repaired, renewed, altered or constructed in or upon the water area of the harbor of the city, the person thus convicted of a violation of this section, in addition to the fine hereinbefore specified, shall be required at once, and at his own expense or cost, to remove such dock back to its former location; and, in default of such removal of such dock, the Commissioner of Public Works is hereby authorized to cause such dock to be removed to such location as he deems best and to recover, from the person so convicted, the cost or expense of such removal.

of the Chief of Engineers and of the Secretary of War."

OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL,
May 5, 1909.

Hon. Charles M. Foell, chairman, Committee on Harbors, Wharves and Bridges:

DEAR SIR—Summarizing briefly the opinion which has been rendered to your committee on the subject of the legislation necessary to enable the City of Chicago to carry out the recommendations of the Chicago Harbor Commission, this office has advised that the City should have further enabling legislation in the following respects:

1. A grant of the fee in or a license to occupy the submerged lands of Lake Michigan, of Lake Calumet and of other navigable lakes within the city.

2. A grant of power to construct and operate in connection with docks, etc., public warehouses, elevators, vaults and all necessary and proper terminal facilities.

3. A grant of plenary power to define, regulate, control, maintain and improve harbors and tributary navigable streams and canals.

4. A grant of more comprehensive power to exercise the right of eminent domain.

5. A grant of the rights of the State and of the United States of that part of the Illinois and Michigan Canal located within the City.

Grants 1, 2, 3 and 4 may well be included in one bill. Grant 5 should be by a separate bill and such a bill should not be passed by the General Assembly except by authority of an Act of Congress.

The bill for grants 1, 2, 3 and 4 may be drawn as an amendment to the Cities and Villages Act or it may be made to apply to the City of Chicago only under the provisions of the constitutional amendment of 1903 proclaimed by the Governor as adopted December 5, 1904, and known as Section 34 of Article IV of the constitution.

I have prepared an outline of the provisions of such a bill. Its final form will, of course, depend on whether or not your Committee (in case it shall decide to try to procure the necessary legislation) shall decide to ask for legislation applying only to Chicago. When this point is determined a bill can be prepared immediately and submitted to your Committee.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) EDWIN H. CASSELS.

1. That the said party of the first part for and in consideration of the payments to be to it made by the City of Chicago as hereinafter set forth, hereby covenants and agrees to furnish all labor and materials and do all the work of every sort and kind required in the construction and installation of the boilers, breeching and setting in the City Hall building, to be erected on the west half of Block thirty-nine (39) in the original Town of Chicago, as contemplated by "Alternate bid No. 2, Proposal No. 1," submitted by said party of the first part, and in conformity to and in accordance with the plans, drawings and specifications prepared by Messrs. Holabird & Roche, architects, and identified by the signatures of said party of the first part, of the Commissioner of Public Works, of the City of Chicago and of said architects, copies of which are hereto attached and made parts hereof, the originals being on file in the office of said Commissioner of Public Works.

2. It is expressly understood by the parties hereto that the contractor for the general work of constructing said building has agreed to commence said general work after the completion of the work of wrecking the old building, excavating, and sinking the caissons, and within five (5) days after the date when possession of the premises shall be delivered to it, said date to be fixed by notice in writing from the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Chicago, which shall be receipted for by said contractor in writing, and that said contractor has agreed to prosecute said general work diligently and continuously and to fully complete the same within eighteen (18) calendar months from the date of the delivery to it of possession of the premises as aforesaid.

The party of the first part hereby agrees to commence the installation of said boilers as soon as the construction of said building shall be sufficiently advanced, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Public Works, to enable said party of the first part to prosecute the work of installation continuously and without interruption, and within ten (10) days after receiving notice in writing to that effect from the Commissioner of Public Works, which notice shall be be receipted for in writing by the party of the first part. Said party of the first part agrees to prosecute the work diligently and continuously and to fully complete the installation of two (2) of said boilers ready for use within sixty (60) days after commencing the work of installing said boilers, and to complete the installation of the remaining boilers as contemplated by this contract within ninety (90) days after commencing the same, and to remove scaffolding, material, implements, debris or rubbish connected with or caused by said work immediately on completion and leave said work complete and perfect, free from expense to the party of the second part; and shall at all times give to the Commissioner of Public Works and to Holabird & Roche, architects, free access to said work.

3. It is expressly understood by the parties hereto that the general work of constructing said building, as well as certain other portions of the work not included in this contract for said general work, will be carried on in the building during the performance of this contract; and in order that said general work and said other certain portions of the work may be completed within the times set for the completion thereof, the party of the first part undertakes and agrees not to hinder or interfere with the contractors for said general and other work, but to give said contractors such facilities and opportunities for the performance of their contracts that all the contractors employed by the party of the second part in and about said building may co-operate in and about the performance of their respective contracts.

4. It is hereby further agreed that the party of the second part shall furnish to the party of the first part one set of copies of all plans, drawings, specifications and addenda thereto signed by said Commissioner of Public Works and by said architects, which shall be kept upon the premises above described and to which the Commissioner of Public Works and the architects shall have free access at all times. Should any dispute arise between the parties hereto respecting the true construction or interpretation to be given said plans, drawings, specifications or addenda, or the meaning thereof, the same shall be decided by the archtiects with the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works and such decision shall be final. Said plans, drawings and specifications are intended to be co-operative so that any work shown by the plans or drawings and not mentioned in the specifications, or vice versa, is to be executed if mentioned in the specifications and shown by the plans or drawings with the true intent and meaning of said plans, drawings and specifications.

5. It is further agreed that the said party of the second part may, through its Commissioner of Public Works at any time during the progress of said work, make any addition to or deduction or alteration, from said plans, drawings, specifications and addenda without invalidating any part of this agreement, but the fair value of the same shall be added to or deducted from the sums herein agreed to be paid by the said party of the second part, as the case may be: Provided, that no work of any description upon the premises shall be considered as extra work or a charge in excess of the amount herein agreed to be paid unless a proper estimate in writing of the same before its commencement shall have been submitted and signed by the said architects, approved by the said Commissioner of Public Works and authorized by the City Council of the City of Chicago; and, provided, further, that should any dispute arise respecting the fair value of the work added or omitted by the party of the first part, the same shall be determined by the arbitration of three persons, one to be chosen by the party of the first part, one by the party of the second part, through its Commissioner of Public Works, and the two so chosen to select a third, and the decision by a majority of the three so chosen shall be binding upon the parties hereto, and the expense of said arbitration, shall be borne equally between the parties hereto. Said party of the first part, however, expressly covenants and agrees that in no case shall any such dispute or arbitration interfere with the regular progress of the work, but that it will prosecute the entire work including that under dispute or arbitration without interruption or delay in accordance with the terms of this contract and the specifications, pending the settlement of any such dispute by arbitration or otherwise.

6. In cases of additions to or alterations in the work made as above provided which will require additional time for completion of the work included in this contract, or in case the party of the first part shall be obstructed or delayed in the prosecution or completion of the work by other contractors of the party of the second part, or by the act, neglect, delay or default of the party of the second part, or by any damage which may happen by fire, lightning, earthquake, cyclone or the abandonment of the work by its employees through no fault of said party of the first part, then the time herein fixed for the completion of the work may be extended for a period equivalent to the time lost by reason of any of the causes aforesaid; but no such extension shall be made unless a claim therefor is presented in writing to the Commissioner of Public Works within three days after the commencement of any such delay. The duration of such extension, if any, shall be such fair allowance as shall be determined and certified in writing by the architects, and approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The said party of the first part hereby assumes all responsibility for any loss or damage that may happen to said work, or any part thereof, or the materials therefor, or for any injury to the workmen or the public or to individual or for damage to adjoining property or for any damage arising from its delaying in any manner the completion of the work of other contractors in said building or from any other cause whatsoever until said work is finished, delivered and accepted by said party of the second part. And it is further expressly understood and agreed that if the time of performance of the contract herein be for any reason, either expressly or by implication, extended, such extensions shall not affect the validity of this contract nor the liabilities of the sureties upon the bond given for the faithful performance of the same.

7. It is further understood and agreed that said party of the first part shall not sublet any portion of said work except with the consent and approval in writing of the Commissioner of Public Works and the architects, and in no case shall such consent relieve the party of the first part from its obligations herein assumed, or change the terms of this agreement. Should said party of the first part desire to sublet any portion of the work, a request shall be made in writing (in triplicate copies), giving the name and address of the proposed sub-contractor and defining the portion of the work he desires to sublet, and this shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Public Works and the Architects for approval. If the proposed sub-contractor is satisfactory, one copy of the written request of said party of the first part shall be approved in writing by the Commissioner of Public Works and the architects, and returned to said party of the first part.

8. It is further understood and agreed that on or about the first and fifteenth days of each month and before the party of the second part or its agents or architects shall pay or cause to be paid to the party of the first part or its order any money or other consideration due or to become due herein, said party of the first part shall furnish to the Commissioner of Public Works, if required by him, a written statement, verified by affidavit, giving the names and addresses of all persons, firms and corporations who have, up to the date thereof furnished labor or material in or about the performance of this contract, and the amounts due or to become due to said parties.

9. It is further understood and agreed that whenever the Commissioner of Public Works shall notify the party of the first part by notice personally served, or by leaving a copy thereof at the last known address of said party of the first part that no further estimates or vouchers will be issued or payments made on the contract until the sub-contractors, workmen or employees of said party of the first part have been paid, and said party of the first part shall neglect or refuse for the space of ten days after such notice shall have been served to pay such sub-contractors, workmen or employees, said party of the second part shall be authorized to apply any money due or that may become due under this contract to the payment of such sub-contractors, workmen or employees without other or further notice to said party of the first part, or, at its option may declare this entire agreement null and void and may take possession of said work and complete the same; and in such case said party of the first part hereby agrees to pay all loss or damage caused thereby. And it is expressly understood and agreed that the failure of the party of the second part to retain and apply any of such moneys or of the Commissioner of Public Works to order or direct that no vouchers or estimates shall issue or further payments be made, shall not, nor shall the paying over of any reserved percentage, without such sub-contractor, workman or employee being first paid, in any way affect the liability of the party of the first part or of its sureties to said party of the second part or to any such sub-contractor, workman or employee upon the bond given for the faithful performance of this contract.

10. Said party of the first part further covenants and agrees to furnish such materials, workmanship and labor of all kinds as shall be suitable and necessary for carrying on and completing said work, and to protect said materials and workmanship from damage by the elements, and otherwise until the completion of the same, and to remove all improper material and work when so directed by said Architects with the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works, and to substitute therefor such materials and work as, in the opinion of said Architects and said Commissioner of Public Works are required by the plans, drawings and specifications. No improper materials shall be used, but all materials of every kind shall fully answer the specifications, or, if not particularly specified or indicated on the plans or drawings shall be suitable for the place where used. Said party of the first part further agrees to furnish all materials and perform all of said work under the immediate direction and superintendence of the Architects, and to their entire satisfaction, approval and acceptance. All material used and all labor performed shall be subject to the inspection and the approval or rejection of said Architects, and the said party of the second part hereby reserves to said Architects, with the approval of its Commissioner of Public Works, the right finally to decide all questions arising as to the proper performance of said work and as to whether the rate of progress therein is such as to correspond with the conditions of this contract. Any imperfect workmanship or other faults which may appear within eighteen months after the completion of said work, and which in the judgment of the Architects with the approval of said Commissioner of Public Works arise out of improper materials or workmanship, shall, upon the direction of said Commissioner of Public Works, be made good by and at the expense of said party of the first part, and in case of its failure so to do, said City of Chicago may recover from said party of the first part the cost of making good the work.

11. It is further expressly understood and agreed that if the said party of the first part shall at any time refuse, neglect or be unable to follow the reasonable instructions of the Commissioner of Public Works and of said Architects in the completion of said work in any manner or fail to prosecute said work at such a rate as shall, in the judgment of said Architects and of the Commissioner of Public Works, insure its completion in the time and manner herein stipulated, or delay said work or show gross carelessness or incompetency or fail to comply with said plans, drawings, specifications and addenda, or to protect said materials or workmanship from damage or refuse or neglect to furnish sworn statements as herein agreed, said party of the second part by giving three days' notice in writing signed by said Architects and approved by said Commissioner of Public Works to said party of the first part of its intention so to do, and the party of the first part being still in default as above at the end of said three days, may enter upon and employ other persons to finish said work, protect or re-execute the same; and the expense thereof, together with all loss or damage occasioned thereby, shall be adjusted by the Commissioner of Public Works and shall be charged to said party of the first part and shall be deducted from the sum due him under this agreement.

12. The said City of Chicago hereby covenants and agrees in consideration of the covenants and agreements in this contract specified to be kept and performed by the said party of the first part that if its City Council shall hereafter levy taxes and appropriate funds therefrom lawfully for this purpose, it will pay to said party of the first part for the full completion of the work included in this contract to the satisfaction and acceptance of the Commissioner of Public Works and the Architects, the sum of twenty-nine thousand two hundred and eight ($29,208.00) dollars, as hereinafter set forth.

13. It is further agreed by said City that if its City Council shall levy taxes and appropriate funds as aforesaid and if the rate of progress upon said work shall be satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works and to said Architects, semi-monthly certificate will be issued by the Architects for eighty-five (85) per cent of the work done and materials properly set in place, in the judgment of said Architects. On or about the fifth and twentieth days of each month, upon the approval of the above certificates by the Commissioner of Public Works, estimates for the amount of the certificates will be issued by said Commissioner of Public Works, subject to additions or deductions as herein provided for, which shall entitle the holder to receive the amount that may be due thereon when the money applicable to the payment of such work shall be available and the conditions annexed to such estimates, if any, shall have been satisfied. It is expressly understood and agreed, however, that the amounts to be paid from time to time shall in no case exceed eighty-five per cent of the value of the work done and the material set in place; the remaining fifteen per cent of said value is to be retained by said party of the second part as part security for the faithful performance of this contract, and shall not be paid until the expiration of thirty days after the completion of said work, acceptance of the same by the Commissioner of Public Works and the Architects, payments of all claims for labor and materials and the return of all plans, specifications and drawings to the Architects. The giving of the aforesaid certificates and estimates, however, shall in no way lessen the total and final responsibility of the party of the first part.

14. It is further expressly understood and agreed by the parties hereto that the work herein provided for shall be fully completed and ready for delivery within the time fixed herein. Inasmuch as a failure to have said work fully completed and ready for delivery within the time fixed therefor will work an injury to the City, and as the damages arising from delay in the completion of the work cannot be calculated with any degree of certainty, it is hereby agreed that if such work is not completed within the time specified, then there shall be deducted from the contract price and retained by the City as its ascertained and liquidated damages the sum of Four Hundred ($400.00) Dollars for each and every day passing after the date so fixed for the completion of said work until said work is fully completed and ready for service.

15. This agreement shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of the respective parties hereto.

In Witness Whereof, Said party of the first part has caused this agreement to be signed by its President, and its corporate seal to be affixed hereto and attested by its Secretary, and the City of Chicago has caused this agreement to be signed by its Commissioner of Public Works, countersigned by its Comptroller and approved by its Mayor, the day and year first above written.

The mortar must be used immediately after mixing and no mortar which has once set shall be used.

Pavement.

A No. 2 granite pavement on a six-inch concrete foundation shall be placed on West 12th street from a point 50 feet west of west line of Holden street to the west end of the bridge over the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad tracks, except the central sixteen feet now occupied by the street car tracks.

Preparations of Sub-Grade.

The roadway shall be brought to sub-grade by cutting or filling as may be necessary. Said sub-grade shall be 13 inches below and parallel with the top of the finished pavement after having been thoroughly compacted and secured from further settlement by flooding, ramming, rolling, or other means.

The stone when delivered on the street shall be kept clean until used.

Mixing and Laying of Concrete.

The concrete shall be mixed on movable tight iron platforms of such size as shall accommodate the manipulations hereinafter specified.

The cement, sand and stone shall be mixed in the following proportions: One (1) part of cement, three (3) parts of sand and seven (7) parts of crushed stone. The sand and cement shall be thoroughly mixed dry, to which sufficient water shall be added and then made into a stiff mortar. The crushed stone shall then be immediately incorporated in the mortar and the mass thoroughly mixed, adding water from time to time as the mixing progresses, until each particle of stone is covered with mortar.

The concrete shall be removed from the platform with shovels and deposited in a layer on the roadway in such quantities that after being rammed in place it shall be of the required thickness and the upper surface shall be true and smooth and seven (7″) inches below and parallel with the top of the finished pavement.

During the progress of the work the sub-grade must be kept moist.

The concrete shall be sprinkled so as to prevent checking in hot weather, and shall be protected from injury at all times, and shall lay at least seven days before being covered with the wearing surface, or a longer time if deemed necessary.

Sand Cushion.

Upon the concrete foundation shall be spread a layer of sand in such quantity as to insure when compacted a uniform thickness of two (2") inches.

On surfacing said layer of sand guides and templets shall be used.

Granite Block.

Upon the sand cushion shall be set syenite or granite paving blocks having a uniform grain and texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or feldspar.

The blocks shall measure from three and one-half (3½") inches to four (4") inches in width, eight (8") to ten (10") inches in length and five (5") inches inches in depth, and be so dressed as to have subsbtantially rectangular, plane surfaces, so that when the blocks are in place the joints at the ends and sides shall average one-fourth (¼") inch in width. Soft or weather-worn stones obtained from the surface of the quarry, and stones which wear to a polish under traffic, shall not be used.

The blocks shall be laid in uniform courses across the roadway between the gutters (except at the intersections of the streets where they shall be laid at an angle of forty-five degrees with the center line thereof) and the space between the blocks, when in place, shall in no case be less than one-eighth (⅛") inch nor more than five-eighths (⅝") inch. Each course shall consist of blocks of the same width, and be so laid that all longitudinal joints shall be broken by a lap of at least three (3") inches.

The spaces shall be immediately filled to within two (2") inches of the top of the blocks with dry gravel free from loam and dirt, and the blocks rammed to a true surface and firm bed with a seventy-five (75) pound rammer of approved shape. No cracked or chipped blocks shall remain in the pavement.

After ramming the spaces between the blocks are to be completely filled with a paving pitch which is the direct result of the distillation of "straight run" coal tar, and of such quality and consistency as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The pitch must be used at a temperature of not less than 280 degrees Fahrenheit and be spread in such quantity so as to apply two (2) gallons to each square yard of pavement.

Immediately after the spreading of the paving pitch, and while it is still hot, the blocks shall be covered to a depth of not less than three-quarters (¾") inch with dry roofing gravel. This gravel must be entirely free from sand or loam, and not to exceed one-half (½") inch in size. All gravel must be clean, washed, dried, and heated enough to prevent the chilling of the pitch.

The tarring and top dressing must be completed each day to within five (5′) feet of the face of the blocking.

Headers.

At the end of each intersecting street and alley wing there shall be placed a "header" extending from curb to curb, and so dressed as to conform to the crown of the pavement. The "header" shall be constructed of three by twelve (3"x12") inch oak plank, properly supported by six (6") inch split cedar posts, three (3′) feet in length, firmly set in the ground and spaced not more than five (5′) feet apart.

Crosswalks.

There shall be formed in the pavement four (4) crosswalks at each street intersection, three (3) at each half intersection and one (1) across each and every alley wing and one (1) at the middle of each long block. The crosswalks shall consist of three (3) rows of granite flagstones spaced eighteen (18") inches apart. The flagstones shall be of the best quality of granite, free from sand pockets, drill holes, seams, or other defects, eighteen (18") inches wide, five (5") inches in thickness, and not less than three (3′) feet in length, except where shorter stones may be necessary to make closures, and shall be "bush-hammered" on top, and the sides and ends pitched and dressed to a line so as to make close joints. They shall be firmly bedded in sand and well rammed to a uniform surface.

A gutter nine (9") inches in the clear width shall be constructed at the end of the crosswalks by setting granite curbing in the roadway nine (9") inches from and parallel with the curb line. The granite curbing must be four (4") inches thick and twenty (20") deep, and the length of the curbing shall be within two (2′) feet of the width of the abutting sidewalk space; provided, however, that the minimum length of said curbing shall be six (6′) feet.

New Catch-Basins.

All catch-basins are to be circular in section and four feet in internal diameter. They are to be built of two rings of brick upon a floor of two-inch pine plank, closely jointed. The bricks in the inner ring (excepting the top and bottom header courses) are to be set vertically. The outer ring may be of bats as far as broken bricks on hand will go, otherwise whole bricks are to be used. The brick work shall be seven feet two inches deep; the top of the brick work shall be two feet in internal diameter, being drawn in by nine header courses, and an iron cover set thereon. The catch basins are to be connected to the sewer with nine-inch tile pipe and trapped with nine-inch half-traps, the bottom of the traps to be set three feet six inches above the floor of the basins.

The price bid per new catch-basin shall include the cost of the catch-basin complete, including the iron cover and not to exceed sixteen feet of the tile pipe.

Old Catch-Basins.

The covers of the catch-basins shall be taken off and the upper courses of the brickwork removed and the brickwork built up and cover set as follows: The covers of the catch-basins shall be taken off and the upper courses of the brickwork removed if they be defective or if it be necessary to set the covers at a lower grade; if it be necessary to raise the covers more than six inches the upper header courses shall be removed until the internal diameter of the brickwork shall be two feet and six inches and the catch-basins shall be built up with new brickwork to the proper grade and an iron cover set thereon, using the old cover if it be in a suitable condition. The catch-basins shall be cleaned out, and all open joints filled with fresh mortar. When necessary the new brickwork shall be drawn over to one side so that the cover shall occupy its proper position with reference to the curb. When the catch-basin is not located in the line of the gutter a nine-inch inlet pipe shall connect the catch-basin with a suitable inlet constructed next to the curb.

Covers.

The contractor shall set all covers to the correct grade in a bed of mortar on top of the brick work above specified.

All new covers shall be of a good grade of cast iron. The curb shall weigh not less than 350 pounds, and the lid, if of iron, shall weigh not less than 120 pounds, provided that if the catch-basins are to be built in the parkways lighter covers may be used, weighing not less than 140 pounds. The covers and iron lids shall be of the size and form of the iron covers and lids as shown on plans on file in the office of the Board of Local Improvements.

Masonry.

The bricks must be clean and thoroughly wet before being laid; the most perfectly formed bricks and those with the smoothest surfaces are to be used in the inside courses, the smoothest edge of the brick being laid to the face.

No joint shall exceed one-half of an inch in thickness, and all joints on face shall be trowel-struck.

Pipe Laying.

Each pipe is to be laid on a firm bed, and in perfect conformity with the line and levels given. The ends of the pipes are to abut close against each other in such a manner that there shall be no shoulder or want of uniformity of surface on the interior of the drain. The rings are to be placed centrally around the joints of the pipes. The joints between the rings and the pipes are to be as uniform as possible in thickness and thoroughly filled with mortar. Each joint is to be wiped clean of mortar on the inside before another length of pipe is laid.

Mortar.

The mortar shall be made by carefully measuring and thoroughly incorporating one part of natural cement with two parts of clean, sharp sand in dry state, and mixed with clean water to the proper consistency, and shall be used while fresh, and the use of mortar which has been set and then retempered will not be allowed. The mortar used in laying pipe sewers shall be of pure cement, mixed and used as above specified.

Bricks.

The bricks shall be of the best quality for the purpose for which they are intended, uniform in quality, sound and hard burned, free from lime and cracks, and to have a clear, ringing sound when struck, whole and with edges full and square, and of standard dimensions, viz.: 8x4x2¼ inches. They shall be of compact texture, and after being thoroughly dried and immersed in water for twenty-four hours shall not absorb more than fifteen (15) per cent in weight of water.

Pipe.

The pipe shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned and vitrified, well glazed, free from lumps or other imperfections, and with the least possible variation from the specified dimension or true cylindrical shape. All straight pipe must be straight in the direction of the axis of the cylinder, and the inner and outer surfaces of each pipe must be concentric. The thickness of the pipe shall be seven-eighths (⅞) of an inch, with a limit of variation either way not exceeding one-eighth (⅛) of an inch.

Back-Filling.

The earth must be carefully replaced around all man-holes and catch basins and over all tile pipe laid under this contract in such a manner that no further settlement will take place, and it must be thoroughly rammed with suitable rammers or puddled with water.

Draining Intersecting Streets.

Wherever the grade of the new pavement is such as to interfere with the drainage of intersecting streets into existing catch-basins, additional brick inlets shall be built at the outer edges of the new pavement and connected to the catch-basins with nine-inch tile.

Section 4. In the event that said Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company shall fail to begin the work of making said repairs in the manner provided by Section 3 of this ordinance after it is notified so to do by the Commissioner of Public Works, said Commissioner of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to immediately proceed to make the repairs provided for by Section 3 of this ordinance and the expense thereof shall be charged to and paid by the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company, and the amount so expended, unless paid by said company to said City of Chicago on demand, shall be recovered from said Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company by the City of Chicago in any proper action instituted therefor.

SECTION 5. In the event that said Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company shall fail to make said repairs in Section 3 provided for, and in consequence thereof the Commissioner of Public Works shall make said repairs as in Section 4 provided for, then and in such event said Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company shall pay to the City of Chicago as compensation for making said repairs, ten per cent (10%) of the amount so expended, which shall, unless paid by said Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company to said City of Chicago be recovered by said City of Chicago from said Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad Company in the manner and together with the amount so expended for said repairs in any action instituted therefor.

Two (2) catch basins, more or less.

Adjusting of one (1) catch basin, more or less.

Remarks.

There are two street car tracks on West 12th street. The present pavement consists of old granite blocks on a dirt foundation.

The quantities as shown may be increased or diminished and are inserted for the purpose of approximation only.

Granite block pavement shall be complete in place and must include removing the present blocks and bringing the sub-grade to grade.

Work on retaining walls must include removing the present retaining walls; sidewalks, and whatever excavation is necessary to put the new concrete wall, as shown by plans, on a solid clay foundation.

All water used in carrying out these specifications must be paid for in accordance with the city's water ordinances.

Detaining Wall — Alignment — Position and Grades.

Lines and grades will approximate the following: Base of wall will be placed about 4 feet above Chicago datum; top of wall on the north side of 12th street at the east end of the viaduct bridge over Stewart avenue will join with the floor of the bridge at an elevation of plus 26.0 and shall extend easterly on a descending gradient of about 3½ feet per 100 feet to a point 50 feet west of the west line of Holden street, at which point the elevation of the top of the wall will be plus 17.2.

Excavation.

The old curb wall shall be removed and the ground excavated in open trenches to the width and depth necessary for the proper construction of the retaining walls as shown on the plans.

The excavation shall not be unnecessarily advanced beyond the completed work. All surplus material not needed for backfilling shall be removed from the street as rapidly as excavated. The ditch must be kept dry by some approved means.

Maintenance of Service Connections.

During the progress of the work all water mains, water service pipes; fire plugs, or other water connections must be maintained; also all sewers, house drains, or other service connections; also all electric conduits which may be disturbed during the progress of the work and all of the water mains, water service pipes, fire plugs, or electric conduits, or other water connections such as sewers, house drains or other service connections must be left in a proper and serviceable condition, equal in efficiency to their condition before the commencement of the operations.

Back-Filling.

As soon as the frames are removed the retaining wall shall be backfilled, the material removed in excavating may be used in so far as necessary in the backfilling. The back-filling shall be distributed in layers not to exceed one foot in thickness and thoroughly tamped and consolidated so that the pavement shall be properly supported when placed thereon.

Material to Be Used in New Retaining Wall.

Stone: Stone shall be of the best quality of limestone broken so as not to measure more than 2 inches nor less than ½ inch in any dimension. Said stone shall be clean, dry, free from dust or dirt and shall be deposited upon platforms and kept clean until used.

Cement: The cement shall be an approved Portland cement. All cement shall be fully protected from the weather until used.

Sand: Sand shall be of the best grade of torpedo sand; clean, coarse and sharp and shall not contain over thirty per cent. of voids.

Mixing and Laying of Concrete.

Concrete shall be mixed on a suitable water-tight mixing board or by approved mixing machines in the following proportions: One (1) part cement; three (3) parts of sand and six (6) parts of broken stone by volume. Not over six inches of concrete shall be laid without thoroughly tamping until a film of water appears on the surface. The concrete shall not be dropped over 8 feet. No concrete shall be laid during freezing weather. No concrete or mortar shall be retempered. The walls shall be built in sections not less than 10 feet nor more than 30 feet in length and a one-quarter-inch joint shall be left between the sections. The section of the wall to conform to certain plans on file in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works and marked "Repairs of approaches to 12th street viaducts from Canal street east to west end of C. T. T. R. R. bridge." The framing shall be strong, straight and tight, and shall not bend or leak when the concrete is tamped. The concrete shall be left in the frames seven days before the removal of the framing to allow a perfect set. The rubble stone of the present retaining wall shall be allowed to be used in building the new concrete retaining wall. Provided, the stone is used in accordance with the following rules:

Rules.

1. Stone shall be placed approximately in horizontal layers.

2. Layers of stone shall be separated from each other by at least six inches of concrete.

3. Stones in each layer shall be separated from each other by at least six inches in every direction. The space between the stone being filled with concrete thoroughly rammed into place.

4. No stone in any layer shall be placed nearer than four inches to the finished face of the wall nor to the back of the wall.

5. No large stones shall be placed in the first layer (eighteen inches in thickness) of the retaining wall unless placed at a distance of at least four feet from the front of the toe.

6. No weathered stone shall be incorporated in the new wall.

7. All stone before being placed must be thoroughly cleaned by the use of wire brushes and thoroughly wetted.

8. No stone shall be placed above the line marked C. C. on the plans.

Curb.

The curb shall be a part of the retaining wall and flush with the roadway side of the retaining wall. The said curb shall be nine inches thick throughout, except at the upper face corner which is to be rounded to a radius of one and one-half inch, as shown on plans.

The top of said curb and the face of the said curb for a distance of eight inches from the top thereof shall be finished with a one-half inch coating of mortar and troweled to a smooth, even and glossy surface. Said coat of mortar shall be composed of one part of cement as described in these specifications and one part of clean torpedo sand as described in these specifications. The said curb shall be a part of said retaining wall.

Sidewalks.

A new wooden sidewalk shall be built on the north side of West 12th street, from the east end of bridge over Stewart avenue to a point 50 feet west of the west line of Holden street.

Sidewalk shall be built as shown on plans and herein more fully described.

Posts supporting cross timbers or floor beams shall be 8"x8" posts resting on 4"x12" hemlock plank 3' long, one post being required to support the outer end of each cross timber. Cross timbers or floor beams shall be 3"x14" and shall be spaced about 7½′ centers, one end to rest in a notch in the retaining wall and the other end to be let into the post and well spiked to the same. There shall be eight lines of joists 3″x6″ on approximately 22-inch centers. Sidewalk planking shall be 2″ thick, surfaced on top, laid close together with an incline of one inch in three feet and spiked with 20d nails in each plank to each joist.

Railing along the new sidewalks shall be built with 4″x4″ stanchions spiked to every post and floor beam; capped with a 3″x6″ hand rail dressed with top beveled and upper corners rounded. Two rail strips 2″x6″ shall be halved into the stanchions between the sidewalk and the hand rail. Lumber for railing shall be surfaced on four sides. All lumber for the sidewalks shall be of the best quality common yellow pine lumber (except where hemlock is specified) live and sound; free from wind shakes, loose or decayed knots, worm holes or other defects.

Curb Wall Repairs.

The back of the wall shall be cleaned by wire brushing and plastered at least one-half inch thick with mortar composed of one (1) part of Portland cement and two (2) parts of clean, coarse, sharp sand. The sand and cement to be first thoroughly mixed dry and then sufficiently moistened with water to form a thick mortar. The mortar must be used immediately after mixing and no mortar which has one set shall be used.

Pavement.

A No. 2 granite pavement on a six-inch concrete foundation shall be placed on West 12th street from the east curb line of Canal street to a point 50 feet west of the west line of Holden street, except the central sixteen feet now occupied by the street car tracks.

Preparation of Sub-Grade.

The roadway shall be brought to sub-grade by cutting or filling as may be necessary. Said sub-grade shall be 13 inches below and parallel with the top of the finished pavement after having been thoroughly compacted and secured from further settlement by flooding, ramming, rolling, or other means.

Concrete Foundation for Pavement.

On the sub-grade as prepared shall be laid a foundation of Portland cement concrete to a uniform thickness of six inches.

Cement and Sand: The cement and sand used for foundation purposes shall be of the same quality and subject to the same tests as the cement and sand specified for use in the retaining wall.

Stone: The crushed stone used in making the concrete shall be of the best quality of limestone free from dust and dirt; broken so as not to measure more than 2 inches nor less than 1 inch in any dimension.

The stone when delivered on the street shall be kept clean until used.

Mixing and Laying of Concrete.

The concrete shall be mixed on movable tight iron platforms of such size as shall accommodate the manipulations hereinafter specified.

The cement, sand and stone shall be mixed in the following proportions: One (1) part of cement, three (3) parts of sand and seven (7) parts of crushed stone. The sand and cement shall be thoroughly mixed dry, to which sufficient water shall be added and then made into a stiff mortar. The crushed stone shall then be immediately incorporated in the mortar and the mass thoroughly mixed, adding water from time to time as the mixing progresses, until each particle of stone is covered with mortar.

The concrete shall be removed from the platform with shovels and deposited in a layer on the roadway in such quantities that after being rammed in place it shall be of the required thickness and the upper surface shall be true and smooth and seven (7″) inches below and parallel with the top of the finished pavement.

During the progress of the work the sub-grade must be kept moist.

The concrete shall be sprinkled so as to prevent checking in hot weather, and shall be protected from injury at all times, and shall lay at least seven days before being covered with the wearing surface, or a longer time if deemed necessary.

Sand Cushion.

Upon the concrete foundation shall be spread a layer of sand in such quantity as to insure when compacted a uniform thickness of two (2") inches.

On surfacing said layer of sand guides and templets shall be used.

Granite Block.

Upon the sand cushion shall be set syenite or granite paving blocks having a uniform grain and texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or feldspar.

The blocks shall measure from three and one-half (3½") to four (4") inches in width, eight (8") to ten (10") inches in length and five (5") inches in depth, and be so dressed as to have substantially rectangular, plane surfaces, so that when the blocks are in place the joints at the ends and sides shall average one-fourth (¼") inch in width. Soft or weather-worn stones, obtained from the surface of the quarry, and stones which wear to a polish under traffic, shall not be used.

The blocks shall be laid in uniform courses across the roadway between the gutters (except at the intersections of the streets where they shall be laid at an angle of forty-five degrees with the center line thereof) and the space between the blocks, when in place, shall in no case be less than one-eighth (⅛") inch nor more than five-eighths (⅝") inch. Each course shall consist of blocks of the same width, and be so laid that all longitudinal joints shall be broken by a lap of at least three (3") inches.

The spaces shall be immediately filled to within two (2") inches of the top of the blocks with dry gravel free from loam and dirt, and the blocks rammed to a true surface and firm bed with a seventy-five (75) pound rammer of approved shape. No cracked or chipped blocks shall remain in the pavement.

After ramming the spaces between the blocks are to be completely filled with a paving pitch which is the direct result of the distillation of "straight run" coal tar, and of such quality and consistency as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The pitch must be used at a temperature of not less than 280 degrees Fahrenheit and be spread in such quantity so as to apply two (2) gallons to each square yard of pavement.

Immediately after the spreading of the paving pitch, and while it is still hot, the blocks shall be covered to a depth of not less than three-quarters (¾") inch with dry roofing gravel. This gravel must be entirely free from sand or loam, and not to exceed one-half (½") inch in size. All gravel must be clean, washed, dried and heated enough to prevent the chilling of the pitch.

The tarring and top dressing must be completed each day to within five (5′) feet of the face of the blocking.

Headers.

At the end of each intersecting street and alley wing there shall be placed a "header" extending from curb to curb, and so dressed as to conform to the crown of the pavement. The "header" shall be constructed of three by twelve (3"x12") inch oak plank, properly supported by six (6") inch split cedar posts, three (3′) feet in length, firmly set in the ground and spaced not more than five (5′) feet apart.

Crosswalks.

There shall be formed in the pavement four (4) crosswalks at each street intersection, three (3) at each half intersection and one (1) across each and every alley wing and one (1) at the middle of each long block. The crosswalks shall consist of three (3) rows of granite flagstones spaced eighteen (18") inches apart. The flagstones shall be of the best quality of granite, free from sand pockets, drill holes, seams, or other defects, eighteen (18") inches wide, five (5") inches in thickness, and not less than three (3') feet in length, except where shorter stones may be necessary to make closures and shall be "bush-hamered" on top, and the sides and ends pitched and dressed to a line so as to make close joints. They shall be firmly bedded in sand and well rammed to a uniform surface.

A gutter nine (9") inches in the clear width shall be constructed at the ends of the crosswalks by setting granite curbing in the roadway nine (9") inches from and parallel with the curb line. The granite curbing must be four (4") inches thick and twenty (20") inches deep, and the length of the curbing shall be within two (2') feet of the width of the abutting sidewalk space; provided, however, that the minimum length of said curbing shall be six (6') feet.

New Catch Basins.

All catch basins are to be circular in section and four feet in internal diameter. They are to be built of two rings of brick upon a floor of two-inch pine plank, closely jointed. The bricks in the inner ring (excepting the top and bottom header courses) are to be set vertically. The outer ring may be of bats as far as broken bricks on hand will go, otherwise whole bricks are to be used. The brick work shall be seven feet two inches deep; the top of the brick work shall be two feet in internal diameter, being drawn in by nine header courses, and an iron cover set thereon. The catch basins are to be connected to the sewer with nine-inch tile pipe and trapped with nine-inch half-traps, the bottom of the traps to be set three feet six inches above the floor of the basins.

The price bid per new catch basin shall include the cost of the catch basin complete, including the iron cover and not to exceed sixteen feet of the tile pipe.

Old Catch Basins.

The covers of the catch basins shall be taken off and the upper courses of the brickwork removed and the brickwork built up and cover set as follows: The covers of the catch basins shall be taken off and the upper courses of the brickwork removed if they be defective or if it be necessary to set the covers at a lower grade; if it be necesary to raise the covers more than six inches the upper header courses shall be removed until the internal diameter of the brickwork shall be two feet and six inches and the catch basins shall be built up with new brickwork to the proper grade and an iron cover set thereon, using the old cover if it be in a suitable condition. The catch basins shall be cleaned out, and all open joints filled with fresh mortar. When necessary the new brickwork shall be drawn over to one side so that the cover shall occupy its proper position with reference to the curb. When the catch basin is not located in the line of the gutter a nine-inch inlet pipe shall connect the catch basin with a suitable inlet constructed next to the curb.

Covers.

The contractor shall set all covers to the correct grade in a bed of mortar on top of the brick work above specified.

All new covers shall be of a good grade of cast-iron. The curb shall weigh not less than 350 pounds, and the lid, if of iron, shall weigh not less than 120 pounds, provided that if the catch-basins are to be built in the parkways lighter covers may be used, weighing not less than 140 pounds. The covers and iron lids shall be of the size and form of the iron covers and lids as shown on plans on file in the office of the Board of Local Improvements.

Masonry.

The brick must be clean and thoroughly wet before being laid; the most perfectly formed bricks and those with the smoothest surfaces are to be used in the inside courses, the smoothest edge of the brick being laid to the face.

No joint shall exceed one-half of an inch in thickness, and all joints on face shall be trowel-struck.

Pipe Laying.

Each pipe is to be laid on a firm bed, and in perfect conformity with the line and levels given. The ends of the pipes are to abut close against each other in such a manner that there shall be no shoulder or want of uniformity of surface on the interior of the drain. The rings are to be placed centrally around the joints of the pipes. The joints between the rings and the pipes are to be as uniform as possible in thickness and thoroughly filled with mortar. Each joint is to be wiped clean of mortar on the inside before another length of pipe is laid.

Mortar.

The mortar shall be made by carefully measuring and thoroughly incorporating one part of natural cement with two parts of clean, sharp sand in dry state, and mixed with clean water to the proper consistency, and shall be used while fresh, and the use of mortar which has been set and then retempered will not be allowed. The mortar used in laying pipe sewers shall be of pure cement, mixed and used as above specified.

Bricks.

The bricks shall be of the best quality for the purpose for which they are intended, uniform in quality, sound and hard-burned, free from lime and cracks, and to have a clear, ringing sound when struck, whole and with edges full and square, and of standard dimensions, viz.: 8x4x2¼ inches. They shall be of compact textures, and after being thoroughly dried and immersed in water for twenty-four hours shall not absorb more than fifteen (15) per cent in weight of water.

Pipe.

The pipe shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned and vitrified, well glazed, free from lumps or other imperfections, and with the least possible variation from the specified dimension or true cylindrical shape. All straight pipe must be straight in the direction of the axis of the cylinder, and the inner and outer surfaces of each pipe must be concentric. The thickness of the pipe shall be seven-eighths (⅞") of an inch, with a limit of variation either way not exceeding one-eighth (⅛") of an inch.

Back-Filling.

The earth must be carefully replaced around all man-holes and catch basins and over all tile pipe laid under this contract in such a manner that no further settlement will take place, and it must be thoroughly rammed with suitable rammers or puddled with water.

Draining Intersecting Streets.

Wherever the grade of the new pavement is such as to interfere with the drainage of intersecting streets into existing catch-basins, additional brick inlets shall be built at the outer edges of the new pavement and connected to the catch-basins with nine-inch tile.

SECTION 4. In the event that said Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, said Chicago Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, the said Chicago and Alton Railroad Company and Crane Company shall fail to begin the work of making said repairs in the manner provided by Section 3 of this ordinance after they are notified so to do by the Commissioner of Public Works, said Commissioner of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to immediately proceed to make the repairs provided for by Section 3 of this ordinance, and the expense thereof shall be charged to and paid by the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company and Crane Company, one-seventh (1-7) thereof being charged to said Crane Company, two-sevenths (2-7) thereof being charged to said Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, two-sevenths (2-7) thereof being charged to said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company and two-sevenths (2-7) thereof to said Chicago & Alton Railroad Company, and the amount so expended, unless paid by said companies to said City of Chicago on demand, shall be recovered from said Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, said Chicago and Alton Railroad Company and said Crane Company by the City of Chicago in any proper action instituted therefor.

SECTION 5. In the event that said Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, said Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, said Chicago & Alton Railroad Company and said Crane Company shall fail to make said repairs in Section 3 provided for, and in consequence thereof the Commissioner of Public Works shall make said repairs as in Section 4 provided for, then and in such event said Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, said Chicago and Alton Railroad Company and said Crane Company shall pay to the City of Chicago as compensation for making said repairs, ten per cent. (10%) of the amount so expended, which shall, unless paid by said Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, said Chicago and Alton Railroad Company and said Crane Company to said City of Chicago be recovered by said City of Chicago from said Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, said Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, said Chicago and Alton Railroad Company and said Crane Company in the manner and together with the amount so expended for said repairs in any action instituted therefor.

SECTION 6. This ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after its passage and approval.

CORPORATION COUNSEL.

The Clerk presented the following opinion submitted by the Corporation Counsel, which was ordered printed in the Journal and referred to the Committee on Compensation:

OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL,
CHICAGO, May 17, 1909.

In re approval of plat as acceptance of dedication.

To the Honorable City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—An order was introduced in the City Council by Hon. Albert J. Fisher, Alderman of the Thirty-second Ward, on February 8, 1909, directing the Corporation Counsel to report his opinion "if the approval and acceptance of a plat for record by the City does not of itself constitute a legal acceptance by the City of all the streets and alleys dedicated in such platted subdivision." This order was subsequently referred to the Judiciary Committee which joined in the request for an opinion by this office.

Power is given to a City Council of a city to provide by ordinance that the plat of any land within the corporate limits of such city shall be first submitted to some officer to be designated by such council for his approval; and until it has been so submitted and approved, it shall not be entitled to record, or have any validity.

Revised Statutes, Chap. 24, Art. 10, Sec. 5.

The City Council, by ordinance, makes it the duty of the Examiner of Subdivisions to examine all plats and maps of subdivisions of land in the city upon presentation to him, and if he approves of the same to so certify.

Municipal Code of 1905, Sec. 1888.

I presume this is the approval "by the city" you refer to and I therefore construe your inquiry to be "whether the approval of a plat by the Examiner of Subdivisions does not by itself constitute a legal acceptance of all the streets and alleys dedicated."

There are two kinds of dedications—common law and statutory. Your query relates to a statutory dedication alone as the question of approval of plat does not enter into common law dedication.

Acceptance of a plat may be shown in a variety of ways, such as by opening for public travel, by the making of improvements, etc., an ordinance being the highest form of acceptance.

A statutory dedication can only be made by the making, certifying, acknowledging and filing of a plat with the approval of the city; in other words, by strict compliance with the terms and provisions of the statute.

Revised Statutes, Chap. 109, Secs. 1 to 5.

The act of the dedicator amounts only to an offer, and such offer is not complete until accepted by the public.

The act of the municipal authorities in approving a plat submitted is one of the necessary elements of the offer of dedication itself.

There can be no statutory offer of dedication until after such approval and subsequent filing for record of a plat. Therefore, the approval of a plat, being a necessary element of the offer, cannot at the same time serve as an acceptance. In other words, there can not be an acceptance until a complete offer is made.

Our Supreme Court has held that the mere acceptance of a plat by the municipal authorities . . . was not an acceptance of a dedication of the streets shown upon such plat.

Russell v. C. & M. El. Ry. Co., 205 Ill., 166, citing

Littler v. City of Lincoln;

Jordan v. City of Chenoa.

In an Appellate Court case, upholding the issuance of a writ of mandamus to compel the village board to approve a plat which was in conformity to and corresponded with existing blocks, lots, streets, alleys, etc., the court say:

"Within the language of the statute, it is the plat and nothing more that is to be submitted for approval. The land belonged to the dedicator; his right to subdivide and plat is a substantial right sanctioned and regulated by chapter 109, but it was given to the village board to see that the plat was made in compliance with the statute and in conformity with any reasonable regulations or requirement by ordinance respecting the size of the blocks and lots, the direction and width of the streets and alleys, or other detail of the survey. In our opinion, this is the extent to which discretion was given the board. . . . It is argued that by approval of the plat the village thereby accepts the donation and assumes control of the streets with the attendant obligation to improve and maintain them as public thoroughfares. This position is clearly untenable."

People v. Board of Trustees of Village of Mounds, 122 App., 452.

Before the rendition of the decisions in either of the above cases, this office in an opinion says:

"The approval of the plat by the Examiner of Subdivisions is not an acceptance by the city of streets and alleys shown thereon. . . . It is obvious that the object of such approval is to secure uniformity of city streets in subdivisions, and the mere approval of a plat by a city official does not impose upon the municipality the duty and responsibility of improving and maintaining the streets and alleys in such subdivision; and such streets do not become by the mere approval of a plat by such city officer, public streets."

Opinions of Corporation Counsel, Tolman's Ed., p. 645.

I am therefore of the opinion that the approval by the Examiner of Subdivisions of a plat cannot be regarded or construed as an acceptance on behalf of the city of the streets and alleys dedicated in such plat.

Yours very truly,

ADOLPH FRANK,

Assistant Corporation Counsel.

Approved:

EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE,

Corporation Counsel.

D. 1898, relating to the corrected elevation of the Old Lind Block bench mark, which determines the base or datum for city levels.

The said roadway of said West North avenue, from the east line of North Central Park avenue produced north to the west line of North 48th avenue produced north, and also the roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said West North avenue between said points (except the subway under the right of way of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, and except that part of West North avenue from a line parallel with and thirty-five (35) feet west of the east line of the right of way of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway produced south to a line parallel with and three hundred thirty (330) feet west of the east line of the right of way of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway produced south, and except that part of the intersections of North Ridgeway avenue and North 48th avenue from the south curb line to the south line of West North avenue, and except that part of the intersections of North 40th court, north 41st avenue and North 41st court from the north curb line to the north line of West North avenue, and also except street railway rights of way thereon between said points, which rights of way are by the ordinances granting them required to be paved and kept in repair by the companies owning, operating and controlling the same), shall be so graded that after being thoroughly puddled, and rolled with a roller of ten (10) tons weight until the roadbeds are thoroughly compacted, and after the pavement hereinafter described shall have been placed thereon, the surface of the pavement at the center of the finished roadway of said West North avenue, and the center of the finished roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced, on each side of said West North avenue, except where the roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way, shall coincide with the established grade of said West North avenue, hereinbefore described, and where said roadways are occupied by street railway rights-of-way the entire width of all such rights-of-way shall coincide with the established grade hereinbefore described, and the surface of the finished roadways at the summits in the gutters between catch-basins and sixteen (16) inches from the roadway face of said curbstones, cement curb and curb walls shall be four (4) inches below said established grade, and the surface of the finished roadways at the catch-basin inlets in the gutters sixteen (16) inches from the roadway face of said curbstones, cement curb and curb walls shall be twelve (12) inches below said established grade.

The slope of the gutters along a line parallel with and sixteen (16) inches from the roadway face of said curbstones cement curb and curb walls on each side of said West North avenue, and on each side of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced, on each side of said West North avenue, shall be uniform from the summits to the catch-basins; and the surface of the finished roadway adjoining the roadway face of said surbstones, cement curb and curb walls shall be parallel with and three (3) inches above the grade of the gutters hereinbefore described, and shall slope thence at a uniform rate to said line parallel with and sixteen (16) inches from the roadway face of said curbstones, cement curb and curb walls; and a transverse section of said finished roadway between the said lines parallel with and sixteen (16) inches from the roadway face of said curbstones, cement curb and curb walls, where the same is not occupied by street railway rights of way, shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the grade of the center of said finished roadway, and a transverse section of said finished roadway where the same is occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the established grade of the street at each side of said street railway rights of way at every part of said West North avenue, and at every part of all intersecting streets, between said points, and between said lines parallel with and sixteen (16) inches from the roadway face of said curbstones, cement curb and curb walls.

Upon the roadbeds thus prepared between said points shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six (6) inches in thickness. Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two (92) per cent will pass through a standard number one hundred (100) sieve having ten thousand (10,000) meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one (1) part said Portland cement and three (3) parts torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, exposed to the air for one (1) day, and immersed in water for six (6) days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of two hundred (200) pounds per square inch.

One (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements, and three (3) parts of torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, shall be thoroughly mixed dry and then made into a mortar with the least possible amount of water.

Six (6) parts of the best quality of slag, limestone, or other stone which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half (½) inch internal diameter all of which slag or stone shall be thoroughly cleaned free from all foreign substances and drenched with water shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar. Each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbeds and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface and upon this foundation shall be evenly spread a layer of sand in such quantity as to insure when compacted a depth of two (2) inches upon which shall be laid the brick pavement.

The brick to be used shall be of the best quality of vitrified paving brick. The dimensions of said brick shall be the same throughout the entire work and shall be four (4) inches in depth, not less than eight (8) inches in length and three and one-fourth (3¼) inches in thickness, with edges rounded to a radius of one-fourth (¼) of an inch.

Said brick shall be of a kind known as repressed, vitrified paving brick, and shall be repressed to the extent that the maximum amount of material is forced into them. They shall be free from lime and other impurities, shall be as nearly uniform in every respect as possible, shall be burned so as to secure the maximum hardness, so annealed as to reach the ultimate degree of toughness and vitrified so as to make a homogeneous mass.

The brick shall be free from laminations and fire cracks, or checks of more than superficial character or extent.

Twenty (20) or more of said brick shall be furnished to the Board of Local Improvements for submission to the "abrasion" test. Said test shall be made in the machine known as the "Rattler," which shall measure twenty (20) inches in length and twenty-eight (28) inches in diameter, inside measurements. The charge shall be composed of said brick and iron abrasive material. The brick charge shall consist of that number of whole brick whose combined volume most nearly amounts to eight (8) per cent of the volume of the rattling chamber, and the abrasive charge shall consist of three hundred (300) pounds of shot made of ordinary machinery cast-iron. Said shot shall consist of cubical pieces having sides of one and one-half (1½) inches, aggregating two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds in weight, and pieces two and one-half (2½) inches square and four and one-half (4½) inches in length, aggregating seventy-five (75) pounds in weight. The rattler after being thus charged shall be revolved eighteen hundred (1,800) times, and the speed of rotation shall not fall below twenty-eight (28), nor exceed thirty (30) per minute. The loss of weight by abrasion during such test shall not exceed eighteen (18) per cent of the original weight of the brick tested. All brick used must be equal in every respect to the brick submitted for test.

The brick shall be laid as follows, to wit: Broken brick can only be used to break joints in starting courses and in making closures, but in no case shall less than one-fourth (¼) of a brick be used. The brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the ends close together, across said roadbeds, parallel to vertical planes which shall be at right angles to the curb lines of said roadways, except the space sixteen (16) inches in width adjoining the roadway face of said curbstones, cement curb and curb walls, where said brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the ends close together, parallel with said curbstones, cement curb and curb walls. On roadway intersections the brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the ends close together, and parallel to vertical planes which shall be at an angle of forty-five (45) degrees with the center line of the streets. The spaces between the sides of the brick shall be not less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch nor more than one-fourth (¼) of an inch in width. The joints shall be broken by a lap of not less than three (3) inches. The brick when set shall be rolled with a roller of five (5) tons weight until the brick is well settled and made firm. When the brick is thoroughy bedded, the surface of the pavement must be true to the form of roadway hereinbefore described.

The joints or spaces between the brick shall be filled with asphaltic filler at a temperature of between three hundred and fifty (350) and four hundred and fifty (450) degrees Fahrenheit. Said filler shall have a specific gravity at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit of not more than unity (1.0) and shall be of such consistency as to have a penetration at thirty-two (32) degrees Fahrenheit of not less than two (2) millimeters when tested with a number two (2) needle weighted with two hundred (200) grams for one (1) minute. At one hundred and fifteen (115) degrees Fahrenheit, said filler shall have a penetration of not more than eight (8) millimeters when tested with a number two (2) needle weighted with fifty (50) grams for five (5) seconds, and it shall melt at two hundred and fifty (250) degrees Fahrenheit. The surface of the pavement shall then receive a one-half (½) inch dressing of clean, coarse sand.

Ten new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected and trapped with the sewer in West North avenue and located in the roadway of said West North avenue at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines. Each of said catch-basins shall be seven feet two inches deep, measuring from the top of the brickwork, and shall have an internal diameter of four feet at the bottom and to a plane five feet above and parallel therewith. The walls of said catch-basins shall be eight inches thick and shall be built of two courses of sewer brick laid edgewise in perpendicular courses, upon a floor of pine plank two inches in thickness. The top of each of said catch-basins shall decrease to two feet internal diameter, being drawn in by means of nine header courses, the diameter being decreased uniformly for each course.

Each of said catch-basins shall be connected with the sewer with tile pipe of nine inches internal diameter and shall be trapped with a half trap also of tile pipe of nine inches internal diameter. The connection with the sewer where said sewer is of brick shall be made in such a manner that the top of the nine-inch pipe shall be at the elevation of the center of said sewer, and the connection with the sewer where said sewer is of tile pipe shall be made by means of a fifteen inches by nine inches "Y" branch where said sewer is of fifteen inches internal diameter, and by means of a twelve inches by nine inches "Y" branch where said sewer is of twelve inches internal diameter. The said trap of each of said catch-basins shall be set so that the elevation of the bottom of the inside of the same shall be three feet six inches above the floor of the catch-basin.

Each of said catch-basins shall be provided with a cast-iron cover, with a projecting lip to receive the water from the gutters, each of which covers shall weigh four hundred and seventy pounds and shall be of the same size and pattern as those used in similar new work by the City of Chicago during the year 1902. Each of said cast-iron covers shall be set so that the top of the same shall coincide with the finished surface of the pavement hereinbefore described.

The tile pipe specified above shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned, well glazed, and free from lumps and other imperfections, and the standard of thickness shall be as follows: for nine inch pipe seven-eighths of an inch in thickness; for twelve inch pipe one inch in thickness; for fifteen inch pipe one and one-eighth inches in thickness.

All brick and the joints of the tile pipe above referred to shall be laid with the best quality of natural hydraulic cement mortar, composed of one part natural hydraulic cement and two parts clean, sharp sand.

The several manholes and catch-basins located along the line of said improvement shall be raised or lowered as may be necessary to make them conform to the finished roadway of said West North avenue as above specified.

Said work to be done in a workmanlike manner under the superintendence of the Board of Local Improvements of the said City of Chicago.

SECTION 2. That the recommendation of the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Chicago, providing for said improvement, together with the estimate of the cost thereof made by the Engineer of said Board, both hereto attached be and the same are hereby approved.

SECTION 3. That said improvement shall be made and the whole cost thereof be paid for by special assessment in accordance with an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, entitled "An Act Concerning Local Improvements," approved June 14th, A. D., 1897, and the amendments thereto.

SECTION 4. That the aggregate amount herein ordered to be assessed against the property, and also the assessment on each lot and parcel of land therein assessed shall be divided into five installments in the manner provided by the statute in such cases made and provided, and each of said installments shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum according to law until paid.

SECTION 5. And for the purpose of anticipating the collection of the second and succeeding installments of said assessment for said improvement, bonds shall be issued payable out of said installments bearing interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable annually and signed by the Mayor and by the President of the Board of Local Improvements, countersigned by the City Comptroller and attested by the City Clerk under the corporate seal of the City of Chicago. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with and shall in all respects conform to the provisions of the Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, entitled, "An Act Concerning Local Improvements," approved June 14th, A. D., 1897, and the amendments thereto.

SECTION 6. That the Attorney of said Board be and he is hereby directed to file a petition in the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, in the name of the City of Chicago, praying that steps may be taken to levy a special assessment for said improvement in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and in the manner prescribed by law.

SECTION 7. That all ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 8. This ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage.

Ordered, That on the payment of seventy-five hundred ($7,500) dollars by said Joseph Hanreddy to the City of Chicago, the Mayor and City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to execute a release to the said Joseph Hanreddy in such form as may be prepared by the Corporation Counsel, acknowledging the acceptance of said sum as an equivalent for the complete performance of the contract of June 9, 1906, between said Hanreddy and the City of Chicago for the repairing and resurfacing with asphalt of the roadway of Wabash avenue, from the south line of Twelfth street to the north line of Twenty-second street, and for the maintenance of said surface in good condition until the 24th day of June, 1911, and acknowledging his acquittance from any further liability under said contract, and that upon the payment of said sum said Hanreddy shall also be entitled to payment of any unpaid reserve vouchers which he may hold, previously delivered to him under said contract.

HARBORS, WHARVES AND BRIDGES.

The Committee on Harbors, Wharves and Bridges submitted a report recommending the passage of a resolution submitted therewith, authorizing and requesting the Mayor to ask the War Department of the United States Government to revoke the permit issued to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company for the construction of three piers in Lake Michigan immediately north of the mouth of the Chicago River.

Unanimous consent was given for the immediate consideration of the said report.

Ald. Foell moved to concur in the report and to adopt the said resolution therewith submitted.

The motion prevailed, and the said resolution was thereby adopted.

The following is the said resolution:

WHEREAS, The report of the Chicago Harbor Commission, as submitted to the City Council of the City of Chicago on March 1st, 1909, recommends urgently, the immediate construction of piers and other harbor facilities on the lake front between the mouth of the Chicago River and Chicago avenue; and

WHEREAS, The Council Committee on Harbors, Wharves and Bridges, to whom that report was referred, and the Special Harbor Commissioner appointed by His Honor, the Mayor, in pursuance thereof, are now actually engaged in necessary preliminary work in connection with the carrying out of the recommendations of the Harbor Commission in the immediate future; and

WHEREAS, The best interests of the City of Chicago at this time imperatively demand that no rights be granted to any person, firm or corporation, the assertion of which would in any way hamper, embarrass or delay the City in carrying out the policies which are now being formulated for comprehensive harbor developments; and

WHEREAS, The War Department of the United States Government on the 26th day of February, 1909 (four days before the Harbor Commission's report was transmitted to the City Council) in disregard of the request of the authorities of the City of Chicago that the granting of a permit be held in abeyance until the City had determined on its harbor plans, issued to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company (a corporation organized by special act of the Illinois Legislature in 1857, claiming the right under its charter to construct piers and wharves on the submerged lands of Lake Michigan), a permit to construct three (3) piers immediately north of the mouth of the Chicago River, each projecting into the lake a distance of twenty-five hundred (2,500) feet; and

WHEREAS, It is highly improbable that the Federal authorities would grant a permit to the City of Chicago for harbor development at the same location, should application be made therefor, so long as the permit to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company is outstanding; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That His Honor, the Mayor, be and he is hereby authorized and respectfully requested to ask the War Department of the United States Government to revoke said permit to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company in order that the City of Chicago may in no wise be hindered in carrying out fully and promptly the harbor plans and policies now being formulated, as soon as they can be definitely determined.

2420. Water Service Pipes, Where Part of Building Is Under Meter Control.) In no case shall the Commissioner of Public Works permit any building, structure, or premises, or any portion of any building, structure or premises, the water supply of which is controlled by meter, to have any pipe, connected with the water works system, entering such building, structure or premises or any portion thereof so controlled by meter, which is not connected with the meter controlling the water supply to such building, structure or premises or any portion thereof.

If it shall be found that any building, structure or premises, or any portion of the same, required by the ordinances of the City of Chicago to have the water supply under meter control, the owner, agent or person in possession, charge or control thereof shall be notified by the Commissioner of Public Works to bring such building, structure, or premises, or any part thereof, under meter control within ten days from the date of such notice, and upon failure of such owner, agent or person in possession, charge or control to comply with the requirements of said notice, the supply of water to such building, structure, or premises shall be shut off and stopped forthwith and any amount which was or may have been paid for water for the current period shall be forfeited to the city. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

Each wash-stand in any such lodging house shall be equipped with self-closing faucets.

The provisions of this proviso as to lodging houses shall apply only to that portion of any building, structure or premises which is used directly for lodging house purposes, and shall not be held to apply to any other enterprise or any other room or part of any building, structure, or premises not used for such purposes.

The Committee on City Hall and Public Buildings submitted the following report:

CHICAGO, May 24, 1909.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your Committee on City Hall and Public Buildings, beg leave to submit a report of the progress being made in the construction of the new City Hall, and respectfully request that the report be published.

Respectfully submitted,

The following is the said general report:

May 24, 1909.

GENERAL REPORT ON THE PROGRESS OF THE WORK, CHICAGO CITY HALL.

Since your Committee's last report of Feb. 1st, 1909, W. J. Newman, the contractor for Wrecking, Excavation and Caissons has completed his contract.

The final completion and acceptance of his contract being on April 15th, 1909. Mr. Newman's contract time started Aug. 11th, 1908, and he had 260 days to complete his contract, which would make the date of completion, April 27th, 1909. He finished his contract 12 days ahead of time, or April 15th, as above stated. Mr. Newman's contract amounted to $328,725. The contract called for 112 caissons going to rock to be of an average depth of 116 feet no inches below inside grade, making a total of 12,992 lineal feet of caissons. The actual depth of the caissons was 12,750 lineal feet or a difference of 242 feet less than called for in the contract. The contract also stipulates that for any additional depth over or if actual depth was under 116 feet no inches in depth, Mr. Newman was to get an extra of $10.00 per lineal foot per caisson or to give the City of Chicago a credit of $10.00 per lineal foot per caisson as the case might be; in consequence, the City received a credit of $2,420.00. The credits and extra being considered Mr. Newman's contract amounted to $326,305.00. There were 8 certificates issued up to and including April 16, 1909, making a total payment of $277,359.25, being 85 per cent of his contract; $48,945.75 or 15 per cent being held for 30 days according to contract.

The 112 caissons going to rock were of the following depths below inside grade:

The 12 caissons going to hard pan went to an average depth of 75 feet or approved hard pan.

There were 15,410 yards of concrete used in filling these caissons. There was a total of 35,715 yards of dirt removed from the caissons and general excavation.

The average number of men that were working during the last part of Mr. Newman's contract were 375 a day.

The Noel Construction Co., the general contractors for the superstructure, took possession of the building site on April 15th, 1909, and began operations at once on their part of the contract. They started to drive their sheet piling on April 20th along the curb walls, bracing same with whaling pieces, struts and drums with jack screws. This has required 85,000 feet of lumber to date. The piling together with the bracing has been installed along Washington street, La Salle street and on the west half of the site on Randolph street. The excavation for curb walls was started April 16th and has been done as fast as the sheet piling has been driven, and when the piling reached the desired depth of 15 feet below the sidewalk level and well braced, the excavation of curb wall trenches was done.

The contractors are excavating over the sub-basement portion for the large basement girders and are clearing the space under the girders so as to start the sub-basement excavations as soon as sufficient steel is set to allow same. All the excavation material of every description is being disposed of through two connections to the Illinois Tunnel Company's tunnels; one connection being located on Randolph street near the County building, and the other on Washington street near La Salle street.

There have been 4,600 yards of earth excavation removed and disposed of through the tunnels to date. There have been 480 yards of grouting around grillage beams and cast stools used. This grouting is composed of cement and granite screenings. The grillage is composed of 2 layers of I-beams bolted together, placed on the concrete caissons.

The tops of the caissons are first cleaned out and concrete washed; then the lower course of grillage beams are set in place, leveled up and grouting is then poured in around same and puddled; this grout is allowed to set and the second course is then set and grouted in a similar manner; this forms a steel and granite cap on the top of the concrete caissons, ready to receive the cast iron bases of the columns.

These cast bases are then set and and grouted in a similar manner as the grillage and when completed are ready for the steel columns.

There have been two shifts of men working, one day gang of 200 men and a smaller night gang since the work started. The concrete mixer and material hoist was erected on La Salle street near the center of the building, with cement shed, stone and screening bins in connection, together with the driveways and construction offices.

The forms for the concrete curb walls are in place around Washington street and on the south half of La Salle street. The curb wall is concreted up to the underside of sidewalk beams on Washington street ready for the steel work.

On La Salle street from about the center of the building, south to Washington street, concrete work is about completed; 600 yards of concrete have been placed in these sections of the curb walls.

The west wall of the County building is being cut out at the different floor levels, removing the concrete and brickwork, and getting ready for the girder and beam connections which come on these party wall columns.

The structural steel work has been started and is well under way. There have been 42 shipments of structural steel, comprising 92 cars received at the storage yard. This material was fabricated at the Ambridge, Pa., plant of the American Bridge Co. All the steel work for the City Hall except the vault story girders and trusses is being made at this plant. The manufactured material is shipped from Ambridge to Kensington, Ill., where it is unloaded and sorted, being distributed into lots, floor by floor, and is reshipped to Chicago as needed in the erection of the building. The trusses and girders for the vault story are being fabricated at the Lassig plant of the American Bridge Co. in Chicago and will be delivered to the building by teams as they are required. The trusses are 65 in number and are well under way; 25 of these are now finished and ready for delivery; the balance being in an advanced stage of construction. The material shipped to date comprises all the cast stools, grillage beams, sub-basement columns, girders and beams, all first story material and a good portion of the second story and some third story.

The total weight of steel required for the building is about 22,012,929 lbs. or 11,000 tons; 5,801,228 lbs. or 2,900 tons of this amount have been received and unloaded at Kensington storage yards; 1,600 tons have been received at the building and 1,200 tons have been set in place. The main outside columns extending from basement to second floor level, average 40 feet in length and weigh on an average of 20 tons a piece.

The steel is being set as fast as received; all the grillage and cast bases being complete. The erection of columns and girders are well underway at both ends of the building. Six derricks capable of lifting 25 tons each are being used for unloading and setting the steel. Two of these are independent and the other four form two travelers,—one at each end of the building. These travelers are made to be moved backward on railway tracks, carrying derricks and engines with them. They will work from the ends toward the center, using the independent derricks for feeders until the whole floor is tied in up to and including second story steel. The derricks and travelers will then be raised to the second story and continue on this floor as they did below. The riveting and painting will start as soon as enough steel is set to keep a gang busy.

A report from the Woodbury Granite Co., Hardwick, Vt., subconstractor for granite, shows the condition of this material to be as follows:

Polished base practically cut and polished complete, including corner stone, and the cover stone above it.

Five large entrance platforms complete.

Four carved panels cut complete.

All entrances are already under the hammer and 80 per cent completed.

The axed course above the polished base is all under the hammer and practically complete.

Of the wide lintel course in the first floor, about 50 per cent of the long lintels are cut and in the Toris Mould above all of the special stones in the angles are finished and are now running lathes on the regular straight work of this course, a large part of it being already roughed out for the lathe.

In the next story probably better than 90 per cent of the moulded window jambs are cut complete and the arch stone in these same windows are nearly as far already. Here too the small plain stuff is left until it would be required for actual setting.

In the cornice above this story probably 20 to 25 per cent of the three courses are cut and considerably more of it under the hammer.

This brings us to the column bases. These are now being quarried rapidly, and there are a lot of them in the works and they are just now beginning to come through.

On the columns proper fully the equivalent of one column is cut complete, and fully the equivalent of more than one column actually under the hammer. Of the carved caps the equivalent of at least 2 caps are cut complete and practically carved complete, together with a large quantity of other work in the caps now being carved.

Taking everything into consideration the building has a good start and conditions point to rapid progress from now on.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) FRANCIS W. TAYLOR.

CHICAGO, May 10, 1909.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your select Committee on Track Elevation to whom was referred an order directing that the Committee on Track Elevation to take proper action to compel the Madison and Northern Railroad Company to build proper retaining walls on both sides of Mary street, south of the railroad right of way, having had the same under advisement, beg leave to report and recommend that the subject matter be referred to the Commissioner of Public Works, under whose supervision the provisions of track elevation ordinances are carried out.

(Signed) W. F. LIPPS,
Chairman.

Ald. Lipps moved to concur in the said report.

The motion prevailed.

ALSO,

The same committee submitted the following report, which was, on motion of Ald. Lipps, deferred and ordered published:

CHICAGO, May 24, 1909.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your select Committee on Track Elevation having had under advisement an ordinance requiring the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company to elevate its roadbed and tracks in Lake street and South Boulevard between North 52d avenue and Austin avenue, beg leave to recommend the same for passage:

AN ORDINANCE

Requiring the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company to elevate the plane of certain of its railroad tracks within the City of Chicago.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. That the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company is hereby ordered and required to elevate, at its sole expense, the plane of its roadbed and tracks within the limits of the City of Chicago in the manner and upon the conditions hereinafter specified, that is to say:

Paragraph 1. The Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company shall commence the elevation of its roadbed and tracks about six hundred (600) feet west of the east line of North Fifty-second avenue. From said initial point the proposed elevated roadbed and tracks of said company shall continue in a westerly direction for a distance of about forty-seven hundred fifty-three (4,753) feet to the center line of Austin avenue, employing in said proposed elevation such a grade line as will provide at least two and one-half (2.5) feet, at each subway hereinafter named, from the top of the "running rails" to "low iron" or "clearance." Provided that in case an ordinance shall not be passed by the Village Board of Oak Park directing and requiring said company to elevate its tracks west of Austin avenue, or in the event such ordinance is passed by the Village Board of Oak Park and is not accepted by said company, then said roadbed and tracks of the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company may descend on a suitable gradient from Franklin avenue to Austin avenue in such manner that the specifications of this ordinance pertaining to the subway at Franklin avenue shall be fully complied with and that no charge shall be made in the present grade of the Austin avenue roadway and sidewalks; Provided, further, however, that in case said company should not elevate its tracks in Oak Park within, or about the time that it is hereby required to elevate its tracks in the City of Chicago, but should thereafter elevate its tracks in Oak Park, then and in such case said company shall also elevate its tracks from Franklin avenue westward to the center line of Austin avenue as herein provided:

Paragraph 2. The Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company is hereby authorized, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Chicago, to make such changes in the position and alignment of its main tracks, side tracks, turn-outs and switch connections as may be rendered necessary by the performance of the work required to be performed by it under the terms of this ordinance; and said company is hereby authorized and required to construct elevated embankments and retaining walls the full width of the right-of-way occupied by it. Provided, however, said company may, if it so elects, construct an elevated steel structure for the support of its tracks between Willow avenue on the west and the "initial point," mentioned in Section 1, Paragraph 1, of this ordinance, on the east, in lieu of a solid embankment between said points.

SECTION 2. That the embankment on which said elevated roadbed shall be constructed within the aforesaid limits shall be composed of any material which is of a permanent character and sufficiently substantial to bear the loads to be imposed upon it.

The side slopes and lateral dimensions of said embankment will be fixed and determined by the natural angle of repose of the materials of which said embankment may be constructed, but whenever it may become necessary for the purpose of keeping said embankment entirely within the lines of the right-of-way occupied by said company, such portions of said embankments at all such points shall be kept within said right-of-way lines by, or they shall be confined between retaining walls of stone, concrete or brick masonry; provided, however, that whenever said retaining walls are of insufficient height to properly protect said right-of-way and to prevent trespassing thereon, then said retaining walls as aforesaid, shall be surmounted with a suitable fence or railing, but whenever said retaining walls are not used at all, said right-of-way of said company shall be fenced in or otherwise properly enclosed in compliance with the present ordinances of the City of Chicago relating to the fencing of railroad tracks or such other fence as shall be approved by the Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 3. That the said elevated tracks shall be carried across all intersecting streets and avenues which by the terms of this ordinance are to be provided with subways, on suitable bridges of one, two, three, or four spans, provided, however, at North Fifty-third avenue, Willow avenue and Pine avenue where the abutment walls are to be constructed back of the street lines, said elevated tracks shall be carried between the abutment walls of said North Fifty-third avenue, Willow avenue and Pine avenue on suitable bridges of one, two, three, four or six spans, all of which superstructures between North Fifty-second avenue and Austin avenue shall consist of iron, steel or reinforced concrete, or a combination of the same, with some suitable device provided which shall prevent storm water, dirt, oil and other substances from dropping from such elevated structures upon the subways beneath. The said bridges shall be supported upon abutments of concrete or stone masonry, or on abutments and rows of iron, steel or reinforced concrete columns braced together laterally and erected on and anchored to masonry foundations constructed within the lines of the right-of-way occupied by said company and in center and curb lines of the intersecting avenues and streets, as provided in the schedule of subways herein contained.

SECTION 4. Paragraph 1. That subways shall be constructed beneath the tracks of the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company where said tracks are intersected and crossed by Willow avenue, Pine avenue, Central avenue, Park avenue, Waller avenue, Prairie avenue, Franklin avenue and Austin avenue, and the subway at North Fifty-third avenue shall be revised and reconstructed.

Paragraph 2. The subways above mentioned in Paragraph 1, in Willow avenue, Pine avenue, Central avenue, Park avenue, Waller avenue, Prairie avenue, Franklin avenue and Austin avenue, shall be constructed and the subway in North Fifty-third avenue shall be revised and reconstructed by the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company, except in so far as the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company is required to construct the same under an ordinance passed by the City Council of the City of Chicago on January 29, A. D., 1906, and published on pages 2441 to 2457, both inclusive, of the official records of the Council Proceedings of the City of Chicago for the year 1905-1906, and amended March 30, A. D., 1908, which amendment is published on pages 4805 and 4806 of the official records of the Council Proceedings of the City of Chicago for the year 1907-1908, and further amended June 8, A. D., 1908, which amendment is published on pages 555 to 557, both inclusive, of the official records of the Council Proceedings of the City of Chicago for the year 1908-1909, and as further amended November 23, A. D., 1908, which amendment is published on pages 1878 and 1879 of the official records of the Council Proceedings of the City of Chicago for the year 1908-1909.

The said Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad Company shall construct all portions of said subways in Willow avenue, Pine avenue, Central avenue, Park avenue, Waller avenue, Prairie avenue, Franklin avenue and Austin avenue lying south of the south right-of-way line of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company and the south approaches to subways at Pine avenue, Waller avenue, Prairie avenue and Franklin avenue; and shall revise and reconstruct the subway in North Fifty-third avenue lying south of the south right-of-way line of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company and the south approach thereto.

SECTION 4a. That the several subways hereinbefore referred to in Section 4 of this ordinance shall be constructed below the elevation at which said tracks are to be placed and shall as to their size and dimensions, locations and other details be in accordance with the following schedule:

Subway in North Fifty-third Avenue Revised. (Street, 66 Feet Wide), Under the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad (and the Chicago and Northwestern Railway).

This level shall extend on the north to the south right-of-way line of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, on the south to the south curb line of West Lake street, on the east in West Lake street to a point twenty (20) feet east of the east curb line of subway and on the west in West Lake street to a point twenty (20) feet west of the west curb line of subway. From this level the approaches shall extend on a grade of not to exceed 3.5 feet in 100 feet to a connection with the present surface of North Fifty-third avenue and West Lake street.

Width of roadway and sidewalks in North Fifty-third avenue south of the newly established south curb line of West Lake street shall be the same as they now exist.

The depression of sidewalks shall be uniform with the roadway and about one foot above the level of the same. Two lines of posts may be placed in curb lines and inside thereof, and one line of posts in the center of the roadway to support girders.

Clear head-room, 12.0 feet.

The said resolution reads as follows:

WHEREAS, Heretofore and prior to February 4th, 1909, the Chicago Dock and Canal Company addressed a communication, dated January 5th, 1909, Number 70207, to the Secretary of War asking permission to construct piers into Lake Michigan immediately north of the mouth of the Chicago River. That afterwards and on said February 4th, 1909, a public meeting was had thereon before Major Thomas H, Rees, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army; and,

WHEREAS, The City of Chicago was present at said hearing by her duly authorized officers and publicly asked that action thereon be delayed until the Harbor Commission had made its report and the City had time to consider the same. That Major Rees then stated that he would recommend that the request of the City be complied with. And it further appears that on February 28th, Assistant Secretary of War issued a permit to said Chicago Dock and Canal Company, three days prior to the filing of said Harbor Commission report with said City; and,

WHEREAS, Also, Congress has heretofore established and erected with her means, at the port of Chicago, a harbor north of the mouth of the Chicago River, with break-waters, light-houses, piers and other structures for the accommodation of mariners and sailors as well for the safety of life and property. And has also provided therein an anchorage for vessels, boats and other crafts caught in the storm or in the high winds prevailing there, and blowing from the northeast. Which said harbor is known in said port as the anchorage of safety; and forms a part of the navigable waters of the United States, being within the waters of Lake Michigan. That at the date of building and constructing the said harbor of safety, the same was then deemed of but sufficient size and capacity to meet the then demands of commerce and navigation at that point; and,

WHEREAS, Also, It appears that since the construction of said harbor the shore owners on the west side thereof have encroached therein for a distance of about 1,480 feet, and it is now proposed to take an additional slice from said harbors of safety—nearly a half mile in length, or 2,500 feet, and nearly 700 feet in width, by the erection therein of piers, docks, etc., which will render said harbor of safety much smaller and greatly interfere with the movement and anchorage of boats and vessels therein. Such interference does materially affect the navigable capacity of the waters of said harbor of safety; and,

WHEREAS, Congress did by her public act, passed September 19th, 1890, 26 Stat. 454, by Section 10 thereof, provide as follows: "That the creation of any obstruction not affirmatively authorized by law to the navigable capacity of any waters in respect of which the United States has jurisdiction is hereby prohibited."

AND WHEREAS, Since the passage of Act—the Supreme Court of the United States has interpreted the same to hold that no interference on the part of the State or her subjects will be permitted to interfere with the navigability of her streams without first obtaining her assent thereto; and,

WHEREAS, It further appears from an examination of the records of this assembly that no application has been made to it by the Chicago Dock and Canal Company for permission to construct piers in the said harbor or refuge; and,

WHEREAS, It further appears that on the 28th day of February, 1909, ..., acting as Assistant Secretary of War, issued a permit to the said Chicago Dock and Canal Company without the approval of this body; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the United States, the Senate (thereof) concurring, that the permit so issued to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company by said acting Secretary of War on February 28th, 1909, be and the same is hereby declared null and void and the Secretary of War is hereby ordered and instructed to mark the same cancelled on the books and papers in his department, and he shall also treat the issuance of said permit precisely the same as if the same were never issued.

And the Secretary of War is further instructed not to issue any permit for piers or other structures in this harbor or anchorage of safety or in any other harbor in which the City of Chicago is interested in until further instructed by Congress.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. That the Commissioner of Public Works be and he is hereby authorized and directed to enter into a contract with Oil City Boiler Works, a Pennsylvania corporation, for the construction and installation of the boilers, breeching and setting in the City Hall building, to be erected on the west half of Block thirty-nine (39), in the original town of Chicago, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the form of agreement attached hereto, for a sum not to exceed twenty-nine thousand two hundred and eight ($29,208.00) dollars; provided, said Oil City Boiler Works shall execute said contract and furnish a bond for the faithful performance of the same in the penal sum of twenty-nine thousand two hundred and eight ($29,208.00) dollars, with sureties satisfactory to the Commissioner of Public Works, and conditioned as required by law within such time as may be required by said Commissioner of Public Works.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after its passage and approval.

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this ..... day of ....., A. D. 1909, between Oil City Boiler Works, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, party of the first part, and the City of Chicago, party of the second part, WITNESSETH:

1. That the said party of the first part for and in consideration of the payments to be to it made by the City of Chicago as hereinafter set forth, hereby covenants and agrees to furnish all labor and materials and do all the work of every sort and kind required in the construction and installation of the boilers, breeching and setting in the City Hall building, to be erected on the west half of Block thirty-nine (39) in the original Town of Chicago, as contemplated by "Alternate bid No. 2, Proposal No. 1," submitted by said party of the first part, and in conformity to and in accordance with the plans, drawings and specifications prepared by Messrs. Holabird & Roche, architects, and identified by the signatures of said party of the first part, of the Commissioner of Public Works, of the City of Chicago and of said architects, copies of which are hereto attached and made parts hereof, the originals being on file in the office of said Commissioner of Public Works.

2. It is expressly understood by the parties hereto that the contractor for the general work of constructing said building has agreed to commence said general work after the completion of the work of wrecking the old building, excavating, and sinking the caissons, and within five (5) days after the date when possession of the premises shall be delivered to it, said date to be fixed by notice in writing from the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Chicago, which shall be receipted for by said contractor in writing, and that said contractor has agreed to prosecute said general work diligently and continuously and to fully complete the same within eighteen (18) calendar months from the date of the delivery to it of possession of the premises as aforesaid.

The party of the first part hereby agrees to commence the installation of said boilers as soon as the construction of said building shall be sufficiently advanced, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Public Works, to enable said party of the first part to prosecute the work of installation continuously and without interruption, and within ten (10) days after receiving notice in writing to that effect from the Commissioner of Public Works, which notice shall be be receipted for in writing by the party of the first part. Said party of the first part agrees to prosecute the work diligently and continuously and to fully complete the installation of two (2) of said boilers ready for use within sixty (60) days after commencing the work of installing said boilers, and to complete the installation of the remaining boilers as contemplated by this contract within ninety (90) days after commencing the same, and to remove scaffolding, material, implements, debris or rubbish connected with or caused by said work immediately on completion and leave said work complete and perfect, free from expense to the party of the second part; and shall at all times give to the Commissioner of Public Works and to Holabird & Roche, architects, free access to said work.

3. It is expressly understood by the parties hereto that the general work of constructing said building, as well as certain other portions of the work not included in this contract for said general work, will be carried on in the building during the performance of this contract; and in order that said general work and said other certain portions of the work may be completed within the times set for the completion thereof, the party of the first part undertakes and agrees not to hinder or interfere with the contractors for said general and other work, but to give said contractors such facilities and opportunities for the performance of their contracts that all the contractors employed by the party of the second part in and about said building may co-operate in and about the performance of their respective contracts.

4. It is hereby further agreed that the party of the second part shall furnish to the party of the first part one set of copies of all plans, drawings, specifications and addenda thereto signed by said Commissioner of Public Works and by said architects, which shall be kept upon the premises above described and to which the Commissioner of Public Works and the architects shall have free access at all times. Should any dispute arise between the parties hereto respecting the true construction or interpretation to be given said plans, drawings, specifications or addenda, or the meaning thereof, the same shall be decided by the architects with the approval of the Commissioner of Public Works and such decision shall be final. Said plans, drawings and specifications are intended to be co-operative so that any work shown by the plans or drawings and not mentioned in the specifications, or vice versa, is to be executed if mentioned in the specifications and shown by the plans or drawings with the true intent and meaning of said plans, drawings and specifications.

5. It is further agreed that the said party of the second part may, through its Commissioner of Public Works at any time during the progress of said work, make any addition to or deduction or alteration, from said plans, drawings, specifications and addenda without invalidating any part of this agreement, but the fair value of the same shall be added to or deducted from the sums herein agreed to be paid by the said party of the second part, as the case may be: Provided, that no work of any description upon the premises shall be considered as extra work or a charge in excess of the amount herein agreed to be paid unless a proper estimate in writing of the same before its commencement shall have been submitted and signed by the said architects, approved by the said Commissioner of Public Works and authorized by the City Council of the City of Chicago; and, provided, further, that should any dispute arise respecting the fair value of the work added or omitted by the party of the first part, the same shall be determined by the arbitration of three persons, one to be chosen by the party of the first part, one by the party of the second part, through its Commissioner of Public Works, and the two so chosen to select a third, and the decision by a majority of the three so chosen shall be binding upon the parties hereto, and the expense of said arbitration, shall be borne equally between the parties hereto. Said party of the first part, however, expressly covenants and agrees that in no case shall any such dispute or arbitration interfere with the regular progress of the work, but that it will prosecute the entire work including that under dispute or arbitration without interruption or delay in accordance with the terms of this contract and the specifications, pending the settlement of any such dispute by arbitration or otherwise.

6. In cases of additions to or alterations in the work made as above provided which will require additional time for completion of the work included in this contract, or in case the party of the first part shall be obstructed or delayed in the prosecution or completion of the work by other contractors of the party of the second part, or by the act, neglect, delay or default of the party of the second part, or by any damage which may happen by fire, lightning, earthquake, cyclone or the abandonment of the work by its employees through no fault of said party of the first part, then the time herein fixed for the completion of the work may be extended for a period equivalent to the time lost by reason of any of the causes aforesaid; but no such extension shall be made unless a claim therefor is presented in writing to the Commissioner of Public Works within three days after the commencement of any such delay. The duration of such extension, if any, shall be such fair allowance as shall be determined and certified in writing by the architects, and approved by the Commissioner of Public Works. The said party of the first part hereby assumes all responsibility for any loss or damage that may happen to said work, or any part thereof, or the materials therefor, or for any injury to the workmen or the public or to individual or for damage to adjoining property or for any damage arising from its delaying in any manner the completion of the work of other contractors in said building or from any other cause whatsoever until said work is finished, delivered and accepted by said party of the second part. And it is further expressly understood and agreed that if the time of performance of the contract herein be for any reason, either expressly or by implication, extended, such extensions shall not affect the validity of this contract nor the liabilities of the sureties upon the bond given for the faithful performance of the same.

7. It is further understood and agreed that said party of the first part shall not sublet any portion of said work except with the consent and approval in writing of the Commissioner of Public Works and the architects, and in no case shall such consent relieve the party of the first part from its obligations herein assumed, or change the terms of this agreement. Should said party of the first part desire to sublet any portion of the work, a request shall be made in writing (in triplicate copies), giving the name and address of the proposed sub-contractor and defining the portion of the work he desires to sublet, and this shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Public Works and the Architects for approval. If the proposed sub-contractor is satisfactory, one copy of the written request of said party of the first part shall be approved in writing by the Commissioner of Public Works and the architects, and returned to said party of the first part.

8. It is further understood and agreed that on or about the first and fifteenth days of each month and before the party of the second part or its agents or architects shall pay or cause to be paid to the party of the first part or its order any money or other consideration due or to become due herein, said party of the first part shall furnish to the Commissioner of Public Works, if required by him, a written statement, verified by affidavit, giving the names and addresses of all persons, firms and corporations who have, up to the date thereof furnished labor or material in or about the performance of this contract, and the amounts due or to become due to said parties.

9. It is further understood and agreed that whenever the Commissioner of Public Works shall notify the party of the first part by notice personally served, or by leaving a copy thereof at the last known address of said party of the first part that no further estimates or vouchers will be issued or payments made on the contract until the sub-contractors, workmen or employees of said party of the first part have been paid, and said party of the first part shall neglect or refuse for the space of ten days after such notice shall have been served to pay such sub-contractors, workmen or employees, said party of the second part shall be authorized to apply any money due or that may become due under this contract to the payment of such sub-contractors, workmen or employees without other or further notice to said party of the first part, or, at its option may declare this entire agreement null and void and may take possession of said work and complete the same; and in such case said party of the first part hereby agrees to pay all loss or damage caused thereby. And it is expressly understood and agreed that the failure of the party of the second part to retain and apply any of such moneys or of the Commissioner of Public Works to order or direct that no vouchers or estimates shall issue or further payments be made, shall not, nor shall the paying over of any reserved percentage, without such sub-contractor, workman or employee being first paid, in any way affect the liability of the party of the first part or of its sureties to said party of the second part or to any such sub-contractor, workman or employee upon the bond given for the faithful performance of this contract.

10. The Clerk presented the following communication from the Commissioner of Track Elevation, which was referred to the Committee on Finance:

DEPARTMENT OF TRACK ELEVATION,
CHICAGO, June 1, 1909.

Honorable Fred A. Busse, Mayor, and City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—On October 5, 1908, I transmitted to your Honorable Body a petition asking for an appropriation of $6,000.00 to be expended in widening the subway in Ashland avenue at Forty-ninth street, under the roadbed and tracks of the Indiana Harbor Railroad Company and the Grand Trunk Western Railway Company. This petition was presented with the belief that the railroad companies would consent to bear the balance of the cost for doing this work. Further negotiations between the railroad companies and this department, however, disclosed the fact that the railroad companies would not assume any of the cost of making this improvement without some compensation. They therefore made a verbal proposition to the City to this effect, that if the City would vacate Aberdeen street, between Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth streets, the two railroad companies would assume the entire expense of widening the Ashland avenue subway to the full width of the street, namely, 80 feet. Aldermen Golombiewski and Mueller, representing the Twenty-ninth Ward, in which this subway is located, both objected to the proposition made by the railroad companies; they both feel that the Ashland avenue subway improvement should be made regardless of any other condition being imposed by the railroads.

On Wednesday, May 26, His Honor, the Mayor, accompanied by the representatives of the Twenty-ninth Ward and the representatives of this department met with Mr. Hotchkiss of the Indiana Harbor Railroad Company and the Grand Trunk Western Railway Company and looked the situation over. No answer as to the City's position was given to Mr. Hotchkiss, representing the railroads, but upon careful consideration of the matter by His Honor, the Mayor, and the representatives of the City, it has been decided that the position of the City would be much stronger in dealing with the railroads if the City would assume the entire expense required in widening the Ashland avenue subway to the full width of the street. I would, therefore, petition your Honorable Body to appropriate such sums of money as will be necessary to pay the actual cost of doing this work.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the City did appropriate in the annual budget of 1909 the sum of $6,000.00 asked for in the original petition, but inasmuch as the figures for the cost of doing this work differ, I suggest that the appropriation, if made, should call for such a sum of money as the actual cost would represent.

To make myself clear: The estimates of of the Grand Trunk Western Railway officials show a total cost of about $13,000.00; the estimates of the Indiana Harbor Railroad Company fix the price at between $7,000.00 and $8,000.00 It is fair to assume, therefore, that the total cost of doing this work would not exceed the figures named by the Grand Trunk Western Railway officials.

I would, therefore, recommend that the verbal proposition made by the railroad companies in reference to the vacation of Aberdeen street be not considered at this time, and that the City appropriate the full sum of money necessary to correct the conditions in the Ashland avenue subway.

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) WALTER J. RAYMER,
Commissioner of Track Elevation.

CORPORATION COUNSEL.

The Clerk presented the following opinion submitted by the Corporation Counsel, which was ordered published and placed on file:

OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION COUNSEL,
CHICAGO, June 1, 1909.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—At your meeting held May 24, 1909, Council Proceedings, page 429, you passed a resolution requiring the Corporation Counsel to give an opinion to the City Council at its next meeting as to the legal rights of the Chicago Lighterage Company to occupy portions of Blackhawk, Blanche, Canal, Rees, Haynes, Sangamon, Hawthorne streets, Wabansia and Oakley avenues, and as to whether or not said company is legally licensed to do business in this State.

We find that on the 24th day of July, 1908, the Chicago Lighterage Company, then a corporation organized under the laws of this State, entered into an agreement with the City by the terms of which it leased certain portions of the streets and avenues named for a term beginning August 1, 1908, and ending July 31, 1910, stipulating that the company would pay as rent $982.96. The lease is subject to revocation by either party at any time by giving sixty days' notice.

We are of the opinion that this lease is in proper form and is one that the City had full power and authority to make.

On the 21st of April, 1909, the Chicago Lighterage Company, a corporation organized under the laws of Arizona, obtained from the Secretary of State of Illinois a license to carry on business in this State, and we are advised that this Arizona corporation has succeeded to all the rights of the Illinois corporation. We are of the opinion that the Arizona corporation is legally licensed to do business in this State.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) WM. D. BARGE,
Assistant Corporation Counsel.

Approved:

EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE,
Corporation Counsel.

At a line extending across Vincennes road at right angles with the westerly line thereof drawn from a point on said westerly line 50 feet north of the northwest corner of West 82d place and Vincennes road, 13.00 feet above datum.

The above heights as fixed shall be measured from the plane of low water in Lake Michigan of A. D. 1847, as established by the Trustees of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, and adopted by the later Board of Drainage Commissioners and by the late Board of Public Works of the City of Chicago, and now represented by the ordinance of July 11th, A. D. 1898, relating to the corrected elevation of the Old Lind Block bench mark, which determines the base or datum for City levels.

The said roadway of said Vincennes road between said points, and also the roadways of all interseting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Vincennes road between said points (except the east one-half (½) of Vincennes road from the center line of West 77th street to the center line of West 78th street, and except the intersection of West 79th street with Vincennes road, and also except street railway rights of way thereon between said points, which rights of way are by the ordinances granting them required to be paved and kept in repair by the companies owning, operating and controlling the same), shall be so graded that after being thoroughly puddled, and rolled with a roller of ten (10) tons weight until the roadbeds are thoroughly compacted, and after the pavement hereinafter described shall have been placed thereon, the surface of the pavement at the center of the finished roadway of said Vincennes Road, and the center of the finished roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Vincennes Road, except where the roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way, shall coincide with the established grade of said Vincennes Road, hereinbefore described, and where said roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way the entire width of all such rights of way shall coincide with the established grade hereinbefore described, and the surface of the finished roadways at the summits in the gutters between catch-basins and adjoining the roadway face of the curb shall be four (4) inches below said established grade, and the surface of the finished roadways at the catch-basin inlets in the gutters adjoining the roadway face of the curb shall be twelve (12) inches below said established grade.

The slope of the gutters adjoining the roadway face of said curb shall be uniform from the summits to the catch-basins, and a transverse section of said finished roadway and said gutter flags, where the same is not occupied by street railway rights of way, shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the grade of the center of said finished roadway, and a transverse section of said finished roadway and said gutter flags where the same is occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter grades and the established grade of the street at each side of said street railway rights of way, at every part of said Vincennes Road, and at every part of all intersecting streets, between said points.

The surface of the finished pavement in all interesecting alleys hereinbefore specified shall be four (4) inches below the top of the curb on each side of said alley intersections, at the street lines produced, of said Vincennes Road, and shall slope thence at a uniform grade to its intersection with the gutters hereinbefore described.

Upon the roadbeds thus prepared between said points and between said gutter flags shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six (6) inches in thickness. Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two (92) per cent will pass through a standard number one hundred (100) sieve having ten thousand (10,000) meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one (1) part said Portland cement and three (3) parts torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, exposed to the air for one (1) day, and immersed in water for six (6) days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of two hundred (200) pounds per square inch.

One (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements, and three (3) parts torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, shall be thoroughly mixed dry and then made into a mortar with the least possible amount of water.

Six (6) parts of the best quality of slag, limestone, or other stone which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half (½) inch internal diameter, all of which slag or stone shall be thoroughly cleaned, free from all foreign substances and drenched with water, shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar. Each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbeds and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface, and upon this foundation shall be evenly spread a layer of sand in such quantity as to insure when compacted a depth of two (2) inches, upon which shall be laid the brick pavement.

The brick to be used shall be of the best quality of vitrified paving brick. The dimensions of said brick shall be the same throughout the entire work, and shall be four (4) inches in depth, not less than eight (8) inches in length and three and one-fourth (3¼) inches in thickness, with edges rounded to a radius of one-fourth (¼) of an inch.

Said brick shall be of a kind known as repressed, vitrified paving brick, and shall be repressed to the extent that the maximum amount of material is forced into them. They shall be free from lime and other impurities, shall be as nearly uniform in every respect as possible, shall be burned so as to secure the maximum hardness, so annealed as to reach the ultimate degree of toughness and vitrified so as to make a homogeneous mass.

The brick shall be free from laminations and fire cracks, or checks of more than superficial character or extent.

Twenty (20) or more of said brick shall be furnished to the Board of Local Improvements for submission to the "abrasion" test. Said test shall be made in the machine known as the "Rattler," which shall measure twenty (20) inches in length and twenty-eight (28) inches in diameter, inside measurements. The charge shall be composed of said brick and iron abrasive material. The brick charge shall consist of that number of whole brick whose combined volume most nearly amounts to eight (8) per cent of the volume of the rattling chamber, and the abrasive charge shall consist of three hundred (300) pounds of shot made of ordinary machinery cast-iron. Said shot shall consist of cubical pieces having sides of one and one-half (1½) inches, aggregating two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds in weight, and pieces two and one-half (2½) inches square and four and one-half (4½) inches in length, aggregating seventy-five (75) pounds in weight. The rattler after being thus charged shall be revolved eighteen hundred (1,800) times, and the speed of rotation shall not fall below twenty-eight (28), nor exceed thirty (30) per minute. The loss of weight by abrasion during such test shall not exceed eighteen (18) per cent of the original weight of the brick tested. All brick used must be equal in every respect to the brick submitted for test.

The brick shall be laid as follows, to wit: Broken brick can only be used to break joints in starting courses and in making closures, but in no case shall less than one-fourth (¼) of a brick be used. The brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the ends close together, across said roadbeds, parallel to vertical planes which shall be at right angles to the curb lines of said roadways. On roadway intersections the brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the ends close together, and parallel to vertical planes which shall be at an angle of forty-five (45) degrees with the center line of the streets. The spaces between the sides of the brick shall be not less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch nor more than one-fourth (¼) of an inch in width. The joints shall be broken by a lap of not less than three (3) inches. The brick when set shall be rolled with a roller of five (5) tons weight until the brick is well settled and made firm. When the brick is thoroughly bedded, the surface of the pavement must be true to the form of roadway hereinbefore described.

The joints or spaces between the brick shall be filled with a paving pitch which is the direct result of the distillation of "straight run" coal tar. Said pitch shall be applied on the work at a temperature of two hundred and eighty (280) degrees Fahrenheit. Immediately after applying the paving pitch, and while it is still hot, the entire surface of the pavement shall then receive a one-half (½) inch dressing of clean, coarse sand.

Forty new catch-basins shall be constructed and connected and trapped with the sewer in Vincennes Road and located in the roadway of said Vincennes Road at necessary points adjacent to the curb lines. Each of said catch-basins shall be seven feet two inches deep, measuring from the top of the brickwork, and shall have an internal diameter of four feet at the bottom and to a plane five feet above and parallel therewith. The walls of said catch-basins shall be eight inches thick and shall be built of two courses of sewer brick laid edgewise in perpendicular courses, upon a floor of pine plank two inches in thickness. The top of each of said catch-basins shall decrease to two feet internal diameter, being drawn in by means of nine header courses, the diameter being decreased uniformly for each course.

Each of said catch-basins shall be connected with the sewer with tile pipe of nine inches internal diameter and shall be trapped with a half trap also of tile pipe of nine inches internal diameter, The connection with the sewer where said sewer is of brick shall be made in such a manner that the top of the nine-inch pipe shall be at the elevation of the center of said sewer, and the connection with the sewer where said sewer is of tile pipe shall be made by means of a fifteen inches by nine inches "Y" branch where said sewer is of fifteen inches internal diameter, and by means of a twelve inches by nine inches "Y" branch where said sewer is of twelve inches internal diameter. The said trap of each of said catch-basins shall be set so that the elevation of the bottom of the inside of the same shall be three feet six inches above the floor of the catch-basin.

Each of said catch-basins shall be provided with a cast-iron cover, with a projecting lip to receive the water from the gutters, each of which covers shall weigh four hundred and seventy pounds and shall be of the same size and pattern as those used in similar new work by the City of Chicago during the year 1902. Each of said cast-iron covers shall be set so that the top of the same shall coincide with the finished surface of the pavement hereinbefore described.

The tile pipe specified above shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned, well glazed, and free from lumps and other imperfections, and the standard of thickness shall be as follows: for nine inch pipe seven-eighths of an inch in thickness; for twelve inch pipe one inch in thickness; for fifteen inch pipe one and one-eighth inches in thickness.

All brick and the joints of the tile pipe above referred to shall be laid with the best quality of natural hydraulic cement mortar, composed of one part natural hydraulic cement and two parts clean, sharp sand.

The several manholes and catch-basins located along the line of said improvement shall be raised or lowered as may be necessary to make them conform to the finished roadway of said Vincennes Road as above specified.

Said work to be done in a workmanlike manner under the superintendence of the Board of Local Improvements of the said City of Chicago.

SECTION 2. That the recommendation of the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Chicago, providing for said improvement, together with the estimate of the cost thereof made by the Engineer of said Board, both hereto attached, be and the same are hereby approved.

SECTION 3. That said improvement shall be made and the whole cost thereof be paid for by special assessment in accordance with an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, entitled, "An Act Concerning Local Improvements," approved June 14th, A. D. 1897, and the amendments thereto.

SECTION 4. That the aggregate amount herein ordered to be assessed against the property, and also the assessment on each lot and parcel of land therein assessed shall be divided into five installments in the manner provided by the statute in such cases made and provided, and such of said installments shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum according to law until paid.

SECTION 5. And for the purpose of anticipating the collection of the second and succeeding installments of said assessment for said improvement, bonds shall be issued payable out of said installments bearing interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable annually, and signed by the Mayor and by the President of the Board of Local Improvements, countersigned by the City Comptroller and attested by the City Clerk under the corporate seal of the City of Chicago. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with and shall in all respects conform to the provisions of the Act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, entitled, "An Act Concerning Local Improvements," approved June 14th, A. D. 1897, and the amendments thereto.

SECTION 6. That the Attorney of said Board be and he is hereby directed to file a petition in the County Court of Cook County, Illinois, in the name of the City of Chicago, praying that steps may be taken to levy a special assessment for said improvement in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and in the manner prescribed by law.

The said communications read as follows:

CHICAGO, June 8, 1909.

Hon. Fred A. Busse, Mayor, City of Chicago:

DEAR SIR—In accordance with your directions, I went to Washington and took up with the War Department, last Friday, the question of issuing permits for the construction of piers, docks, breakwaters, etc., on the lake front, in the Chicago harbor; more especially, the matter of permits issued to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company, and Edward P. Farley.

Hon. Jacob M. Dickinson, Secretary of War, informed me that the permit for the Chicago Dock and Canal Company had been revoked and a rehearing would be granted by the United States Engineer in Chicago at such time as the city may elect.

The permit to Edward P. Farley was permission to construct and maintain a breakwater connecting with the southerly breakwater off of Grant Park, for the purpose of providing a protected anchorage for pleasure yachts and small commercial vessels. The Secretary of War informs me that this permit is revocable and will be revoked if the City authorities so desire.

The Secretary has issued an order to the Engineering Department that no permits of any character affecting the waterfront shall hereafter be issued without due and ample notice to the Mayor of Chicago.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) EDWARD J. BRUNDAGE,
Corporation Counsel.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, May 29, 1909.

SIR—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 28th instant, with its inclosure, a certified copy of a resolution passed by the City Council of Chicago, requesting the revocation of the permit granted by the War Department to the Chicago Dock and Canal Company for the extension of their piers into Lake Michigan, on the ground that the same interferes with the project of the City of Chicago for comprehensive harbor development at the same location; and in reply, beg to say that I have today signed an order revoking the permit referred to, pending a full hearing respecting the effect of the same upon the plans of the proposed harbor improvement by the City of Chicago. A copy of this order of revocation will be served on the Chicago Dock and Canal Company by the local United States Engineer Officer stationed in that city.

I have also directed the Chief of Engineers to re-open the case and to hold another public hearing in the near future, and that notification of such hearing be sent by the local Engineer Officer, before whom it will take place, to all parties in interest, and to submit a report of such hearing, with the conclusions and recommendations for final determination by the Department. On the receipt of such I will take pleasure in further communicating with you.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) J. M. DICKINSON,
Secretary of War.

That each of said bonds shall pass by delivery unless registered, but each bond may be registered as to principal in the name of the owner on the registry books of said City of Chicago, such registration being noted on the bond by the City Comptroller of said city after which only such registered owner or legal representative of such owner shall be entitled to receive the principal thereof, and no transfer shall be valid unless made on said registry books by the registered owner in person or by the duly authorized attorney of such owner and similarly noted on the bond. Such bond may be discharged from registry by being transferred to bearer, after which it shall be transferable by delivery; but it may be registered again as above. Such registration however, shall not restrain the negotiability of the interest coupons by delivery merely.

SECTION 3. That each of said bonds and each of the interest coupons to be thereto attached shall be in substantially the following forms, respectively, to wit:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

The registration of this bond, however, shall not restrain the negotiability of the interest coupons by delivery merely.

And it is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required by the constitution and laws of the State of Illinois to be done precedent to and in the issue of this bond have been properly done, happened and been performed in regular and due form and time as required by law; that the total indebtedness of said city, including this bond, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation, and that provision has been made for the collection of a direct annual tax, in addition to all other taxes, on all of the taxable property in said city sufficient to pay the interest hereon as the same falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal hereof at maturity.

The following opinion of the Corporation Counsel was submitted with the foregoing report:

March 18, 1909.

Charles A. V. Standish, Esq., Secretary, Board of Local Improvements:

DEAR SIR—Your letter dated March 17th inquiring whether under the city ordinances a bond is required from the Superintendent of Special Assessments has been referred to me.

There is no ordinance in the Revised Code of 1905 calling for such a bond nor has any such ordinance been passed by the City Council since the compilation of that code. I would also say that the ordinance of June 28, 1908, published at page 522 of the Council Proceedings, and providing for a bond to be given by each member of the Board of Local Improvements, has no application to the office in question. An act of the legislature in force May 25, 1908, amending Section 6 of the Local Improvement Act provides that the Board of Local Improvements shall consist of five members and that the superintendent of Special Assessments shall be ex officio secretary of that board, but nowhere it is provided that he shall become a member of the board itself. The statute, therefore, limits the number of members on the board to five, so that the City Council could not increase this number if it would.

I notice that the appropriation ordinance recently passed includes (page 3125) an item for "One Superintendent, Special Assessments and member and Secretary Board of Local Improvements," but the word "member" was mere surplusage and must be disregarded, since the Council could not create an additional member of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) WILLIAM K. OTIS,
Assistant Corporation Counsel.

And His Honor pointed out the necessity of such harbors at the mouths of these rivers in Lake Michigan, accompanying said message with a map showing the proposed harbors, a copy of which is herewith presented (this shows the proposed Calumet Harbor. Notice it is in the center of the circle made in red pencil); and,

WHEREAS, A Harbor Commission was appointed by this Council to take up the recommendation of the Mayor and has made a report to this Council which is being considered by one of its committees; and said Harbor Commission did recommend that the City of Chicago should own piers, docks and other incidentals connected therewith and should own and control the entrance as well the harbors to the Calumet and Chicago Rivers; and under caption, "Calumet River and Harbor" (Sec. 6, page 47) say,

"The Harbor of South Chicago should be improved as rapidly as possible.

"A sound policy of preserving and extending our water terminals and commerce requires the improvement both of the Chicago and Calumet Rivers and Harbors.

"Public docks should be provided, or at least frontage reservations should be made now, so that public docks can be constructed if required in the future"; and,

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Illinois has passed Senate Bill No. 284, providing for the sale of 234 acres of submerged lands to the Illinois Steel Company by the State of Illinois; which said lands parallel the north pier of the Calumet River, being the lands shown on the Mayor's annexed map and intended to be used for the harbor of the Calumet;

And said Legislature, by Senate Bill No. 396, has provided for the sale of 85 acres of submerged lands to the Iroquois Iron Company; and has further provided for the sale of 16 acres of submerged lands by Senate Bill No. 523, to the American Refining and Smelting Company, which latter two bills include the submerged lands lying on the south side

WHEREAS, Serious objections have been raised to the legality of the State of Illinois parting with these submerged lands to private corporations, engaged in business other than commerce and navigation; and,

And in case of their failure to obtain a veto of said bill then said committee is hereby authorized to take such action, as speedily as possible, as they may deem best to prevent the delivery of the deeds called for in said Senate Bills, and for this purpose said committee is hereby authorized to do and perform all needful things necessary in the premises to preserve and secure the City her rights in said Calumet River and in the waters of Lake Michigan adjacent thereto.
